Before taking my annual inventory I have decided to make a special cut in prices for a few days to reduce my stock. There are very often sales advertised with reduction in prices of one-half and more. That is easy when the prices in the first place are high enough. I have been in business here close to fifteen years, and the people of Salt Lake know that I have always carried a first-class, reliable line of goods at prices as low as first-class goods could be sold for, and in all these years I have never made any special sales. Now, after looking over my stock carefully in the last few days, I find I have more stock than I would like to carry over the dull season, and that is my reason for the cut in prices.

If you have any cash to spare you will be wise to invest it in a Diamond, when you can buy it at my prices. If you need a good timekeeper it will pay you to see my prices, and if you need anything in Jewelry, in solid gold or gold filled, I can save you money for the next few days. A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT.
