Involving Some of Them
Raises a Great Storm.

IT REEKED WITH ROTTENNESS.

So Said Mr. Burleson—Alden Smith
Denounced Report as an Insult
To P. O. Dept.

Washington, March 11.—The storm of indignation which swept over the house of representatives as a result of the report of the postoffice department, involving certain members of congress, and which yesterday was temporarily stemmed by adjournment on account of the death of Mr. Croft, broke out afresh today.

Mr. Gillett (Mass.) presented a privileged report. Mr. Hay (Va.) promptly objected to its consideration.

The speaker, in ruling on the point, said the Hay resolution was a matter of the highest privilege, and he recognized Mr. Overstreet (Ind.), who demanded unanimous consent for an order giving members ten days' leave to extend their remarks.

Mr. Cooper (Wis.) entered an emphatic "I object."

Mr. Overstreet then submitted two resolutions, the first that the discussion should continue until Monday at 4 o'clock, and the second, until 4 o'clock tomorrow. To both Mr. Hay objected. He then requested his motion for leave to be printed, which was granted by Mr. Williams (Miss.) who said he had no objection to the subject being taken up in the open house.

Mr. Overstreet then moved for the subject to be taken up in the open house, and he was granted. He was greeted with applause.

DEFENDED THE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Cooper (Mo.) was recognized and defended the committee. He said the committee was not the committee of the postoffice department, but the committee of the house of representatives.

Mr. Smith (Ia.) said there was nothing in the report he did not know. What he had done, he said, was within the limitation of the law. This, he said, was a great wrong to members on both sides of the house.

Mr. Cummins of Indiana put himself on record in favor of a committee of members of both sides of the house to investigate the "indictments" made against members.

"They have no other agents here," he said, "to represent them but ourselves."

Mr. Cummins of Indiana put himself on record in favor of a committee of members of both sides of the house to investigate the "indictments" made against members.

"The publication of this document," said Mr. Harrison of Texas, "has done a great wrong to members on both sides of the house. It was prepared for a purpose," he warmly said. The man who is responsible for it, the postmaster-general, he said, was approached by the press for an explanation.

"The postoffice department," Mr. Burleson said, "reeked with rottenness and was steeped with corruption."

His opinion he vigorously asserted, after the postmaster-general demanded further investigation.

"It would not down," he said, "though the gentleman at the other end of the avenue referred to the president had complimented him upon the purification that had taken place."

This demand for an investigation, he declared, finally found expression in the resolution of Mr. Smith.

"That is what struck terror to the gentleman who presides over the postoffice department," he added, "and who is responsible for the document."

The purpose of the postmaster-general, he said, was to involve honorable men of both parties "in this scandalous transaction," and thereby intimidate them from moving further in what the American people are demanding. "Are you going to be intimidated? Every honest man named in the report owed it to himself to demand an investigation."

P. M. GENERAL CRITICIZED.

Mr. Clayton (Ala.) was unsparing in his criticism of the postmaster-general to whom he referred to as "that distinguished individual who happens to be postmaster-general of the United States."

Mr. Clayton spoke of the Tulloch charges and the light way in which the postmaster-general treated them. When members of the press called on him about it, Mr. Clayton said, the postmaster-general laughed. When further pressed for information, he said, the postmaster-general charged the Tulloch charges as "hot air."

Mr. Clayton closed with a bitter personal attack on the postmaster-general, and referred to him as "Mr. Hot Air Man" and "horse laughter man," who had been publicly convicted, but continued in office by the president for the distinguished service he rendered the country in securing the conviction of Machen and his confederates.

He wanted, he said, "to rip open the whole stomach of the postoffice department and show the vitals of corruption." He was greeted with loud applause as he took his seat.

Mr. Calderhead (Kan.) said the president and the postmaster-general had charged him with making a corrupt contract with Beavers. "They shall not do it," he said, "without my protest, here or anywhere." He could not, he said, approve of a report which misrepresents the character of a man with those of criminals.

Mr. Burket (Neb.) denounced the suggestion that he had unlawfully obtained increases for postoffices. He said, "if anybody had bundled up a mass of stuff in a haphazard way, and the committee 'has sprung it as a bomb with a fuse to it.'"

Mr. Burket said, "I hope," he said, "that the committee will not object to my protesting against the report, among them the speaker of the house."

He said, his words being almost drowned by the cheering and hand clapping with which his remarks were received on both sides of the house, and in the galleries.

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Mr. Critchlow's direct examination ended shortly after 3:30; he was cross-examined by Mr. Van Cott.

Mr. Critchlow proved by no means a bad witness for Senator Smoot. He admitted that in 1894 he voted for all "Mormons" who were on the Republican ticket, including President Smith, although he knew him to be a polygamist at the time. He admitted that he did all in his power for the Republican ticket with all "Mormons" thereon. But he voted for no Democrat, whether "Mormon" or Gentile. He also testified that it has been the disposition of non-"Mormons" generally to permit polygamous relations to continue without interference since the manifesto, when they believe that plural marriages are no longer contracted.

MR. CRITCHLOW'S EVIDENCE.

At the afternoon session Mr. Critchlow proceeded with his statement.

Senator Beveridge questioned the witness in regard to the general reputation of Senator Smoot, particularly as to whether he is a polygamist.

Mr. Critchlow said he had never heard it charged that Mr. Smoot has more than one wife. The witness was asked concerning the protest against Mr. Smoot and he gave the list, accompanied by a statement as to their basis.

WHEN YOU THINK OF A BLOOD PURIFIER
THINK OF SSSThe Most Popular and Widely-Known Blood Purifier
GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE

This is the season that tests the quality of your blood, and if it is not good, then evidences of it will begin to show as the weather grows warmer. Carbuncles and boils, pimples and blotches, and numerous itching and burning skin eruptions will make their appearance, and are sure indications of bad blood. If spring-time finds you with impure, sickly blood, then you are in poor condition to withstand the strain upon the system which always comes at this time of the year. A failure to look after your physical welfare now, by purifying the blood and toning up the general system, may result in a complete breaking down of health later on, and you will find yourself weak and run down, with no appetite, and a prey to indigestion and nervousness. It is poor blood that makes weak bodies, for it is this vital fluid that must supply vigor and strength to our systems, and upon its purity rests our chances for health. Any impurity, humor or poison in the blood acts injuriously upon the system and affects the general health. It is to the morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood that chronic sores and ulcers are due. The pustular and scaly skin eruptions so common during spring and summer, show the blood to be in a riotous, feverish condition, as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor or acrid poison in the blood. A large per cent. of human ailments have their origin in a polluted, diseased blood, and can only be reached by a remedy that goes into the circulation and uproots and expels the poison and restores the blood to a healthy, natural condition. you have any symptoms of bad blood, and are thinking of a blood purifier, then think of S. S. S., a remedy with a long-established reputation and that has proven itself to be a specific in diseases of the blood, and a superior tonic and system-builder. S. S. S. contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other mineral, but is composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, selected for their medicinal properties and gathered from nature's store-houses—the fields and forests. The thousands who have used S. S. S. and know from experience what it will do in blood troubles, do not need to be reminded of a blood purifier now, for they know no better can be found than S. S. S. If you are thinking of a blood purifier, think of S. S. S., which has been sold for nearly fifty years, while the demand is greater now than ever in its history. On two occasions I have used your S. S. S. in the spring with fine results. I can heartily recommend it as a tonic and blood purifier. I was troubled with headaches, indigestion and liver trouble, which all disappeared under the use of a few bottles of your great blood remedy, S. S. S. My appetite, which was poor, was greatly helped. I can eat anything I want now without fear of indigestion, and my blood has been thoroughly cleansed of impurities and made rich and strong again. As a tonic and blood purifier it is all you claim for it.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS.

Question of Arranging for Them
Bothers the Japanese.

New York, March 12.—Questions of arrangements for the large number of foreign correspondents here who are desirous of accompanying the Japanese field forces have been bothering the war office a great deal, says a Herald dispatch from Tokio. The Japanese wish to afford the correspondents every reasonable facility possible to make them comfortable while campaigning, but recognize the difficulty, owing to the difference of conditions of living to which foreigners are accustomed.

The best the army could offer was the regular Japanese ration, with transportation of 70 pounds of baggage. After a prolonged discussion it was finally arranged for the correspondents to be assigned a contractor to run a field kitchen and undertake field transportation. The war office has approved this scheme and expects the correspondents to rely on the contractor, but will supply rations in an emergency. The contractor also supplies the foreign military attaches. He is bonded to fulfill his agreement.

The war office has finally determined to send only 15 with the first column, eight British, five American, one Frenchman, one German, this being a representation proportionate to the respective numbers of correspondents to the respective nations. Subsequent lots will accompany the different columns. It is impossible to obtain definite information as to when the start will be made, but the 15 already selected have been told to be ready to leave at a moment's notice.

BORRELLI'S COMET.

Lick Observatory Gets a Series
Of Photographs of It.

University of California, March 12.—Borrelli's comet, which was discovered at Marseilles on June 21, 1903, has been the object of special observations at the Lick observatory by Sebastian Albrecht. Between June 25 and Aug. 15, 1903, a total of 36 photographs were secured with the Crocker telescope and with the Pearson and Floyd cameras. Throughout the entire series of photographs two distinct types of tails persist. The principal tail is long and straight in its general direction and can be traced to the edge of the plate, a distance of 10 degrees. It was always directed almost exactly away from the sun. After leaving the head it widens out, and in most of the plates, divides into two distinct branches. The other tail is short and very much curved, and presents practically the same appearance on all the negatives.

Commander Colahan Dead.

New York, March 12.—Commander Charles E. Colahan, U. S. N., until recently commandant of cadets at the naval academy, Annapolis, is dead at Lambertville, N. J., from heart disease. He was 54 years old and entered the academy from Pennsylvania in 1865.

To Prevent Telegraphers' Strike.

New York, March 12.—An attempt is being made by the civic federation to avert the threatened outbreak of the telegraphers all over the country if they do not sign the employers' arbitration agreement. After a conference of the men representing the federation, the union and the employers, a plan of arbitration from the point of view of the employers has been prepared which will be submitted to the employers at once as counter proposition to the employers' plan.

SOLDIERS IN SEUL.

They Are Marching Up and Down
The Streets All Day.

Seoul, Saturday, March 12.—Detachments of Korean soldiers marching up and down the main streets in the neighborhood of the palace at all hours of the day and evening give an air of martial activity to the city. But few Japanese soldiers remain here. All have gone north and the foreign legations continue to be guarded by marines. The American legation has 35 men on duty in the grounds and others are quartered at American business houses for the sake of better accommodations. Foreigners, however, feel perfectly safe, although there is more real business activity at Chumipo.

The Japanese authorities treat foreigners very courteously and have just given American Minister Allen permission to go to the front with a passport on a transhipment, where he is expected to arrive today.

War preparations continue here methodically, while about thirty thousand Koreans pursue their normal, every day life free from excitement. The funeral of the late emperor dowager will take place on Monday next.

PERMANENCE OF CURE.

The Chief Merit.

Many so called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not know more than this. Women especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation. This is a grievous view with dread, because of the shock to the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted, have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady whose address is given below:

Pyramid Pile Cure, with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone doubting this can write to Margaret Brady, 156 Whitman St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Ten months later she writes "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. I am well known in Cleveland and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here. I take pleasure in doing so as it saved me from an operation, which I always dreaded, and you are assured the remedy can have no firmer advocate than I."

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical, that Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures, it is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and efficiently.

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitutes.

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the cause and cure of Piles, which is sent free for the asking.
