

DEMOCRACY'S BIG BANQUET.

Gives Opportunity to Praise Name
And Work of Jefferson.

WARM EULOGIES SPOKEN.

Leaders of the Party Look to the Future
and See Hope and Victory Before Them.

Democracy found its voice last night, at the banquet given at the Commercial club by the Utah Democratic club, in honor of Thomas Jefferson. The spirit of the occasion seemed to be that the followers of Jefferson felt they had wandered off after strange gods, and were now enraptured with the happiness of having returned to again bathe themselves in the waters at the fountain head. The sage of Monticello was eulogized extravagantly and his political principles were rehearsed amidst applause. With the mention of his name came enthusiasm and out of the enthusiasm arose hope which found expression in the most sanguine predictions for the future.

Those who have left the ranks of the party here in Utah, within the last two years, were scathingly alluded to, while those who have remained true to the party in their hour of travail received from the speakers of the party the solemn assurance that their names would be handed to glory.

BAMBERGER TOASTMASTER.

The oratorical mill began to grind when President Moyle of the Democratic club spoke a few words of welcome and introduced Senator Simon Bamberger as toastmaster. The announcement was met with hearty applause, and the banquet hall from then on to the end frequently rang with laughter, awakened by the wit and sallies of the senator. He told good stories and made intensely funny interjections that always brought down the house. The first toast was "Thomas Jefferson," responded to by W. E. Rydahl of Provo, and it was a sparkling eulogy of the great statesman.

Frank R. Stephens responded to "Democratic Argonauts," which should have been the task of Jerrold R. Letcher, but that gentleman was attending the meeting of the Democratic ladies.

Mr. Stephens said he thought he could perceive causes that would bring the people back to the wholesome principles of Jefferson but at present the spirit of commercialism was uppermost and the gold was hardening the hearts of the people.

Hon. John T. Caine, in the absence of Judge Le Grand Young, responded to the toast, "The Democratic Party of the Past." He was spoken of as the party of the future, and he said he would be surprised if he did not find himself in the then Territory of Utah. He praised their efforts and called on all to be active and loyal in the great cause.

MR. VARIAN'S EFFORT.

C. S. Varian responded to the toast, "Old Wine and New Bottles." He referred in caustic terms to the efforts of Senator Rawlins and others to organize the Democratic party in the Territory of Utah. He praised their efforts and called on all to be active and loyal in the great cause.

HENDERSON IN EARNEST.

The next toast was "Jeffersonian Expansion, the Antithesis of Imperialism," and was responded to by Judge H. P. Henderson. He said he had a grievance, and he held up before him a book, "The War of the Republic," which he said was endorsed by the St. Louis fair commission, but if you examine it closely you will discover it is false. This book is full of slanders and lies concerning Jefferson. It repeats the slander of President Lincoln, that Jefferson was a liar and did not know how to tell the truth. This book is by Howard and he declares that Jefferson had nothing to do with the Louisiana purchase. And thus it is. For 100 years the Whigs and Federalists abused Jefferson for purchasing that vast territory, and for the next hundred years the Republicans will try to prove that he had nothing to do with it.

Judge Henderson then went on to give a history of the purchase, saying that neither Jefferson nor any other American brought about the opportunity for the purchase. Spring controlled the western banks of the Mississippi, and American traffic was interfered with on the river. Jefferson dispatched Monroe to Spain with $2,000,000 to purchase the western banks of the river. On arriving in Spain Monroe learned that by secret treaty that country had ceded the territory west of the Mississippi to France. Napoleon, who was then first consul, wished to dispose of the land, as he was about to engage in war with England. Monroe offered him $15,000,000 or 90,000,000 francs and the bargain was closed. Monroe could not communicate with the president, but he knew the latter's heart, as they had been friends and neighbors for years. Jefferson sanctioned the purchase, affirming that it was in the interest of humanity.

SENATOR RAWLINS' REMARKS.

Ex-Senator Rawlins, amid loud applause, arose and addressed himself to some of the principles of Democracy. Referring to the motto, "right or wrong, my country," as quoted by Judge Varian, he said there was yet a better and worthier one than that, which was, "my country, may she ever be right, but when wrong, set her right."

He pointed out the difference attending the acquisition of territory in Jefferson's day and at present. In the earlier day the government saw to it that the people living in the newly acquired territory were granted the rights, liberties and immunities enjoyed by all of the citizens of the United States. But with the Philippines it was far different.

The people of those islands were not granted these things nor would they be. Senator Rawlins recited the account of the torture of Father Augustin by American officers, who after they had killed him, said he had died of remorse. This action, said the speaker, was endorsed by one of the venerable members of the national senate. "The senators and soldiers," went on the speaker, "for they are not to reason why, they are but to do and die," and it is for the sake of our soldiers and sailors that I appeal to the citizens of this country and honorable citizens of the United States not to follow with fatuous fondness the false idols of the administration, but to adhere closely to those high principles without which this Republic is not fit to stand."

CONVENTION OF 1904.

At the conclusion of this speech the hall was transformed into the national Democratic convention of 1904 and the following nominations were made:

H. J. Dinwiddie, nominated David B. Hill of New York. Joel Pritchard of Kentucky, presented the claims of the favorite son of the blue grass, Henry Watterson. C. M. Jackson, Alton B. Parker of New York. J. R. Letcher spoke for Gov. David R. Francis of Missouri.

There was no balloting. The speech of A. J. Weber on possibilities of 1904 and a few remarks by Fisher Harris closed the program.

DR. SHOOP'S Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer. I am a specialist in Rheumatism, and have treated more cases than any other physician in the world. For 16 years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again, but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 10,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is only $5.00. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you. I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten. Write me and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails it is free.

Address Dr. Shoop, Box 713 Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

BOARD OF HORTICULTURE.

Holds Quarterly Meeting and Maps Out Season's Work.

At the April meeting of the state board of horticulture, which was concluded last night in this city, considerable routine business relating to the fruit growing interests of the state was disposed of and work for the season mapped out.

A resolution was passed pledging the hearty support of the board to the Utah state commissioners of the Louisiana Purchase and Louis & Clark exhibitions in making a creditable display of Utah fruits at both these fairs.

President Thomas Judd reported the recent visit of himself and Secy. Jos. Hyrum Parry to Weber county. They visited a number of fruit growers in Ogden and vicinity, finding very promising prospects for an abundant crop this autumn. The season is very late, but no injury has been done as yet by frost.

Vice President B. H. Bower and Mr. Judd recently visited a number of fruit growers in Sanpete county, in compliance with a request for advice in planting new orchards. They called on a number of fruit growers in and around Mount Pleasant. The present outlook for fruit in the north end of Sanpete is very promising.

A Mr. Wilson, of Mount Pleasant, had been very successful in growing raspberries last season, and the result of his venture in a small way almost staggers belief, but shows what irrigation and thorough cultivation will do for the small fruit grower. Mr. Wilson has a patch of one and a half acres of cutbert raspberries, and the crop of last season (1902) 300 12-oz cases of berries, which he shipped to Grand Junction, Colo., and for which he received $1.50 a case, delivered at his own station. This spring he sold from this same patch of canes, 40,000 plants at $6 per 1,000, receiving from his 1½ acre a gross income in 12 months of $1,450. He uses a great deal of barnyard fertilizer, and during the berry growing season irrigates the canes once in three days.

The secretary was directed by resolution of the board to prepare for publication horticultural bulletin No. 8, to contain the full text of the new horticultural law passed by the last Legislature, also the rules and formulas for spraying and disinfection adopted by the board.

In accordance with the provisions of the new horticultural law the board decided to have an office in Salt Lake City, to be kept by the secretary, and to be open for the transaction of business and legal business, and except on so when the secretary is traveling on official duty in the state. The secretary was instructed to procure suitable blank books for the use of his office, in which shall be recorded the names and addresses of the fruitgrowers, nurserymen and fruit dealers of the state, for the information of the board and of the public.

The board adjourned to meet in this city the last week in May, when it will be reorganized under the new law. The board will also receive correspondence from fruitgrowers and all interested in the horticultural interests of the state. Its office will be room 413 Deseret News Annex, Salt Lake City.

LEICHLI SHOWS FIGHT.

Will Not Honor Request for Removal—Trouble at Meeting Last Night.

It has just been brought out that Bishop Warren's communication to Supt. Leichli of the Utah Methodist mission was not a peremptory dismissal, but only a request for him to resign his charge. This Leichli refuses to do, and still holds the fort to the dismay of the great majority of Methodists in this state, who have now a lively fear lest this will tend to disintegrate the church here. Supt. Leichli held quarterly conference at Liberty Park church last night, and went there in his war paint, with his chief of staff, Rev. Mork. The latter was equipped with a full set of clippings from the Salt Lake papers referring to his commanding officer in the Smoot and church matters, which, however, were not used. Rev. Mork, the pastor and the stewards of the church present regarded the appearance of Rev. Mork as an intrusion, and he was requested to withdraw. This he refused to do, and consequently the pastor promptly refused to hand him the quarterly report. So that no business of consequence transacted at the meeting. The action of Leichli in bringing in the Scandinavian presiding elder was regarded as an outrage, as he has nothing whatever to do with the English branch of the church in an official way.

Another Methodist minister remarked today, that if the trick is played on him, Rev. Mork will walk if he has to be thrown out. Members of the Methodist church do not hesitate to say that unless the presiding bishop takes some radical action on an early day, they are fearful of the immediate future of the church in this state. Leichli is very much disliked by the entire communion in Utah.

YOUNGSTER WAS LOST.

Neighbors Aroused and Bloodhounds Out—He Was Found Miles Away.

Harold Cook, the five-year-old son of Richard Cook of Forest Dale, caused a great deal of excitement last night by his disappearance from his home. The little fellow happened to see a particular dog that struck his fancy and concluded to follow the animal. He trudged along to State street and then turned north and did not stop until he reached Murray, where the meaning of the situation and neighbors were almost frantic and the whole neighborhood was scoured thoroughly for the little one but no trace of him could be found. Finally the bloodhounds from the state prison were brought out, and before they started on the trail the child was located at Murray. It was about 9 o'clock this morning before he was returned to his parents.

FUNERAL OF PREST, YOUNG.

Complete Arrangements Were Made This Afternoon.

Arrangements for the funeral of President Brigham Young, which occurs at the Tabernacle at 1 p. m. tomorrow, were mapped out by the committee, at a meeting held late this afternoon. The remains will leave the family residence, near Eleventh South and Ninth East streets, precisely at 11:30, accompanied by immediate relatives and friends, and on arriving at the Temple grounds they will be admitted by the west gate and will enter the Tabernacle from the north side. The general public will be admitted by the south and east gates only. The seating arrangement in the Tabernacle will be practically as it was at the funeral of President Snow, places being reserved for those mentioned in the order of procession. The choir will occupy its usual place and, led by Prof. Stephens, will render during the service, "Rest For the Weary Soul," "O My Father," "I Know That My Redeemer Lives," with solo by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas, Edward, and that popular funeral hymn, "When First the Glorious Light of Truth." The speakers will likely be the First Presidency, members of the Council of the Apostles and other close associates of the deceased president. The service will close a few minutes before three and precisely on the hour the funeral procession will form and leave the Tabernacle square for the city cemetery. The line of march will be as follows: South from west gate to South Temple, thence east to East Temple, thence south to First South, thence east to Ninth East, thence north to cemetery. The order of procession will be:

Gen. R. T. Burton and aids.

Band.

First Presidency, Twelve Apostles and Patriarchs.

Hearse.

Flowers.

Family of President Brigham Young.

First Council of Seventies.

Presiding Bishopric.

Temple choir.

Presidents of stakes and missions.

Presidents of Relief society.

Mutual Improvement associations.

Other organizations.

Friends.

The committee on carriages will furnish conveyances for the wives of President Brigham Young, Sr., and other relatives desiring to attend in the city.

The committee on processions will be in charge of the procession, of which Gen. Robert T. Burton is chairman.

COMMITTEE ON PROCESSION.

The committee on procession, reinforced by aids appointed this afternoon, is as follows:

Committee on Procession—Gen. R. T. Burton, Frank Y. Taylor, Nelson A. Empey, Major Richard W. Young, Ellis A. Smith, William S. Burton, Jno. Cannon, George M. Cannon, M. M. Alvord, Asahel H. Woodruff, Alonzo Young, George Woolley, J. G. McDonald, C. S. Burton, Fred Clawson, B. R. Eldredge, W. C. Winder, C. B. Stewart, James H. Moyle, Spencer Clawson, E. Y. Taylor, J. H. Grant, Willard Richards, W. N. Williams, A. S. Campbell and David Smith.

This committee is requested to report to the members of the general committee on the Temple grounds at 10 o'clock sharp.

The committee on seating arrangements, consisting of the President, the Bishops and others, announces that the Bishops and their counselors will occupy seats on the north side of the stand, while the Presidents of stakes, High Councilors and Patriarchs will take the seats on the south side.

The Tabernacle has been decorated in white and from the grand organ will be suspended a beautiful oil painting of the deceased president. In all probability the funeral will be largely attended.

WILL TEST THE NEW JUDGE LAW.

The question of the constitutionality of the act creating the office of an additional judge for the Third district court has been brought before the supreme court of the state by the filing of an action in that court today by Attorney-General Breen against T. D. Lewis, the newly appointed judge. The complaint is brought in the name of the attorney-general by the command and direction of Governor Heber M. Wells. It alleges that, on April 1, by virtue of a pretended law passed by the Legislature and approved by the governor on March 12, 1903, the governor pretended to appoint and did appoint the said T. D. Lewis, district judge for the Third judicial district, and to evidence said appointment the governor issued to said Lewis a pretended commission authorizing him to take charge of said office and perform the duties and claim the emoluments of said pretended office. On April 10, it is alleged that Judge Lewis subscribed the oath of office and filed the same with the secretary of state.

Since that date the said Thomas D. Lewis has been and now is in possession of said office and exercises the functions thereof and claims the emoluments. The complaint charges that Judge Lewis usurps the office and has no right or legal authority to exercise the functions thereof, and that he has unlawfully intruded himself into said office and threatened to will continue to hold the same unless ousted therefrom.

The complaint closes with the following prayer: "Wherefore the said M. A. Breen, in behalf of the State of Utah, prays judgment, that the said Thomas D. Lewis is not entitled to said office, and that he be ousted therefrom by this court and for costs of action."

Judge Lewis accepted service of the complaint today and waived the service upon him of any notice, writ of quo warranto or summons in the proceedings, reserving his right, however, to demur or answer to the complaint within five days from date. The supreme court will grant a special hearing of the proceedings which will be the early part of next week. So that the question of the right of Judge Lewis to hold his office will be determined without any delay whatever.

HEWLETT BROS. CO.

HEALTH BOARD

IS UP IN ARMS.

Violators of Quarantine Ordinance To Be Dealt With.

ONE FLAGRANT VIOLATION.

S. Carlson, the Tailor, Returns to Work After Being Quarantined For Smallpox.

The health department is up in arms against violators of the quarantine regulations and prosecutions for such violations will soon be commenced. One violator who will be prosecuted as soon as he is released from quarantine is S. Carlson, a tailor, who resides at 23 south Eighth West street. A young lady by the name of Salina Littleford, who was employed at Carlson's home, was stricken with smallpox yesterday, and the house was immediately placed under quarantine by Dr. Riley, assistant quarantine inspector.

Carlson was at home when the place was quarantined and was instructed to remain there. He refused to do so, however, and as soon as the inspector left, he returned to his work at the tailor shop. When the inspector returned to the place late yesterday afternoon he found that Carlson had returned to his work and that the smallpox patient had gone to the home of her mother, at 347 west Second North. Inspector Korth was detailed to work on the case and he placed the latter house under quarantine. He then proceeded to Carlson's place of business and ordered him to remain there. The order was supposedly obeyed, but on investigation this morning it was discovered that Carlson wandered around until after the inspector left the shop and he then returned and slept there all night.

This morning he was again ordered home and the order was obeyed to the letter. The shop was then fumigated. As soon as Carlson is released from quarantine he will have to answer to the charge of breaking the quarantine regulations, and the officials of the health department consider this case a flagrant violation and they intend to impress upon the minds of some people that the regulations must be observed.

ROSE BUSH SALE TODAY.

Bushes, 15c; climbers, 35c; American Beauty bushes, 50c each. Sale today, until Wednesday. AT WALKER'S.

OLSON'S GOOD WORK.

Lauds Three Housebreakers and Recovers Stolen Property.

Police Officer Olson commended a good piece of work last evening when he recovered a Smith & Wesson revolver, stolen from a place on Broadway recently, and secured evidence against the men who burglarized the house.

A few days ago three men broke into 11 Broadway and carried off a quantity of clothing and a watch. They gave their names as Dan Murray, Leroy Demont and Arthur Baker. Yesterday Officer Olson learned they had broken into George Brock's place on the same street. Mr. Brock was away at the time and did not discover the robbers' visit until yesterday. Besides the revolver, three razors and a valuable home were stolen. Officer Olson went to work on the case last evening and located the gun where the thieves had concealed it. Today complaints, charging the men with housebreaking, were filed in Judge Diehl's court and they will probably be arraigned tomorrow morning.

COURT NOTES.

Arthur Young today filed suit in the district court against Alfred W. McCune and wife for a partition of certain real property in this city owned in common by plaintiff and defendants. The property is described as lots 2 to 9, inclusive, block 2; lot 4, block 14, all in plat J; lot 4, block 67, plat D; lots 1, 2 and 4, block 58, plat D. Plaintiff alleges that he owns a three-fourths interest in the property and defendants own one-fourth. In case a partition cannot be had he asks that the property be sold and the proceeds divided according to their respective interests. He also asks for $200 as attorney's fees.

Joseph Warburton today filed a petition for letters testamentary of the estate of Robert J. Johnson, deceased, who died in this city on April 11, 1903. The estate consists of real property in this city valued at $8,000, and personal property valued at $4,000. The will provides that the estate shall be divided among decedent's two sons and a daughter, with the exception of $500 which is left to a daughter residing in England. The petition will be heard by Judge Hall on Friday, May 1.
