

THEY WILL NOT GO TO WASHINGTON

McCrea, Mellen, Hughitt and Newman, For Whose Visit J. P. Morgan Had Arranged.

POSITION IS EMBARRASSING.

Arrangement Made Without Consulting All of Them—President Won't Ask Them to Come.

New York, March 15.—Messrs. McCrea, Mellen, Hughitt and Newman, the four railroad presidents for whose visit to the White House J. P. Morgan arranged before his departure for Europe, held a conference here today. The whole situation was conversed with great care and it was finally decided not to go to Washington.

It is understood that the reason for this conclusion is that the railroad officials did not feel that they had any proper hand in the railroad corporations to represent them. They felt that they could not assume the position of a self-constituted commission to formulate or present the views of the hundreds of railroad companies, which in turn are owned by thousands of shareholders. They recognized that the railroad managers of the United States are not themselves in perfect accord and that until some method could be adopted to secure a consensus of opinion a visit to the president would be idle. At the conclusion of the conference the four presidents left for their homes.

Thomas F. Ryan, when asked his opinion about the proposed meeting of the presidents and the heads of the great railroads, said:

"I believe that if Mr. Morgan's visit to the president is followed up as it should be by all of our great business interests, it will do much to help to bring about a better understanding of the president's attitude toward corporations is much misunderstood by the general public. It is unfair to assume that his desire to hamper the business interests of the country. I am, however, convinced that he wishes to enforce the laws as he has found them in the statute books and I think the sooner the business interests of the country conclude to go to work to aid the president in doing the different problems that confront him every day, the sooner confidence will be restored and the business of the country move on without interruption. So far as general business is concerned, the only real trouble to be found with it is that it is too active."

WILL NOT BE INVITED.

Washington, March 15.—At a late hour tonight President Roosevelt received word from the four railroad presidents who were suggested by J. P. Morgan, on the eve of his departure for Europe, as candidates for a visit to the president, that they had decided not to go. The president was glad to receive the news.

The embarrassing position in which the railroad magnates have been placed by the fact that Mr. Morgan arranged the conference with the president without consulting the officials for whom he asked the audience, it is President Roosevelt's policy to have been outlined so clearly in his messages to Congress and in public addresses, that a member of the interstate commerce commission today, "that it is possible that the railroad presidents have decided that their visit to the White House would be useless. President Hughitt, one of Mr. Roosevelt's personal friends, has on several occasions discussed the railroad situation with the president, and he knows that the administration has no desire to punish the "good railroad corporations" simply because the "bad railroad corporations" refuse to abide by the laws regulating the common carriers."

Gov. Deneen and Atty. Gen. Stead of Illinois, who were invited to Washington by the president, arrived tonight and will call at the White House tomorrow. While Gov. Deneen refuses to discuss the subject of his conference with the president, it can be stated that good authority that the Chicago & Alton deal and other disclosures brought out at the recent Harriman investigation will be discussed, and the situation in general will be gone over.

of all kinds was poured out on the streets here yesterday. In the presence of thousands of spectators, as a result of the conversion of K. E. Tenny, a saloon keeper. The barrels and bottles were smashed from a large dray and the saloon keeper conducted the smashing.

All the Protestant ministers of the city took a stand on the day and after the liquor had been destroyed the vast crowd joined in singing "America." Evangelist E. E. Violet made a stirring address, denouncing the liquor traffic and insisting that the saloons be voted out of Litchfield at the approaching municipal election.

NUNCIATURE PAPERS.

French Socialist Deputies Want Commission to Examine Them.

Paris, March 15.—L'Humanite this morning printed an article signed by Jaures, the leader of the Socialists in the chamber of deputies, saying that his party will offer a resolution in the chamber proposing the creation of a committee having judicial powers to inquire into and examine the papers sequestered at the time of the banishment of Mr. Monloup, the secretary of the radical union. M. Jaures declares that a full ventilation of the papers is necessary, as the partial knowledge of them has favored intrigues and has done much to injure the cause. He thinks there will be a unanimous vote in favor of his proposition.

AUSTRIAN VIEW OF JAPANESE-AMERICAN WAR.

Berlin, March 15.—Capt. Ignaz Rodic of the general staff of the Austrian-Hungarian army, has published a pamphlet entitled "The Prospects of the Future American-Japanese War." After discussing the armies and navies and theaters of war, he concludes by saying that the unprotected Pacific coast of the United States offers excellent chances for the success of the Japanese. He declares Japan is working feverishly to complete her military and naval equipments, adding that during the last few months 50,000 men have been at work day and night in the arsenals, turning out guns and small arms, and stating that the cartridge manufacturing at Tokyo, where in all about 1,000,000 cartridges are turned out daily 500 rifles. Capt. Rodic also asserted that the projectile works at Tokio make 600 shells per day for the fleet artillery.

HOW FORTUNE SMILED ON A PEDDLER BOY.

Chicago, March 15.—The story of how fortune smiled on a Portuguese peddler boy was related in the county court when Pedro Teixeira, 38 years old, was adopted by Mrs. Jennie Hutchens, 61 years old.

Mrs. Hutchens said Pedro had lived at her home nearly 20 years, and since the death of her husband, three years ago, has conducted the wholesale and retail cigar business left by Mr. Hutchens. Mrs. Hutchens told the court that her property amounted to more than $100,000. Judge Pond recommended that with so large an estate it would be wise for her to make out a will, designating Pedro as the executor. Pedro ran away from home among the hills to Portugal 20 years ago. When I crawled out of the hole of the steamer and made my first journey through the dismal quarters of New York city, the dreams I had about American liberty and the free country vanished," said Pedro yesterday. "I was without money, and started peddling cigars for a living. It did not take me long to pick up the language, and I came west to Chicago. I was here without a home or friends. In looking for a lodging place I saw a sign, 'Rooms for Rent,' and rented a cheap room. That was at Mr. and Mrs. Hutchens' house. They immediately took an interest in me and I got a job in Mr. Hutchens' cigar store. A few years ago I became a partner in the business."

He had no coat upon his back, but had one on his tongue, and Rock Mountain Test, it's said. Kept him from being hung. (Rad breaths.) Z. C. M. J. Drug Dept., 112-114 So. Main St.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE WITH COAL OPERATORS.

Washington, March 15.—An important conference which is likely to have far-reaching results was held here today between members of the interstate commerce commission and representatives of the coal operators and coal miners' organizations in southern Indiana and southern Illinois.

In addition to a complaint which, as a result of the conference, is to be filed formally with the commission, it is probable that the attorney-general will be urged to institute prosecutions against officials of the coal-carrying railroads in Indiana and Illinois for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Present at the conference were Judge Wood of the Indiana railroad commission; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; W. D. Ryan, secretary of the Illinois miners' organization; and several mine operators of both Indiana and Illinois. It has been announced by the coal-carrying railroads operating between southern Indiana and southern Illinois points and Chicago and the northwest that an advance of about 10 cents per ton will be made in the freight rates on coal. This advance, it is asserted, will affect seriously both the operators and the miners.

The mine operators and miners' officials desire to confer with the commission respecting the character of the complaint to be brought before the commission before the railroad commission of Indiana. Commissioners Prouty, Harlan and Lane, however, discussed the situation with the delegates. It was decided that as the matter involved interstate commerce, the commission had ample authority to entertain a formal complaint. This complaint will be filed soon. The delegation will confer with Atty. Gen. Bonaparte regarding starting an action against certain Indiana and Illinois railroads for a violation of the anti-trust act.

Mr. Mitchell and his associates also called at the White House and explained the situation in detail to the president.

WOMAN SLAYER WILL PLEAD "BRAIN STORM."

A case almost as sensational as the Thaw trial, which has reached its climax in New York, is promised for Chicago when Mrs. Flora McDonald, wife of "Mike" McDonald, for years known as the "king of gamblers," but now a railway owner and capitalist, is brought to the bar charged with the murder of Webster S. Guerin, an artist, in his studio. Mrs. McDonald's counsel will not deny that she killed Guerin, but will plead justification under the mysterious code of the "unwritten law." They will claim for her that she was loaded to insane desperation by Guerin's blackmailing schemes, which they will say he carried on for years against Mrs. McDonald, threatening her with exposure of her relations if she refused his extortionate demands. Mrs. McDonald was the divorced wife of Samuel Barkley, a baseball player, and "Mike" McDonald has also divorced. He is unwavering in his devotion to his wife and has said that within two weeks of the shooting he had given her $25,000, the bulk of which, he asserts, was given to Guerin to keep him from exposing their illicit love to the husband. Prior to her first marriage she was known on the variety stage as Flora Feldman and was considered one of the most beautiful women in that branch of the theatrical profession.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

A delightful affair of last night was the reception and dancing party given by Company C, First Infantry of the National Guard in celebration of the anniversary of its mustering into the service, the new regimental command, Col. C. J. Plummer being guest of honor. The hall was decorated with the national colors, palms and flowers, and the entire affair was a success.

St. Patrick's day was celebrated by the Gordon academy students last night in a dancing party at the hall which was adorned with a profusion of green flags while shamrocks were the emblems for the programs. The high school orchestra furnished a fine program of music for the dancing.

Miss Teresa Radcliffe entertained about 40 friends last night at her home, the amusement being cards, and prizes awarded the winner. The rooms were bright with carnations and roses and refreshments were served.

Miss Estelle Clinton entertained her card club last night.

Miss Myla Kenworthy was guest of honor today at a pretty children's party given by Miss Mildred Hall.

Mrs. J. Kenworthy and family will leave shortly to join Mr. Kenworthy in Pueblo, Colo., where they are to make their home. They will leave a host of friends here who will regret their departure.

Mr. H. L. A. Culmer lectures to-night at the meeting of the Archaeological society on the wonders of San Juan county. Mrs. R. E. Little entertains the society at her home on First South street.

Mrs. Joseph Georgehan was hostess at luncheon today followed by a matinee party.

The circus given by the training class of the university yesterday to raise funds for swings and other feature for an ideal playground was a successful affair, including a number of original "stunts," a grand ring performance, slideshows and all the fascinating features of a regular circus. FINE HOME MADE BLOOD MEDICINE

Cures the Kidneys and Makes them Filter Poisons from Blood.

MIX THIS UP YOURSELF.

Don't Cost Much, Acts Gently and Cleans the Blood of Impurities.—Try It Anyway.

A leading journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following: Fluid Extract of Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well and take a teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known local druggist who is familiar with this prescription states that it is harmless, being composed of vegetable ingredients which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down, debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Extract Dandelion works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little. They may be procured from any good pharmacist and mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

The Kargon to clean the kidneys and vitalize them so they can clean the blood. Sarsaparilla to make new rich blood and Dandelion to tone the stomach, clean the liver and make it active and relieve constipation is the way the prescription acts and so mildly and so gently that one does not consider they are taking a medicine.

evidence and prizes were awarded the winners in the contest. About 40 guests were present.

Mrs. W. H. Tibbals and Mrs. J. T. Buxwell will leave Tuesday for an European trip.

Mrs. June Sadler Donnell gives a masquerade dancing party today for the pupils in her dancing classes. The evening school of the Ladies' literary club house.

The regular evening concert will take place in the Manitou park tomorrow night and a program of vocal and instrumental music will be given by the Arion quartet led by Mr. Will E. Phillips, who will also sing two solos. The other participants will be Miss Muir, M. A. J. Brain, Mr. Jack Rigby and Mr. Fred Sanford.

Dentistry Revolutionized By the Wonderful New Alveolar Method

Does away entirely with bridge work and plate work. Saves patients time, money and pain. Cures Pycorrhea and other gum diseases heretofore thought incurable.

Three years ago—before a clinic comprising the most eminent men in the profession—a demonstration of a most remarkable new invention that has already revolutionized a certain procedure in dentistry, was given. Dentists admitted then that they would have to abandon many of their pet methods for the invention—discovery of the Rex Dental company, whom are not only dentists, but graduate physicians as well.

No dentist, no doctor, could have solved this epoch-making problem, but took a combination of both, and the doctors of this company were fortunate in having studied in both fields. Europe is very alert to the advancement of dentistry, which is still more so in its infancy over there, and owes whatever progress it has made to American ingenuity, for Americans are the leading dentists of Europe.

The government of many countries have granted us special privileges, because they recognized the idea as a decided and original step for the advancement of the dental profession.

Leading Dentists Approve It.

The Rex Dental company invention is a radical and most remarkable one, and yet so simple that the wonder is that some one has not thought of it before.

The first statement that can be made for it—and that in itself is remarkable enough—is that it does away entirely with bridge work, which, as is generally known, is the method universally used today as a substitute for rubber plates.

This is done by fastening the artificial teeth to a good tooth on either side.

As all who have tried it, know, it is very, very painful procedure, so much so that but few among the many who would like to have their teeth saved can summon the courage to do so by the bridge work method.

The Rex Dental company invention, as has been said, does away with bridge work entirely. But aside from the torture of having bridge work done it was a very unsatisfactory process to the dentists, as complaints from patients was constant.

This was seldom the fault of the dentist, for he knew all along that bridge work was a temporary expedient, but there was no other way, and nothing better had yet been found, and rather than lose the patient, each dentist, of course, performed the operation.

The worst feature of bridge work is that in the course of some months the fastenings give way, the gums become suppurated or inflamed, the teeth come out, and the mouth is in worse shape than before.

The invention of the Rex Dental company will also do away with the wearing of false teeth on a plate, which is a very painful and uncomfortable method that it can hold a plate, and when it is considered that plates become foul from the lodgment of food, that they grow red and sore, and that they interfere with clear enunciation, that they are easily detected, that they are liable to fall out under excitement or during sleep, that they inflame and weaken the gums, and that they are a menace and disfigurement at all times, it is small wonder that the leading dentists of the country have hailed the Rex Dental company invention as a profession that has been at a standstill for progress.

By the Rex Dental company's system one need wear a plate or false teeth.

Clinical Demonstration Successful.

It is no less valuable in the case of false teeth than in the case of natural teeth. Many persons are afflicted with the disease—some dentists say it is constitutional, but the Rex Dental company is able to prove that it is local—which causes the teeth to fall out of their sockets until, in some instances, there is not a tooth left in the mouth.

By the old method the remaining teeth were pulled out, and the unfortunate one was compelled to wear a plate of false teeth forever. By the Rex Dental company's method, the teeth that remain can be made as sound as they were in youth, and by wonderful dexterity in the way of device, the teeth that are gone can be replaced, each tooth distinct and solid, so that it is no more possible to take them out than it is to take natural, healthy teeth out; and it is all arranged so correctly that no one can tell it.

In fact, so perfect is the work of the Rex Dental company, in several instances where one or more natural teeth were in the set, has defied dentists of long experience to tell the one from the other. They could not do it.

This new discovery has been most sensationally successful in that most stubborn of all dental diseases, known as Pycorrhea, or a discharge of pus from the gums.

The dentists have heretofore despaired of ever being able to cure a condition of the teeth so much, the theory of the profession that it is impossible to do so, as this disease causes inflammation and swelling of the gums, followed by loosening and falling of the teeth, is rendered so much importance is attached to the Rex Dental company's invention.

A system that can cure with the most difficult cases that dentistry has to contend with, and prove it to the satisfaction of the leaders of the profession, must of course, have a special and equally sure way of coping with such conditions as decay, loose teeth, irregular teeth, and all other conditions that require the attention of an expert and learned dentist who has achieved more in their profession than any other man.

The Public Will Benefit.
That the majority of men will give up their lives to laboratory work, Dr. Rex has been so engrossed in furthering his new method of dentistry that he had in charge of interesting a prominent and wealthy professional man who organized a company and purchased Dr. Rex's patent.

This company at once fitted up the most magnificent dental office in existence, located then and now in the Hughes building, Denver.

This office at the present time employs a large force of skilled operators and laboratory men.

From the first patients come from all parts of the United States to have their work done, and the Denver office up to this date has successfully treated over 5,000 cases, a large proportion of which had been given up by other dentists before coming to that office.

A year later the Rex Dental company opened an office in the Mechanics American Bank building, St. Louis, and Central block, Pueblo.

The finest offices then and now in both cities. The business was equally as successful as in Denver.

The company has received many inquiries from the West, from people who wished to have work done, but who are unable to do so on account of the great distance to the Denver office. That is why they decided to open the Salt Lake office. The result was the opening of our magnificent offices, Suites 7, 8 and 9, Mercantile Annex, over Walker's store.

The Salt Lake office is equally as well furnished and equipped as either Denver, St. Louis or Pueblo, and the work is done with the same skill and have the highest skill.

It may be said right here that these offices should not be confounded with dental institutes, parlors, and the kind who are unable to do so on account of the great distance to the Denver office. That is why they decided to open the Salt Lake office. The result was the opening of our magnificent offices, Suites 7, 8 and 9, Mercantile Annex, over Walker's store.

Only the highest class of dental work of every kind will be performed. It is impossible to get the benefit of these inventions except by going to one of the four Rex Dental company offices. The Rex Dental company will be glad to have persons who are in accordance with the above conditions and let them make an examination. They will not oblige themselves by doing this.

Our method will do away with bridge work, which is a very painful and uncomfortable dental procedure anyway. It will save falling teeth, cure diseases of the gums, straighten teeth, prevent the wearing of plates, and in other ways really make a permanent and lasting, and do mankind a permanent good. We are physicians as well as dentists, and we know that bad teeth are often an inheritance, and the only way to cure them is by going to one of our offices and let them make an examination. They will not oblige themselves by doing this.

To anyone unacquainted with dentistry it would be difficult to clearly explain our system, though its application is so simple that it has startled my colleagues. If you know of anyone whose teeth are in an apparently hopeless condition, or if they have but one or two teeth, bring them into our office and we will show you how it is done. You will wonder why some one did not think of it before.

Remarkable Cure of Pycorrhea.
A middle-aged woman, Mrs. Shaw, who has been a resident of Denver for many years, had only three teeth left. Her gums were simply putrid, so much so that no dentist would ever think of making a set of false teeth for her gums could not stand it. She had, of course, Pycorrhea. She had made the rounds of the best dentists and all of the clinics in the city, but they gave her up. We applied our system and she has a full set of teeth today, and without a plate or anything of that kind. We also cured her Pycorrhea, and you could not tell them from the others. This particular case dates back six months, and the lady is in perfect health today, eats everything and does whatever she pleases. People who have sound teeth. We have written a treatise on our new method of dentistry, covering the care of the teeth, all of which should prove valuable to the public at large. All who wish a copy should write for it now, addressing Rex Dental company, Mercantile Annex, over Walker's store, Salt Lake City, Utah, suites 7, 8, and 9, and a copy will be forwarded free of charge.

Ask regarding the use of this system by other dentists. The Rex Dental company said: "It cannot legally be done, as the Government is the proprietor of it. However, we are willing to take the cases that reputable dentists cannot handle satisfactorily, and will, of course, make professional arrangements with each. We are extremely anxious to secure the most difficult cases and no reputable dentist will have any hesitancy acquainting us with whatever other people do on our new office."

Consultation and careful examination absolutely free.

The Rex Dental company's book, "Alveolar Dentistry," is one of the most remarkable works on dental science ever written. It is written in language a layman can easily understand. Will you send it? It is free and will solve the new teeth problem.
