

CASE OF POUREN, RUSSIAN REFUGEE

U. S. Government Will Not Send Him Back to be Tried for Political Offense.

MAY REVISE TREATY OF 1832.

Has Asked for Complete Revision and Amendment of Same—No Reply Yet Received.

New York, Oct. 21.—A letter from Secretary of State Root to Jacob H. Schiff of New York was mailed here today, dealing with the attitude of the government in securing equality of treatment for American citizens visiting Russia, and also explaining the government's position in the case of Jan Janoff Pouren, the Russian refugee now detained in New York city by the federal court. Mr. Root's letter brings out for the first time that the United States has asked Russia for a complete revision and amendment of the treaty of 1832, which provides reciprocal rights of residence and travel on the part of the citizens of the two countries.

In his letter Secretary Root says: "Of course this government does not for a moment contemplate sending Pouren or any one else back to Russia or to any other country to be tried for a political offense."

"An extradition case, however, is a judicial proceeding in which testimony is taken before a committing magistrate, in accordance with the law, and in which the magistrate decides upon the evidence before him. His decision then comes before the state department for review. In this case the decision of the magistrate was in favor of Pouren, and it appeared, when the law officers of the department examined the record, that no substantial evidence had been produced before the magistrate to show that the offenses charged against Pouren were political so that if the state department had acted promptly in the case, it would have been obliged to decide that the magistrate's decision was correct upon the evidence before him, and to issue a warrant for Pouren's extradition."

"In view, however, of statements afterward brought to the attention of the department tending to show that Pouren was in fact a political offender, and not an ordinary criminal, instead of an adverse decision being made a casual inquiry was made by the department, and upon its appearing that there was substantial evidence before the magistrate, to show Pouren's acts were political, the magistrate was directed to reopen the case and give Pouren's counsel an opportunity to introduce such evidence, which will prove the delay in deciding the case, far from being injurious to Pouren, has been altogether favorable to him, and for the purpose of giving him an opportunity to prove his real defense, which he failed to prove originally."

"During an argument before Commissioner Shields on the question of reopening the Pouren case today, Pouren rushed at Commissioner Shields, and the commissioner is now without jurisdiction, having once decided the case. Congressman Herbert Parsons, counsel for Pouren, urged the ground that reopening the case would be a violation of the law, and the commissioner said he was inclined to proceed with it, but would give Mr. Coudert until tomorrow to prepare a brief."

Greer. The director of the bureau says that the output was larger than in any previous year in its history, notwithstanding the performance of the work under adverse circumstances. The bureau also prepared and delivered 75,666,333 sheets of postage stamps.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA.

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash.

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure. Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but they are absolutely no sufferer from eczema who use this simple wash and did not find it immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. Instead of trying to compound washes of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., it is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with it has given us great confidence in its merits. ## ENGLAND'S UNEMPLOYED

Is a Serious Matter, Discussed in the Commons. Premier Asquith Unfolding Government Plan.

London, Oct. 21.—The very serious matter of the unemployed in England came up for discussion in the house of commons this afternoon, but a larger dose of money than last year and the extending of the naval ship-building program were the only expedients proposed by Premier Asquith in his unfolding of the government's plan to meet the situation. The gravity of the case arising from the fact that hundreds of thousands are on the verge of starvation through lack of work was fully recognized by the premier, but he could not undertake, in the legislative field, to grapple with the permanent cause of the unemployment. He said, he was prepared to provide a fund of $1,500,000 to help the unemployed and the admiralty was giving out orders for the construction of nine torpedo boat destroyers and five unarmored cruisers, to cost a total of $12,500,000 two months earlier than had been originally intended. The premier also announced that the government was ready to take on 24,000 men for the winter training in the special reserves.

The proposal quite fails to meet the demands of the labor members of the house.

$100,000 REWARD. Would gladly be paid for a cure by many people who are afflicted with rheumatism, yet if they only knew it they can be cured by a few bottles of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and the price is only 25c. and $1.00 per bottle. ## CONGRATULATIONS FROM KING EDWARD

New York, Oct. 22.—Congratulations by cablegram from King Edward added distinction to the bicentennial of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church of Richmond, Scotch Island. The cablegram read: "To the Bishop of New York—I am commanded by the king to express his gratification for the tribute you are paying to his ancestor, Queen Anne, and the hope that the same Providence that has followed St. Andrew's church for the past 200 years may continue for the future to come."

A thousand people, including several church dignitaries, attended special services at the church last night. The presiding bishop expressing regret at the inability of the writers to be present, and containing prayers for the welfare of St. Andrew's were read.

The church was chartered by Queen Anne of England in 1708, having been established for six years prior to this as a missionary church. The original communion service, altar cloth and Bible installed in the church at its organization, are still used in the service.

Following an address by Bishop Greer, two tablets in honor of Queen Anne and the original 12 founders of the church were unveiled.

WAS P. D. ETTER MURDERED?

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—The body of P. D. Etter, a well known mining man of Los Angeles, was found on a trail near Murrells bar, Honduras, Central America, on Sept. 20 last, with a gunshot wound in his head. So far as is known no one was present when the American died, and the body was not found for 36 hours.

This news was brought to Los Angeles by Dwight E. Clough, who found Etter was one of a party of four Los Angeles prospectors who left San Francisco for Murrells bar on Aug. 12 on the steamer San Jose.

EYES OF NATIONS TURNED TO EUROPE

Situation in Far East a Great Setback to Efforts at Disarmament.

SHIPBUILDERS ARE ACTIVE.

Indications of Business Revival Throughout the Country—To Work for Parcels Post.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—While the United States is not in any manner mixed up in the European situation, the administration is watching all the developments with the closest attention. All the press dispatches which come in over the wires referring to the condition of affairs in the Balkans and in Europe generally, are promptly transmitted to the White House and the president and his cabinet hold a great many informal conferences, at which these dispatches are carefully considered and discussed. The general opinion among those here best informed in diplomatic matters appears to be that some arrangement will be made which will result in a settlement of this most difficult of all problems without recourse to war. Still it is realized that the situation is delicate and that the most careful diplomacy will be necessary to prevent a conflict. That such a conflict would be a disaster to the world is a fact which is not likely to be forgotten. The United States can be drawn into the matter, and it is hardly probable that the United States should advise which would make it desirable for this country to offer its services as a mediator, as was done in the case of the war between Russia and Japan.

DISCOURAGING TO PEACE.

Whatever the outcome of the troubles in the Balkans may be, it is regarded as certain that all efforts to bring about a disarmament agreement between the powers is now useless. On the contrary, it is more probable that the entire embargo will be followed by an expenditure of enormous sums of money in military and naval preparation. England will, of course, attempt to maintain its supremacy as a naval power, and Germany will be likely to stretch her credit to the limit in order that she may not take a backward step.

SHIPBUILDERS BENEFITED.

Russia has been quietly rebuilding her navy for the past several years, while Austria is known to be in negotiations with shipbuilders with a view to increasing her naval strength. It is therefore considered quite probable that the United States, while in no way involved, will materially benefit from the volcanic action among the states of the near east. American shipbuilders have already taken initial steps towards securing orders for the building of a new fleet of battleships, and it is hoped that the American shipyards will before many months, begin the construction of numerous vessels of war for European governments. During the troubles between Japan and Russia, American firms contracted for a large number of submarine boats, and it is certain that if there should be hostilities that some of these little American vessels will be heard from. In any event, American manufacturers of war material will not let the opportunity slip by to obtain some of the business which will result from the troubles in eastern Europe.

BUSINESS REVIVING.

From all over the United States come indications of reviving business. This is particularly true of that great steel country stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland, where six months ago coal smoke stacks were belching forth from Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Niles, New Castle and Cleveland comes word today of the employment of thousands of men who for months have had little or no work. The manager of one big manufacturing corporation in Youngstown, O., in a letter to its representatives here, this week, says the situation is very much brighter.

"Business is certainly picking up; trucks are coming in, and our force is almost at its full strength." This is but an indication of what appears to be going on in all the manufacturing centers, and within the next four weeks, when the political pot shall have stopped, and the manufacturing conditions will be almost normal.

FOR PARCELS POST.

There are indications in the air that a vigorous fight will be made in Congress to establish a session to secure the establishment of the parcels post in this country. The fact that Postmaster-General Meyer has initiated several parcels-post treaties which have enabled this country to have a 12-pound package, by mail to Europe, has furnished the advocates of the parcels-post proposition a very effective weapon with which to proceed to obtain their desires from Congress. As it is absurd to think that there is any justice in allowing a shipment of a 12-pound package, by mail from San Francisco to London or Berlin, while the same shipper is prevented by law from shipping a like package from San Francisco to New York. The advocates of parcels-post are preparing to be heard and the opponents of the proposition are going to be equal to the advocates. It is not true that this proposition comes entirely from the express companies, for the most active among the opponents are the small dealers in the western states, who fear that the big mail order houses will be able to ruin their business, if given any better facilities for supplying their trade, than they have now. But that parcels-post as well as postal savings bank will some day be provided for, is the firm opinion of practically all the officers of the postoffice department.

SANG FOR PRESIDENT.

President Roosevelt is as cosmopolitan in his musical taste as he is in sports and amusements generally. He cheers "Die Wacht am Rhein" impartially with the "Marseillaise," and this week he had another thrill. A number of gentlemen from Pennsylvania, of Welsh extraction, called to pay their respects to the executive and their introduction mentioned the fact that there were some excellent musicians in the party. That was enough for Mr. Roosevelt. He led the way to the music room and within five minutes, Dr. Jones was seated at the piano and Mr. Phillips was singing the March of the Men of Harlech. That old song which caused "Rhine Knights and women" of the Saxon army to bite the dust before Cambria got a prince which she didn't want, stirred the president again. He insisted on repetition and then some more. No man showed the effect of music more readily than the chief magistrate, and a stirring battle song in any language is certain to result in real applause from Mr. Roosevelt.

CHILD CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER TROLLEY CAR

New York, Oct. 22.—Reeling over and over to herself the little verse which she was to have spoken before her class in school today, and clutching in her hands a 5-cent piece, the last coin of her mother's little store, with which she was to buy milk for her baby brother, Marian Meade, 9 years old, ran in front of a trolley car last night and was crushed to death. For some time Marian's father has been out of work and for several days the family had been in want of food. Yesterday agents of a charitable society found the family and furnished food for Mrs. Meade and Marian. The last nickel in the family store was given to Marian when she sent her for milk for the baby. No one knows just how the accident happened, but when a policeman called for volunteers and a hundred men put their shoulders to the car and turned it over on the side, there was no life left in the mangled little body underneath the trucks. The nickel was still clutched in the little dead hand.

Angry men and women made a demonstration against the motorman of the car but he was rescued by the police and locked up on a charge of homicide.

BREATHING PLACES FOR CHICAGO'S CHILDREN

Chicago, Oct. 22.—As a cure for criminality in Chicago, Alderman William E. Lever last night urged that the municipal government set aside each year a sum of money to be used in condemning houses unfit to live in, razing the structures and making breathing spots for children to play in. This idea was proposed in the course of an address on "The Human Interest in Municipal Government," at a dinner of the Chicago Credit Men's association. In the course of his speech he proposed that every house in the city that is unfit to live in should be torn down. He said the building of 10 playgrounds in every ward, and the appointment of a municipal commission to uproot and tear out the evil condition along the west side of the river due to poor housing.

"Our failure in municipal government up to this time in Chicago is due to the fact that we have neglected the human side of things," he said. "It costs the city of Chicago about $15,000,000 every year to handle criminals. This amount is not spent in any curing of crime. We must take this latter idea up if we want to be a happy city."
