Chicago, June 19.-Week end liquida-tion and short selling caused a fresh slump of 1c. in wheat prices on the board of trade today. Several of the leading traders again hammered the market and their efforts met with little opposition owing to the ideal weather now prevail-ing for the new crop in the southwest. Prices at the opening were unchanged to <sup>3</sup>/<sub>8</sub>@<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> lower, July being at 1.14 to 1.14%. Before the end of the first, half hour July had declined to 1.15%. Con was weak on the heaviness of wheat and on the favorable weather con-ditions. The market opened unchanged to <sup>4/@3/%</sup> lower, July being at 71% to 11/4%. Iater July sold at 71% @<sup>4</sup>/<sub>2</sub>. Realizing sales in the July delivery caused general weakness in the oats market.
