

"FOUR POUNDS FOR A DOLLAR."

Utah Woolgrowers Are Expecting Smith's Immortal Slogan to Come True.

CONTRACT FOR NEXT CLIP.

Railroad Men Are Watching Developments and Already Soliciting Shipments for Next Season's Business.

"Four pounds for a dollar," the immortal slogan of Joseph Smith, the well known Utah sheepman, this fall to become an accomplished fact next season, if local railroad men are to be believed.

Today there is the spectacle of railroad men soliciting shipments of wool that will not be moved until next May. The wool has not been grown yet, nevertheless it has been sold. There is considerable secrecy over the movements of the eastern buyers who are working among the growers to induce them to sell their clips for next year under contract. Everybody declares that there is such a move being made, the buyers, because they want to secure more contracts, and the sellers, because they do not want their financial affairs known.

Be that as it may, the secret information bureau of the various railroad offices here have listed over 10 Utah sheepmen who have already contracted their next season's clip. The prices agreed upon range from 25 cents down to 20 cents, with a number still holding out for "four pounds for a dollar." Sheepmen here are said to be the best buyers, but some are being sought by St. Louis and Boston firms with avidity. West of Pocatello and on the triangle in the Soda Springs district contracts are being signed up by western purchasers and sellers and indications are that if the present bill movement prevails it will be cheaper to year all clip goods in preference to all wool.

Things generally look rosier for the sheep owner right now. Any old sheep will shear in the neighborhood of seven pounds of wool, which will mean $1.40 a head to the herd at 20 cents per pound. Then the increase in lambs is to be noted. In latest returns from St. Joseph, Mo., indicate that 72 lambs from Idaho were sold there for $5.50, while the culls fetched $3.50 or more than the best averaged some time ago. Deduct from this about $1 cents per head for freight and it can be seen that there was in the neighborhood of $4 a head coming to the lucky grower. The man who bought a flock of sheep last year has paid for by this time with a nice snug balance in the bank.

The problem of feed, however, is getting to be a serious one. There is no trouble about a winter range, because the flocks can be turned out to the desert. Year by year the summer range is becoming restricted. Nearly all of the railroad lands owned by the Union Pacific have been bought up by sheepmen for private ranges. The opening of the Utah Indian reservation to settlement will also have the effect of cutting a big number of sheep off pastures now and in this connection the railroad look for heavy livestock business in transporting the flocks to new feeding grounds.

Such in brief is the situation in Utah. The man who has his own range has a small fortune before him in the sheep business.

CONTRACTORS HERE.

Ready to Commence Work on the Western Pacific.

Three mysterious railroad contractors arrived in Salt Lake yesterday afternoon and at once made the rounds of the hotels and inquired for Mr. Kilpatrick of the firm of Kilpatrick Bros. & Collins of New York. The men, who did most of the work on the reconstruction of the main line of the Union Pacific. To several gentlemen they stated that they had come to Salt Lake for the purpose of meeting Mr. Kilpatrick for the purpose of making arrangements for the reconstruction of the main line of the Union Pacific. They refused to talk for publication or give their names. Up to this afternoon Mr. Kilpatrick had not registered at any of the leading hotels.

SALT LAKE ROUTE, TOO.

San Pedro Is Building Branch to Smelter Site Also.

In addition to the Rio Grande Western running a branch the Salt Lake Route has now got a force of men at work grading for a spur from the main line to the new smelter site at the point of the mountain near Gardfield beach. Operations are being extensive, being carried out in the vicinity, camps being established and several outfits being on the ground running the preliminary work. As soon as the Western Pacific commences active operations old Gardfield will begin to fairly hum with industry.

"WABASH" TO BUILD.

Pittsburg Gets Somewhat Tangled Up Over Western Pacific.

The following Associated Press dispatch is very funny, especially in the light of the fact that the Wabash does not come further west than Kansas City. Undoubtedly the comment referred to is that for building the Western Pacific, which is a Gould proposition. Incidentally the Wabash is also controlled by the Gould interest.

Pittsburg, Aug. 21.—Announcement was made today that William Keenebeck & Co. of Pittsburg, with branches in other cities, have been awarded a $15,000,000 contract by the Wabash railroad. The contract calls for the building of 400 miles of road between Salt Lake City and San Francisco.

It will require three or four years to complete the job, when the Wabash, with the money from the new line, will have a continuous line from Baltimore to San Francisco.

NO MORE ICE.

New Style Refrigerator Car Is Now on the Way East.

The first class system experimental refrigerator car was in Ogden yesterday on its way through from California to New York with a load of fruit. The car attracted considerable attention among the railroad men from the fact that it is used in keeping the consignment cool. The refrigeration is generated from a centrifugal which is operated by a chain attached to the axle. When the car is standing on a siding or is not otherwise in motion, a hermetic engine furnishes power to drive the mechanism. It is claimed

RESUMED THIS AFTERNOON.

Deputy Sheriff Childster, Victim of Shooting, Too Ill to Attend the Session.

The trial of the four Austrians upon the charge of assaulting Deputy Sheriff Lafayette Childster with intent to murder him was stopped temporarily this morning in Judge Armstrong's court on account of Attorney A. Upon the request of the attorney the interpreter was relieved from further duty and the court took a recess until this afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time another interpreter will be sworn in. Attorney Weber insisted that George Prijanich, the interpreter sworn yesterday, was not making a correct interpretation of the witnesses, and hence insisted on his removal.

The court refused to do so, the defense moved its testimony which was not completed when court took a recess until this morning. The principal defendant in the case, Frank Devie, whom the state charged with the shooting, was arrested and placed under bonds in the sum of $1000. He has disappeared and can only be located on his bond, which is cash, will be forfeited to the state.

PHARMACISTS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Extend the Glad Hand and Indulge in Speeches of Welcome and Congratulation.

AT SALT AIR THIS AFTERNOON

Tomorrow's Session Will be Devoted to Discussing the Needs of the Profession.

The annual convention of the Utah Pharmaceutical association informally convened at 10 a. m. today, in the parlors of the Commercial club. The opening session was entirely social, and the exercises consisted in extending the gladshander and expanding the cheerful countenance, the delegates stating without any appreciable precipitation in the solution, how glad they were to see each other. After ascertaining that their mental and physical laboratories were in good order, and that their chemical reactions were beautiful and natural, the entire gait company properly labeled their heads with attractive white alkies, and so they returned to the club at about 1 p. m. That able and experienced chemical expert, Hon. Fisher Harris, had prepared a strictly pure luncheon, including all the chemical luxuries of the day, and the party immediately saw to it that the ingredients of their daily rationed food in their individual reports and properly assimilated. Prof. Harris and secured his guests that preliminary laboratory tests and experiments were entirely unnecessary as the various batches of edibles had been compounded after the most approved formulas. This was found to be the case.

SPEECHES THIS AFTERNOON.

At 2:30 p. m., the company of savants was "called to order" by Dr. Pennington, the president, and he was followed by addresses of welcome from Jos. E. Frank, president of the Salt Lake Retail Druggists' association, with responses by Wm. Driver of Ogden, B. F. Ritter of Logan, and George Lunt of Mercur.

The vocal tubes of the speakers were well filled with choice bacilli of oratory and when the same were poured out into the ears of the audience, the audience, there was a display of mental luminosity that needed only a word of wisdom from F. C. Schramm and D. Y. Wheeler to develop into a truly pyrotechnic display.

GO TO SALT AIR.

The convention left on mass at 3:30 p. m. for Saltair to study the composite salt formation of the great lake, by inhaling themselves therein. There will be a "Dutch Pink" lunch and "Yaller Tea" at 7 p. m. at the pavilion, prepared under the direction of these pharmacists known over two continents: Heron F. A. Druoh, Herman Harris, J. L. Franken and F. C. Schramm. The dancing will be the last stratum on the layers of the day's experiences.
