

OUR OWN STATE.

ICELANDIC MEMORIAL DAY

Fittingly Observed by Natives of this Branch of the Scandinavian Fatherland.

Songs and Speeches, Music and Humor, and a Grand Ball Make Up the Program.

Special Correspondence.

Spanish Fork, Utah, Aug. 3.—The Icelandic Memorial Day (Linn Jónsáldi Thjóðminningar Dagr) was yesterday celebrated in this city by those of our citizens who had come from Iceland, together with their relatives and friends. A tastily decorated bower had been put up for the occasion in the front of Mr. Elmer Bjarnason's house, above which our beloved national emblem, the Stars and Stripes, wave in the breeze, and beneath it on the same spot, the national flag of Iceland, a white falcon surrounded by blue. Among the invited guests were Mayor Henry Gardner with his wife and Bishop A. E. Nelson. Also Rev. Theodore Lee, of this place, and Rev. Gumbertus of Provo.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson. After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir, "Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a terse and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

MORONI.

ADJUSTING WATER RIGHTS—Meadow View Creamery—Improvements.

Special Correspondence.

Moroni, Sanpete County, Aug. 2.—Registered at the Elizabeton House are Mr. E. H. Callister, deputy United States live stock inspector, and Mr. C. Gunnell, State engineer. The latter was taking measurements of the water of the Sanpitch River.

The water rights given by the Weber Stake will be held in this city tomorrow and Sunday.

The annual school conference of the Beaver Stake will be held in this city tomorrow and Sunday.

THE DROUGHT CONTINUES, and as the prospects for a good hay crop diminish, the price of hay increases. A number of people are buying hay, who have always had all that required of their own in times past.

The annual school conference of the Beaver Stake will be held in this city tomorrow and Sunday.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

Henry Peterson's zealous efforts in his endeavor to further the interest of the public schools of the Stake.

A happy response was made by Elder Peterson to the toast.

Also Eddie Bengtson, in a very amusing speech, referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organist began to play, the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

David O. McKay spoke with much humor to the toast "Matrimony," and as David is one of the bachelors, he knew how to describe the awful trials of married life.

Charles Ross responded to the toast "Our Home" and in a very happy, fluent speech full of wit and humor, thus introduced the various speakers of the evening.

Elder Bengtson led the choir in the singing of "America" and as the organ pipes burst.

The gathering was called to order about 10:30 o'clock, A. M., by the president of the church, Mr. H. Johnson.

After a prayer by the chaplain, an Icelandic song was rendered by the choir,

"Tívald er svö gætt sma godra vina funder," followed by a speech by the orator of the day, Mr. John Thorgerðurson who gave a brief and concise account of the origin of the Scandanavians from the time they left the north of the continent to the time of the first landing of the Icelanders in the year 930. The waters of the river are about to be legally established between the people of Moroni, against the claims of later settlers on the Sandpit river.

Meadow View Creamery.

The machinery of the Meadow View Creamery will soon be moved to a new frame building on the county road near Moreton, as four-fifths of the milk product is furnished from this town.

An auxiliary plant is established at Chester, The creamery is one of the oldest in the State, and during the spring and summer months it takes from eleven to fourteen hundred dollars per month for milk to the producers hereabouts. They have produced 16,000 pounds of cheese this season and now are handling about 6,000 pounds of milk per day. Last year their output was 80,000 pounds of butter. The output to Salt Lake and the Horn silver mine, the latter having supplied for years.

Rev. E. Evans spoke to the toast "Our Country" and referred to Henry Peterson, one of the members who was as active in furthering the cause of the school as in the highest praise of the school.

"Our Country" was the toast spoken by Rev. E. Evans, who, in very eloquent language, expressed the feelings of all present towards the mother of his country, and how he intended to launch out into the missionary field and how he would be missed at home.

Thomas E. McKay responded expressing his feelings of gratitude and the honor extended to him by his co-laborers and friends and expressed his desire to make a true ambassador for our country.

&lt;p