THE PULSE OF LABOR. New Eight-Hour Law in Arizona

May Cause Friction. In a recent issue of that paper, the editor of the Mining and Scientific Press, reviews the labor situation throughout the country and finds that nowhere in the mining states of the west is there any friction of consequence between the miners and operators, except in one instance; but goes on to say that the outlook in Arizona and California is not promising at the present time and offers a word of caution. The paper says:

"There are at present said to be more idle men in industrial lines than at any time since the coal strike of 1902. The number is estimated at more than 50,000, mostly in the states east of the Rocky mountains. On the Pacific coast there are a few hundred railroad and other laborers idle-on strike. In the mines of the west, however, there is no disturbance of moment, except in the coal mines on Vancouver Island.

"In Arizona the eight-hour law passed by the last territorial legislature be-comes operative June 1, and the developments of the immediate future are looked forward to with some concern by mine managers and owners in that ers should they attempt to insist upon putting the law into active operation, but miners throughout the territory have been notified that beginning June I wages will be reduced 25 to 50 cents per day, the present rate being $2.75 and $3.50. This step was taken at a recent meeting of the Mae Operators' association, presumably in anticipation of the proposed eight-hour day. The conven-tion of the Western Federation of Min-ers, in session at Denver, Colo., has instructed delegates from Arizona to ac cept no reduction in wages, consequent-ly the outlook for continued prosperity in Arizona is not bright.

"In California the miners in Calaveras and Amador by the recent strike se-cured a nine-hour day for 16 hours' pay, and it is now stated to be the intention to demand an eight-hour day for the same pay. They are in the meantime strengthening their organization, and notices have been posted in the several mining towns and at the mines, in the English, Italian and Austrian languages, directing all men employed in or about the mines who have not al-ready joined the union to at once affiliate themselves with some labor organization, or they will be boycotted as "There are few of the mines in the district affected by this movement that can afford any additional expense, and a demand for still shorter hours would indoubtedly result in closing some of the mines of the district, with the fur-ther probability that in the case of some of them they would not again be re-opened by the present generation. "In view of the present situation, it is hoped that wiser counsel will prevail and that the miners will see the inadvisability of adding to the burden expense under which these mines are already struggling."

HIGH GRADE ORE. Hundreds of Tons of Milling Product At New Century.

The main shaft of the New Century nine, one of the Old Imperial company's properties, is still sinking on high grade shipping ore, and both value and size of ledge remains equal to that opened up last week, says the Cherry Creek Miner. Hundreds of tons of milling ore are on the company's dumps, while their ore bins are filling with very high grade gold-silver ore, too rich for local milling and which will probably be shipped to Salt Lake for smeller treatment. Senator F. J. Cannon, one of the owners of these mines, is on the ground every day, and is greatly pleased with his growing bonanza. New ore bins are growing bonanza. now being erected.

AT THE NEW STATE. Con. Jefferson Offices May Return To This City.

Out near the entrance to Little Cottonwood canyon a good force of men is at work at the New State property, which was recently equipped with a new steam hoist. The mine is now well prepared to carry on a vigorous cam paign, which is the program for th summer. The workings disclose a good snowing of ore, but not as yet in ex-tensive quantities. The indications are very favorable, however, for the making of a mine.

The New State property is now controlled by the Consolidated Jefferson Mining company, and consequently directs the affairs of the mine. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Consolidated Jefferson is scheduled to take place in Omaha on the 11th Inst., and will be attended by S. B. Tuttle and H. B. Windsor, local shareholders, who will make an effort to have the headquarters of the company removed from Omaha to this city.
