That's the dope of his honor, Judge Boyle, on the little matter of histicurfs coming up between Aurelio Herrera, the kuller, and Battling Nelson, the other one, says the Butler News.
"The way they frame up to me.' said his honor, after having another look at the little Mexican's preliminary work yesterday. "The should both win."
"Me, too,' said Chief Mulholland, who always chaperons the jurist to see that he doesn't become over-excited.
"I've hen told,' continued his honor, "that Nelson lacks the somoient swipe that Herrera carries around with him. I asked Mose Lafontise about it. Mose wasn't looking happy when I asked him. Ssays he 'Don't believe that junk, your honor, He's not guilty. He has it in both hands and it is always cocked. The only rest I've been getting is when he has put me to sleep. It looked like that to me, too, when I saw him go. He is the most murderous trainer I've yet seen."
Both litte felows are rounding rapidly into marvelous shape. Nelson's most structures that acandle after his most strending stunts leave him flushed happy and bubbling over with enthusiasm, and with his wind undisturbed. Herrera's sturdy, plodding work has brought his most strendows the acandle after his most strendows stunts with Brother Mauro.
