A Trip to Spring Lake Farm.—We have been requested to publish the following—

"On Wednesday last, the anniversary of the organization of the Fourth Ward Sunday school, the superintendents, teachers, children and members of the ward met at the School-house, at half past seven, with Bishop Sperry at the head as marshal of the day, and after comfortably seating all hands in twenty-two wagons, with flags and banners, the party formed in line and proceeded to Calder's Spring Lake Farm, which we reached in good order, and proceeded to a very comfortable bowery, when, after prayer and some good instructions from the Bishop and members of the committee, a general rush was made for the splendid lake, which is well supplied with boats, and the grounds with new patent swings and quoits. The company engaged in various games until noon, when they proceeded to the bowery for refreshments, after which dancing was commenced, and continued for about two hours, when the boats and swings were again in demand, until 5:30 p. m., at which time the company started to the City, well satisfied with the gentlemanly treatment and accommodation afforded by the proprietors of Spring Lake Farm, which we can recommend as a fine place of resort to superintendents of Sabbath schools and all who wish to avail themselves of a day's rural enjoyment.

POLITICAL HONOR.—The same rule of honor that governs a gentleman in his social business relations ought to control his political conduct. The axiom that all is fair in politics is a vicious one, and is only acted upon by the mean, the selfish and the ambitious. The man who will forget his word, or betray his friend, or be guilty of ingratitude, or who will forget the obligations which his political career has imposed upon him is unworthy of confidence or trust, and is entitled neither to personal friendship nor political support. It is this kind of conduct that elevates the cold blooded, shallow pretender and the selfish, scheming a venturer above men of intellect and honor. This is the policy that gives ambitious political knaves an advantage over modest, honest, honorable men and plants demagogues in positions which ought to be occupied by statesmen and gentlemen.—S. F. Chronicle.
