PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and Sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickness at the Stomach, Pain in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities.

Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effective as a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine; cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage.

EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, - September 9, 1884.

SCRAPS OF NOVELTY.

THE QUEER CIRCUMSTANCES AND INCIDENTS OF REAL LIFE.

COULDN'T STAND TOBACCO.

Two Virginia woodchoppers killed a rattlesnake with a quid of tobacco. One held his head with a forked stick close to the ground, keeping its body constrained with his foot, while his comrade forced the tobacco into the mouth of the snake. They then released it. It instantly became convulsed and died in a short time.

A BIG ONE.

Fred. Campbell, of Grass Valley, Cal., says he saw the head of a huge snake emerge from a fence. Its tail was just forty-one feet away from where its head was seen, and its body was as large around as a flour barrel. It moved rapidly toward the Yuba River, and was in sight not over one minute. Campbell's companion certifies to the correctness of his story.

IN A DREAM.

A remarkable accident occurred to Mr. Douglass M. Irish, a resident of No. 49 Colonie street, about 10.30 o'clock on Wednesday night. He is employed as a firemen on the Central Railroad, and as he sat asleep by an open window he dreamed that he heard a shrill whistle of danger from a locomotive which was blowing for a signal to cross the upper bridge. Instantly without awakening he leaped forward through the window, dreaming that it was his own engine and that he was to reverse its motion. He landed about ten feet below upon the sidewalk at the very edge of an embankment ten feet high. Several persons who resided down stairs were sitting upon the piazza near by and saw the man fall. When they reached him he was unable to rise. He sustained serious injuries both to his kneepan and internally.

AFTER PIGEONS.

Mrs. William Kennedy, who lives on Fourth street, missed her four year old son Carl, and in a state of great anxiety made search for him up and down the various streets in that vicinity, when she was attracted by seeing some people running wildly about on the corner of Fourth and St. James streets, and upon approaching the dwelling of Dave Williams, nearly fainted with terror when she saw the frightened people pointing with their fingers to her little son, who was hanging to a ladder on the windmill tank seventy or eighty feet from the ground. One little hand grasped the ladder and with the other he was reaching out for some pigeons that were sitting almost within his reach. The mother realized the awful peril of her little son, but with a heroism seldom seen she called to the child in a firm voice, saying: "Come down, Carl, and mamma will give you a peach." The little fellow looked cautiously around over his shoulder, and seeing his mother, started to descend, while the group stood with faces upturned, blanched with terror for fear he would lose his hold and be dashed to pieces; but he came safely down, and as he approached the last rounds of the ladder he said: "I am coming, mamma," and the overjoyed mother caught her child in her arms.—[San Jose Herald.

AN ELASTIC STOMACH.

Reliable men of Forest Hill say that J. A. Miller possesses what might be termed a galvanized, elastic stomach. He could eat anything without nauseating him, and as for quantity it was never known exactly how much his stomach would hold. On one occasion, it is said, he ate eight small cans of oysters, several cans of peaches, besides crackers, cheese and bologna sausage in proportion, and washed it down with eight or ten glasses of beer, and then afterwards, when asked to sing a song, he wanted to know whether they expected him to sing on an empty stomach. It is said also that he would sometimes catch flies and eat them down by the handful, just to show what he could do. At one time he ate a mouse, head, ears and hair, on a wager of $1.50.—Placer (Cal.) Herald.

AN UNPROFESSIONAL SNAKE CHARMER.

A daughter of Mr. A. F. Elliott, aged about 18 years, came in contact with a rattlesnake while gathering berries along the basis of the North Mountain. She stooped down and picked the large snake up in her arms, unfolding its coils and extracting its rattles from its tail; but for all this the snake showed no sign of biting. Then she wound it around her neck, and then around her arms and body to show the girls that accompanied her what she could do with a snake. While the other girls became frightened at the sight, she let the snake glide away unhurt. The girl has been known to handle snakes of different kinds, but has never been bitten.—Lexington (Ky.) Gazette.

AN ELECTRIC WHEEL-BUG.

General Davis, of the British army, who was a famous insect collector, once picked up a wheel-bug in the West India Islands, and received a blow that paralyzed his arm for some time. As he shook the insect off he noticed where it had stood on his hand six red marks, the impression of its feet. Kirby and Spencer also refer to this peculiarity of the insect, and other naturalists have received shocks from certain of the luminous beetles. Captain Blakeney took up an unknown caterpillar and immediately received such a shock that his entire right side became paralyzed, and, for a short time he was dangerously ill.

"My dear brethren," said the minister, leaning forward and speaking very earnestly, "in this excessively warm and oppressive weather I can excuse a little drowsiness during the sermon, but I do wish you would try and keep awake while the collection is being taken up."

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS and DISORDERED LIVER.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, a feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
