INFANTS' FATAL FALL. Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Davis Dies Suddenly.

Little Harvey, the 18 months old son of Joseph P. Davis of 24 Kendall court, died yesterday afternoon from the effects of a fall. On Wednesday morning he was standing in his high chair looking out of the window when he lost his balance and fell to the floor. He struck on the back of his head, but he seemed to recover rapidly from the fall. That night he was selzed with dreadful pain and towards morning he went into convulsions. He soon lapsed into uncon-sciousness and remained so up to his death. Dr. MacLean was the attending physician, and he thinks that a concussion of the brain had been caused. The sense of their loss rests heavily upon the parents, and in their affliction the community extends to them sincere sympathy.

ROW OVER A HAT.

A Blow and a Stabbing Affray the Res sult Occurred in a Saloon.

A row over a hat, a blow, a bloody nose, and stabbing affray, occurred in the Comstock saloon about 12:30 this morning. The principals to the fight are Henry Salm, an employe of the Fisher brewery, and Gotfred Gygi, 21 years of age, who resides at 40 Depot avenue. Both were at a dance in the Armory hall and it is said that they ad been trying to cause a famine in iquors that make intoxication come.. liquors that make intoxication come. Be that as it may, shortly after mid-night Salm entered the saloon followed by Gygi. The latter grabbed Salm's hat off his head and started for the door. Salm made a roar but Gygi could hit the hardest and he tapped the claret in Salm's nose. The German's rage knew no bounds, and drawing a pocket knife he rushed upon Gygi and pro-ceeded to perform a surgical operation. Gygi was stabled in the shoulder and on the left wrist. As before attack, the row was over a hat. Each claimed that the headgear belonged to him. that the headgear belonged to him.

The men were arrested. At the police station Falm claimed the hat and her denied it. Gygl was resemitted to go home, but Salm was locked up.

HE FLOURISHED A GUN And Is Accused of Carrying Concealed Weapons, White strolling along First South street jast night Officer Barlow noticed a man standing in front of Reilley's saloon. flourishing a 32-calibre revolver. He was explaining to some youngsters that he took the gun away from a man in the Lincoln house. The officer took him over to the sia i.f., where the fellow became very indignant and breathed out fire and slaughter against the whole ity. He refused to give his name, but etters found on him indicated that his ognomen is Samuel A. Herrison. In lefault of $20 for his security, he was locked up.

window was broken again, but on that occasion only about $15 worth of prop-erty was taken. The man who did the job last evening is described as being 5 feet 10 inches in height, with a black mustache, and at-tired in a brown overcoat, a black derby hat and light trousers. From the direction taken by the man and his manner of covering up his es-cape, it is thought that he is no stranger to the city. The police are working diligently on the case and hope to capture the man.

ANOTHER CANAL PROJECT. Big Scheme to Reclaim 700,000 Acres of Land in Grand County. The State land board held another meeting yesterday afternoon, and Representative A. P. Mohr, of Grand count ty, appeared before it to urge action being taken favorable to a large canal project, to run from Grand river in Colorado, for about one hundred and colorado, for about one minured and fifty miles west across the line into Utah, which, he stated, will reclaim 700,000 acres of fertile land in Grand county. Mr. Mohr says he is very familiar with the localities through which the canal is proposed to run, and propounces the scheme feasible and pronounces the scheme feasible. He said the line had been surveyed to the Colorado line, and it was estimated that it would cost about $7,500 per mile, with the same ratio through Utah. Maps were shown by Mr. Mohr de-noting where the canal would start from on Grand river, about eighteen miles east of Grand Junction, and then take a westward circular course to the Utah state line. From this point it would run westerly across the dry bench lands that are well adapted for the raising of fine fruits and vegeta-bles. Thence it crosses the Rio Grande Western railway tracks near Sagers, thence on west again along the south side of the track to a point south of Solitude station, and then norther-ly to Green River, near Brown cliffs. The land commissioners were much The land commissioners were much interested in the enterprise, but claimed they had no authority to undertake it.

Mr. Mohr desired to get them to meet with him to urge the Legislature to ap-propriate about $5,000 with which to make surveys, showing the scheme practicable. The members of the board expressed a willingness to do this, and thought it would be well to have the land in question coded to the State under the Carey act and allow some mon-eyed corporation to build the big ditch. and thus make homes for thousands of

J. Irvine vs John W. Irvine. The defendant did not appear and the testimony of the plaintiff and her corroborating witnesses were taken. Mrs. Irvine said she and her husband were married Sept. 13, 1888, in Salt Lake City, and that for three years past defendant had been very cruel to her; he slapped her in the face on one occasion, and called her a - - fool, together with other vile names. I claimed he also cursed and swore She their two children, and beat them. Plaintiff also testified that her husband threatened to kill her on August 27, at her mother's home, when he drew a pistoi on her, and called her bad names; stated he "would fix her, and fix her plenty." He grabbed their boy, eleven years old, and threw him against the weall by the helf of the head. "The fee

A NEW CITY JAIL.

Council May Sell Real Estate to Build One.

A meeting of the committees of the City Council to consider the new jall proposition, was scheduled to take place last evening at the office of Chief of Police Hilton, but because of the failure of a quorum of each committee to appear nothing was accomplished, Messrs, Cottrell, of the police and prison com-mittee; Robertson, of the Finance commitee, and Fernstrom, who is a met of both committees, were present. J. S. Valance, who has tried hard to work up sentiment in favor of this proect, was also present to urge the mat. er. The lady called the Councilmen's attention to the bad, unsanitary condi-tion of the present jail, and the fact that there was no place in the prison where hoys could be confined without associating with criminals much older and worse than themselves; also said there was not sufficient room in the fail as it now exists for a division to be made. Mr. Robertson moved that it b declared the sense of those present that the city sell some of its real estate, which is not needed for other purposes, and build a new jall. The councilmen present coincided with Mrs. J. S. Valance, that a new prison was badly needed, and concluded to recommend favorable action to the Council.

LORENZ DICKERT'S DEATH.

Prominent Archieect and Draughtsman is Victim of Heart Failure.

Lorenz Dickert, the architect and draughtsman, who has been in the employ of Architect R. A. Kletting, died at the Holy Cross hospital yesterday afternoon of heart failure, superinduced by asthma. Mr. Dickert had been suffering for several months, and last week he was removed to the hospital. He sank steadily, however, nothing being able to arrest the work of dissolu-tion, and late yesterday afternoon he breathed his last. He is survived by a daughter and two sons, his wife havng died about three years ago. Deceased was born in Germany, and emigrated to this country about twen-ty years ago. He came to Utah to become superintendent of the Cove Creek sulphur mine, maintaining that position ten years. He then removed to Salt Lake to engage in his craft of architect. One son is living at Lincoln, Mon-tana, and no arrangements for the fun-Moneral will be made until he is heard from.
