

IN THE WORLD OF WOMEN

NOTABLE UTAH WOMEN.

The literary whirl of events of the last week has more than compensated for the dearth of the two weeks previous to the holidays. Monday night witnessed scores of watch-parties in private homes, and with the ball given by the Utah army of the Philippines, the social at the Ladies' Literary club house and the innumerable other public functions including the ward affairs, combined to make the eve of the new century one long to be remembered. New Year's day was made memorable in local annals by the meeting in the Tabernacle, thousands, comprising members of all sects, gathering to hear President Snow's greeting and the notable musical program rendered on the occasion.

Several weddings, and other home affairs, have made the remainder of the week lively enough to contribute to the general notable record, so that New Year's week will probably stand out prominently in the social annals of the year. Next week opens with the inaugural ball and there are several other events of a private nature promised, which will aid in keeping up for the next week at least, the brilliant social record.

Of the many parties given on New Year's eve, the most prominent and elaborate was the second annual ball of the Utah society, Army of the Philippines, which was held at Christensen's dancing academy. No dancing party of this season has been so well attended. There were over 200 couples present to participate in the dancing, which commenced at 8 o'clock and continued until two hours of the twentieth century had passed.

The First Regimental Band and Christensen's orchestra furnished the music alternately during the entire evening. At 10:30 the grand march was called, being led by the guests of honor, Governor Wells and Mrs. J. B. Eddy, the governor's staff, the officers of the Twenty-third infantry, and the officers of the National Guard. For this number, the combined orchestra, numbering thirty pieces, played "Hands Across the Sea," composed by Sousa. The list of dances was named after the different regiments that served with the Utah batteries in the Philippines.

Following the pretty scene of dances in brilliant costumes, the hall itself presented a handsome appearance with its elegantly designed and beautiful decorations. The national colors predominated throughout. The south wall, above and behind the band platform, was completely hidden by one immense American flag. Festoons of red, white and blue hunting arched the stand, while a gilt American eagle holding streamers of the national colors was perched in the center. The north end of the hall was also draped with flags with the letters "U. S. A. P." in Christ, mas green. Both sides of the hall were decorated with flags and the red, white and yellow colors of the cavalry, artillery and infantry. From the chandeliers, innumerable small flags waved with strings of Christmas green spreading in all directions, making a pretty canopy effect. The small reception room was similarly decorated. A pleasing decorative feature was the up-falling at midnight of a large white flag on which were the words "A Happy New Year." A hearty round of applause by those present greeted this festive hour.

The committees in charge of this brilliant affair were:

Arrangements—Hilrich Klenke, chairman; Arthur Borkman, Joseph J. Myers, Louis B. Eddy, Joseph F. Gibson.

Flour—Lieutenant George W. Gibson, floor manager; Charles G. Forslund, assistant floor manager; Paul Wilkinson, Fred Crager, Wilbur Rowland, Lehi Thomas, James W. Connell, Daniel Grandville.

Reception—Thomas Slater, chairman; Ray Burton, Theodore Cleghorn, Thomas Holburg, Edwin Roberts, William Nelson Jr., James W. Campbell, William H. Farnes, William H. Houston, Emil Johnson, William Kneas.

The most elaborate of the many home watch parties held for the greeting of the new century was that given at their residence on Second street, besides being in the most elaborate manner, the presence and display of some of the most musical and eloquent talent in the city. The decorations were among the most artistic of any social entertainment given in Salt Lake, the rooms being ablaze with the national flags gracefully draped about the walls and with a profusion of California roses and carnations, holly, myrtle and mistletoe. The chief feature of the evening was a musical and literary program in which Prof. Radcliffe, Prof. J. J. McClellan, H. S. Goddard, Miss Maud M. Babcock, Miss Sybella Clayton, pianist, Mr. George Skelton, violinist, Mrs. Gerrans, vocalist, and Mr. B. S. Young took part. Miss Sybella Clayton and her teacher, Prof. McClellan, rendered a new "Suite by Wrede" in pretty style. Miss Babcock recited, and Mr. B. S. Young gave a reading in their inimitable clever styles, and at 12 o'clock the entire company of the "Doxology" amid the ringing of bells, shouts and tooting of whistles outside. At 12:30 the Pyper-Wrede-Patrick-Skelton quartet gave a thrilling serenade from the hall, completely surprising the hosts and guests. They sang three choice numbers in their inimitable manner.

A delicious repast was served, the Misses Margaret and Mary Young, Lulu Spence and Sybella Clayton, presiding. The evening altogether was a most delightful one and will count among the most memorable of the night. The guests were:

President and Mrs. Lorenzo Snow, President and Mrs. Jos. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bancroft, Hon. F. S. Cannon, Senator and Mrs. G. F. Cannon, Bishop and Mrs. O. F. Whitney, General and Mrs. John Q. Cannon, Prof. J. J. McClellan, Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Radcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs.

HANNAH T. KING.

The name and face of Hannah T. King are perhaps too well known to the majority of the "News" readers to require introduction. Few who met this noble and talented woman during her lifetime will forget her fine countenance and distinguished bearing, and fewer those who will not remember the literary gifts whose expression made her name a household word during her residence in Utah.

Mrs. King was the wife of Thomas C. King, and was of fine English parentage, her family being of high connection, and was herself born in the old university town of Cambridge, across the sea. She was reared in the High church of England—and to quote from her own words—"Nothing but the high church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints could have caused me to secede from its high tenets and truly liberal principles."

From a child she was accustomed to write much, and after her marriage—which occurred when she was seventeen years of age—she wrote two books, dedicated to her children, which were largely patronized by the aristocracy of England. She also wrote a great deal of poetry.

In 1849, the principles of "Mormonism" were brought to her attention, and after fifteen months of study of the new tenets, she accepted them and was baptized into the Church.

In 1853, in company with her immediate family, she left home and friends to join the people of her faith in Utah, a sacrifice which the peculiar circumstances of her life and surroundings made doubly trying.

During her residence in Utah, Mrs. King was a frequent contributor to the local journals, both in prose and verse, and published three volumes, entitled, "Songs of the Heart," "Women of the Bible," and "An Epic Poem of Joseph Smith." Besides devoting herself to literary work, Mrs. King found time to take active part in educational and practical philanthropic movements, personally conducting a school for a period of two years, and at one time filling the position of president of the Y. L. M. I. A. of the Seventeenth ward. Ill health prevented her from continuing in this capacity, but she was appointed first counselor to the president of the Relief Society—a position which she held up to the time of her death.

Mrs. King was the mother of ten children, and her character was such as to command the esteem and love of all who knew her. She died in 1886.

Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Knowlton, Mr. Eugene Lewis, Mr. Race Whitney, Mr. Tracy Cannon, Prof. Levi E. Young, Prof. and Mrs. R. L. Lyman, Dr. C. M. Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. John Beck, Mrs. E. Y. Davis, Miss Vera Cannon, Miss Claire Clawson, Miss Josephine Spencer, Prof. and Mrs. H. E. Giles, Mr. Albert McClellan, Mr. Tyler Young, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rossett, Mr. Geo. H. Skelton, Mr. Walter Coleman, Miss Maud Patrick, Miss Grace Young, Miss Genevieve McClellan, Mr. Bob Clayton.

Amongst the notable home events of New Year's eve was the watch-party given by Mrs. Priscilla Jennings and Mrs. W. W. Ritter at the former's residence on East South Temple street. The rooms were decorated throughout with the holiday colors of green and scarlet—mistletoe, holly and red carnations aiding in carrying out the idea. Over the entrance to the parlor hung a large spray of mistletoe tied with a bow of red ribbon, holly decorated the chandeliers and vases of red carnations stood about on mantels, cabinets and window shelves. The dining room was especially artistic. A vase of carnations, the centerpiece and at each corner stood a candelabra with red candles; streamers of red satin ribbon, which extended from the chandelier over head being held by them at the four corners. Sprays of holly hung from the chandelier completing the pretty effect.

The earlier part of the evening was spent with cards, and later a musical program was rendered by Geo. D. Pyper, Horace S. Ensign, Robert Patrick, John D. Spencer, and H. G. Whitney, the numbers given by the quartet being interspersed with solos rendered by Mr. Ensign. Refreshments were served after the program and at the close of the party each guest was presented with a souvenir of the occasion in the shape of a copy in black and white of a famous picture. The event ended some two hours after the advent of the New Year. Present were: Gov. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dinwoodey, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Pyper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ensign, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jennings, Mrs. Nellie Little, Mrs. J. C. Wright of Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jennings, Mrs. Rossett, Mrs. Julia Taylor, Mrs. Richard Young, Misses Lucy Van Cott, Mamie Price, Emily Katz, Josie Katz, Hattie Jennings, Lucille Jennings, the Misses Little, Messrs. Coeman of Oregon, Lee Dinwoodey, Lear Ritter, Alma Katz, W. S. Crismon, John Winder Jr., Arthur Shepherd and Allan Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller entertained at a Chinese supper on New Year's eve, the event being perhaps the most delightful of the evening. The globes of the chandeliers were shaded with Chinese lanterns and the table was decorated entirely in Chinese style, a huge box of Chinese confections serving as centerpiece. The food was composed wholly of Chinese viands, seven courses being served and was eaten with chopsticks. The only American feature seen on the table was a glass of water called for by one of the guests. The Chinese cook prepared the supper. Four hours were spent at the table, the repeat ending only in time for the guests to usher in the new century which was hailed in Chinese fashion with firecrackers and bombs.

The event was a most delightful one and was enjoyed thoroughly by those fortunate enough to be present. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jolly, Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Stiel, Mrs. Wilkinson, Miss Geneva Jennings, Miss Allie E. B. Wick, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elder, Mr. George Nolan.

Once again the social circles of Salt Lake responded handsomely to the call of charity, as was witnessed at the annual charity ball given last evening at the University of the Pacific, the Mark's hospital. As a fashionable social affair it certainly eclipsed all previous efforts of the same organization, being without formality, and giving perfect enjoyment to all participants. There were many elaborate costumes worn by the ladies, some being particularly striking. The decorations for the hall were donated and arranged by Huddart, the florist, and to say that they were clever and artistic would be a modest compliment. They consisted of a beautiful draping of green from chandelier to chandelier, crossing and recrossing the hall in pretty frieze effect. The musician's stand was covered with handsome palms and plants.

During the entire evening an elaborate supper was served at the rear of the musician's stand. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Edwin Kimball, Mrs. Samuels, Mrs. Mullins, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Jones. The ice cream was generously donated by Mr. Franklin.

Mrs. Edward Wilkes had the arrangements in charge, while the executive committee consisted of Messrs. Geo. M. Scott, P. A. Druehl, Geo. Y. Wallace, E. B. Wicks, H. Bamberger, J. L. Frank, D. J. Sharp and J. H. Woodman. The floor committee were Dr. J. S. Critchlow, J. H. Woodman, Charles Wilkes, S. D. Evans and Dr. Worthington.

Among those present were Gov. Wells, Mrs. Abiel Leonard, Mrs. Judge Zane, Mrs. Louis Boukowsky, Messrs. and Mesdames Jas. Murray of Butte, J. B. Eddie, Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Judge, Elias Smith, Max Harris, Sol Seigel, J. L. Frank, John Sharp, Jr., William Bartling, George Y.

The first meeting of the Opal club during the new year was an exceptionally pleasant one, and judging from the attendance, one that augurs a most successful year's work. Nearly every club member was present and many guests. The event took place at the Ladies' Literary clubhouse, on Tuesday evening, and a very pleasing program constituted the first part of the evening's entertainment. It was as follows: Piano selection, Miss L. Eldredge; baritone solo, Mr. Gus Anderson; character sketch, Mr. D. R. Doty; tenor solo, Mr. Max Brodie; guitar and mandolin selection, Messrs. E. and A. E. Hadley; baritone solo, Mr. Walter Smith; pantomime juggling, Mr. A. D. Doty; solo, Messrs. C. McAllister. After the program those present adjourned to the banquet hall, where an elegant supper was served. Dancing followed and continued during the remainder of the evening.

The announcement is made that the second of the Opal club dancing parties will take place at Christensen's some time during the latter part of the present month. Preparations for this event are now in hand and the club members are already looking forward to a very successful ball.

Another announcement that will meet with a hearty reception by all members of the club is that the Messrs. Hadley are now at work promoting the organization of a guitar and mandolin club. The Opal club offers plenty of good material for such an organization. It is also very likely that in the near future a male quartet will be organized. These projects are proof of the fact that the club has determined to make a greater success of the present year than any yet enjoyed.

H. Claude Lewis and Miss Ella Walker, both of this city, were married yesterday afternoon in the Salt Lake Temple. After the ceremony, the happy couple went to the home of the bride's parents on west Fifth South street, where a quiet reception and dinner were given. Only the immediate relatives were present. The parlors were most tastefully decorated with smilax and palms, and the tables were adorned with beautiful flowers.

The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Salt Lake City. For several years she has attended the University, in which institution she was a prime favorite among the teachers as well as the students. It was there that she met her husband.

Mr. Lewis is a son of the late Professor T. B. Lewis and is liberally endowed with his father's gifts of pedagogy, as he is one of the most promising of Utah's younger educators. He was the valedictorian of his class in 1899, and is now an instructor in the State Branch school at Cedar City.

The bride and groom left for Cedar City last evening, and a large number of friends and relatives were at the depot to wish them God-speed.

A pretty event of the week was the marriage of Miss Ray Riggs of this city and Mr. David O. McKay of Ogden. The ceremony was performed at noon in the Temple, and in the evening a reception was held in the honor of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. White, 44 north Second west, the latter being relatives of the bride. The rooms were beautifully decorated. In the parlor was a canopy of smilax, under which the bride and groom stood to receive the guests, and all about the room were pink roses and carnations arranged with artistic effect. The dining room was in red and green carnations, holly and evergreen being used. Two pretty features in the decorations were the corner and end tables covered with English ivy and chrysanthemum, and was presided over by Miss Ada White. The coffee corner was a pretty affair, with a background of flowers and a lace and candy table. Lighted Chinese lanterns. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room by Franklin, the Misses McKay presiding. The bride wore a becoming gown of white organdy over silk with trimmings of blue and lace and a velvet. Many beautiful presents were received. The young couple have a large number of friends in the two cities in which they are best known.

Governor Wells and Mrs. W. W. Ritter of the reception and ladies' committee met with Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes on Thursday to plan arrangements for the grand reception to be tendered the visiting stockmen during their stay in the city.

There will be dancing and other special features and the decorations, which are to be in charge of Mrs. E. F. Holmes, will be on a most elaborate scale. Chairman Leary was notified last night of the call to be made upon the general public, and the expenses to be incurred in the event. The committees were made to the different committees in charge of the affair. A meeting of all the ladies' committees will take place at the home of Mrs. Ritter next Saturday, when further plans will be arranged. The committees are: Knutsford reception are:

COUNT TURNS TEARFULLY TO COLUMBIA.

Financial Troubles Force Castellanes to Seek Refuge in America.

Having flung the Gould millions to the winds, Count Boni de Castellane now declares that he will shake loose from the army of creditors who are hounding him and leave France for the United States. His brother-in-law, George Gould, whose refusal to permit any more extravagance by Castellane has precipitated this action, is understood to favor the count's idea. The count will probably announce that he intends merely to visit America, but those who are in the family's confidence say that Boni intends to remain here permanently.

Mrs. H. P. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Hal W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Igleheart, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Snow, Mr. and Mrs. George Q. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Farnsworth, Senator and Mrs. Rawlins, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Richards, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. David Keith, Mrs. Priscilla Jennings, Mrs. Ermeline B. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Babcock, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Pinkerton, Dr. F. S. Bascom, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Lawrence, Judge and Mrs. Le Grand Young, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Harris, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Porter.

A very pleasant reception was given on New Year's eve in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eber B. Rawlings.

The evening was spent in music, recitations, songs, etc., and a sumptuous supper was served. One of the recitations deserving most favorable comment was composed for the occasion by Mrs. M. S. Pratt.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames H. E. Rawlings of Salt Lake City, George Rawlings, Artemus Holman, of Pleasant Grove, Wm. S. Rawlings, John T. Pyne, Clarence Rawlings, of Salt Lake City, F. W. C. Hadden, Brock, Messrs. E. S. Sand, Arnold, of Salt Lake City, Frank Roper, Mesdames Elizabeth Symes, John R. Goodman, Leah Pyne, Dr. Simmons, Miss Claude Simmons. Twenty-five grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Reta Rawlings.

The marriage of Miss Ella Lewis and Mr. Joseph A. Young took place in the Salt Lake Temple at high noon on Thursday. Miss Lewis is the daughter of Bishop Lewis of the First ward in Logan. She has been living with her mother, Mrs. Lewis, of this city.

For the past half year, during which time she has become well and popularly known among a large circle of friends. The groom is the son of Apostle Brigham Young and Catherine C. Young. For the past five years he has been a member of the insurance firm of Young & Young in Salt Lake City. During the Spanish-American war he was among the Utah boys who volunteered to go to Cuba with the Rough Riders. Mr. and Mrs. Young will make their home at 56 first street in this city.

The marriage of Miss Mamie B. Amy, recently of Council Bluffs, and Harry Husbands of this city took place on New Year's night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Husbands.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ellis Bishop and later an elaborate wedding supper was served. The bride wore a handsome gown of blue Yvonne cloth with trimming of Duchesse lace and carried bride roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Edwards, wore a becoming gown of gray. Mr. Edward Husbands acted as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. M. E. Army of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and has been with the Lace House for some time, and the groom is an employee of Cohn Bros.' dry goods establishment.

The marriage of Mr. John A. Bookwalter, well known in Salt Lake, where he recently resided, and Miss Gwen Hefflinger of Springfield, Mass., occurred in California during the week, and the happy pair are now on their way to Springfield, where they will make their home.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Clarence A. Bradley entertained a few friends informally at her residence. Those present were Mrs. J. L. Rawlings, Mrs. Hal Brown, Mrs. C. D. Moore, Mrs. W. C. Jennings, Mrs. Elias A. Smith, Mrs. Don R. Coray, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Van Arman, Mrs. Elmer B. Jones, Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson, Mrs. W. M. Miller, Mrs. Osmond, Mrs. Cross, Miss Preston, Miss Grace Helkes, Miss Sheehan, Miss Wright and Miss Eva Hamlin.

On Monday afternoon the Yale Glee club were the guests of honor at an elaborate reception tendered them at the Knutsford by Mrs. Judge and Mr. Frank Judge. The red room and reading room were handsomely decorated for the event and delicious refreshments were served in the hall. A large number were present.

Among the weddings of the week was that of Miss Ida C. Elkstrand and Fred K. Brown, which took place on New Year's night at the residence of the bride's parents, Bishop J. C. Watson of the Sixth ward, performing the ceremony. The rooms were prettily decorated and a sumptuous wedding supper served. About fifty guests were present and the evening delightfully spent.

The ladies of the "Violet" club entertained New Year's eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Needham. The decorations were especially pretty and appropriate, being purple and white violets in great profusion. At the table Miss Virginia Elmer made a pretty speech, introducing the name of the club, and at 12 o'clock Miss Belle Weiler, who presided over the punch bowl, gave a toast "to the boys." Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Needham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cutler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Solomon, Misses Belle Weiler, Lydia Weiler, Virginia Elmer, Mattie and Lyle Wimmer; Messrs. Frank Brazer, Ern, Lamborne and Lin. Simmons.

Miss Lulu Penrose was among those who gave "watch parties" on Monday evening. The party was held at her home on Ninth East street, when a merry company of her young friends engaged in games and listened to a number of vocal selections by Mr. Chas. Pike and others. Refreshments were served at midnight, and the "watch" continued long beyond the hour which ushered in the new year.

A merry company of young people formed a skating party Wednesday evening, and went to Cannon's farm, where they were entertained informally by Miss Grace Cannon. After enjoying themselves on the ice for some time the party repaired to Miss Cannon's home, a short distance from the skating pond, where they were entertained at a musical. Mr. Tracy Cannon, late of Ann Arbor, rendered several selections on the piano which were greatly enjoyed by those present. During the evening dainty refreshments were served. Among those present were Misses Lucille Badger, Margie Young, Vera Cannon; Messrs. Levi E. Young, Charles Crismon, Geo. Badger, Tracy Cannon, King, and others.

The B. T. Plexotto lodge No. 421, I. O. B. T. of this city, tendered a reception to Mr. and Mrs. Boukowsky at the Ladies' literary parlors last Monday evening. The young couple had just returned from their wedding trip to San Francisco. Many members of the fraternity and their friends were present. Dancing was the program of evening and dainty refreshments were served in the lower hall during the evening.

Mrs. Heber J. Grant entertained on New Year's night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Jacobs whose wedding occurred last week. About thirty people were present, and the evening was spent with music and games. Refreshments were served.

The concert given by the combined orchestra of the city under Prof. Coleman on Wednesday night was a most successful and delightful affair, a large number of the prominent people of the city being present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall were the hosts at a "watch party" on New Year's eve, a large number being present to enjoy the delightful entertainment, which consisted of instrumental and vocal music, and a hearty greeting to the new year. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Dorothy Woodmansee and Mr. David J. Kelly celebrated the last day of the old century with their wedding, which took place at the home of the groom's parents, 415 south First West street. The relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple were present, and the event was a most pleasant one.

Mrs. Ernest Wright and Mrs. Sam. Winter took a pleasant surprise party to the home of Miss Hilma Peterson on Third West street New Year's Eve. The evening was passed in playing the games of a most novel nature, all rendition remained until the old year had passed and the new century had commenced counting time. Those present were the Misses Margaret Pyper, Mary Pyper, Effie Pyper, Lottie Phil, Mrs. Pyper, Effie Pyper, Lottie Phil, Mrs. Ernest Wright, Mrs. Sam Winter, Mrs. Charlie Thorne, Will Nelsbitt, Zach.
