

came to light yesterday regarding the negotiating the bogus certificate of 100 shares of common of the Norfolk & Western Railway, discovery of which was made on Friday in the transfer office here, tends, it is said, to show that the certificate originated in Pitts-burg. The certificate appears to have been started there on a journey which took through brokerage concerns in Cleveland and Boston to this city. What makes the stock exchange authorities and the detectives only the more certain that Pittsburg people are in the plot is the fact that the name of a Pittsburg brokerage concern, which only recently has had a partner in New York, was forged as guaranteeing the indorsement of the certificate by "Thomas A. Harris," the ficilious "original holder," in whose name the cer-tificate was filled out.

According to the guaranty trust com-pany officials the transfer agents, it is the first successful attempt at counterfeiting a certificate made with all the skill of the expert manufacturers of securities, since the early eighties. Behind the plot, those acquainted with all the facts firmly believe, there will eventually be found a group of persons equipped with money and in-genuity. At least one of these persons was an expert lithographer with pa-tience as a predominant characteristic. Another member of the group, they believe was a man conversant with the business of dealing in securities and the rules of the New York exchanges. Still a third person was required with sufficient respectability and means to negotiate with brokers as a respectable customer.

That a group so constituted should stop after successfully negotiating one certificate, according to people concern-ed in running the thing down, is be-yond belief. It will be days before banks, trust companies and brokers all over the country can overhaul their strong boxes and find out how many have been actually put into circulation.

New York, Jan. 9 .-- Investigation incounterfeiting of certificates of of the Norfolk & Western railto the at the Guaranty Trust company yester-day, but officials interested were unable to estimate the amount of the fraud. The New York stock exchange has re-quested that banking houses throughout the country examine their holdings to ascertain if there are any fraudulent Norfolk & Western certificates among them. Returns from this examination will take some days, it is expected. A number of holders of the stock called at the Guaranty Trst company yester-day for the purpose of having their stock examined, but no additional coun-terfeits were discovered.

SALINA CUT-OFF.

The Old, Old Story Bobs up Screnely Once More.

The Emery County Progress says: Word comes to us from seemingly good authority that a surveying corps, number 20 men, is now at work at a point west of Cedar mountain. The corps was seen a few days ago by Coun-ty Surveyor Dave Woods, who made no a tempt to query any of the outfit. There were three transit men in the party. The only conclusion that can be de-rived from the presence of this corps of engineers and surveyors in that section is that the Rio Grande Railroad company is completing the survey par-tially made of the Castle Valley cutoff railroad three years ago, preparatory to complete the much talked of link in the Gould-Rockefeller great trans-con-tinental railroad system.

PROF. RADCLIFFE'S FUNERAL.

Was Held This Afternoon From the Family Residence.

The funeral of the late Prof. Thomas Radcliffe was held this afternoon from the residence, 888 east South Temple street, with Rev. E. I. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church officiating. As the funeral was private, mly the more intimate and immediate friends of the family were present; and they filled the house. The floral offer-ings were profuse and choice, and the service was very affecting. The inter-ment was at Mt. Olivet.

Prof. Radcliffe leaves a countless umber of friends who regret his departure; but it was discovered at the time of his death that life could not possibly have been prolonged, even had he been able to take the hoped for trip to sea level.
