NEW YORK, 30.—Some months ago a discovery was made that the attic of the school house at Bayside, Long Island, was used as the rendezvous of thieves. Among other evidences found were clothing, bones of fowls, &c. No trace of those who occupied the place, however, was found. Last week the trustees of the school having decided to make extensive repairs to the building, the workmen commenced, and were astonished to find that the basement was now surreptitiously occupied as the attic had been before. On removing the melodeon which stood near the Teacher's desk, they discovered what appeared to be a trap door cut through the floor boards so neatly as hardly to attract notice. They lifted it with some difficulty, and found that it was held in place by a rope, at the end of which hung a stone weighing about sixty pounds. The trap opened into an excavation under the flooring four and five feet in depth, the earth from which had been piled up between the beams of the flooring. There were found sugar, leadstone, sixty books stolen from the school library, blankets, boots, pots and kettles, and many other articles. The hole showed traces of recent occupancy, as the blankets were fresh and some of the utensils had been recently used. Who the persons are that occupied the place is at present unknown, but there is suspicion that one of them is a notorious offender, named Jeff. Knight, who several years ago had a hiding place under the roof of Zion Church at Little Neck, and who was arrested and sent to state Prison. His time expired some months ago, and he has since been seen about his old quarters.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH IN THE COUNTRY.

NEWTON.

NEWTON, Cache County,
July 25, 1876.

Our celebration of the 24th of July passed off very pleasantly, the usual routine being observed, to wit: firing salutes at daybreak, flag-raising at sun-rise, citizens meeting at ten o'clock in school-house, &c. Order of programme as follows—singing by choir, prayer by Chaplain John Griffin, singing by choir and oration by Bishop Littlewood, which was very spirited and interesting, reviewing the history of past events of the exodus of Latter-day Saints from their homes in the east and their arrival in Salt Lake Valley in 1847, contrasting the past with the present in a manner that was very edifying and instructive to all present. Speeches by Wm. H. Griffin, A. P. Welchman and Sister Parsons, were given, the latter an address to the young ladies, exhorting them to be simple and neat in their dress and living, and above all to be kind to mother and obedient to parents.

In the afternoon sports and amusements of various kinds were engaged in by all who felt so disposed.

About 3.30 o'clock, we formed a procession of Sunday School scholars and marched through the principal streets of Newton to the school-house, after which about 105 of our juveniles sat down to tables prepared by the committee, and partook of refreshments provided by parents, after which a few pounds of candy were distributed among them. This caused the little fellows to feel happy and glad and will be a means of impressing on their minds the purpose and objects of celebrating the 24th of July.

At 8 o'clock in the evening the choir gave an entertainment, consisting of songs, recitations, dialogues, &c., which reflected well on the leader and his assistants of our choir.

No drunkenness, profanity, or other improper conduct was indulged in by any one throughout the whole proceedings, and at the close of the entertainment all retired in peace.

Officers of the day—Marshal, J. N. Beck; Chaplain, J. Griffin; Orator, Wm. F. Littlewood. Committee of Arrangements—A. C. Clark, A. P. Welchman, Jos. Wilson, Elizabeth Griffin, Mary Larsen.

—Ezra Dawson, of Indianapolis, shot and dangerously wounded A. S. Foster, a livery stable keeper, for the alleged ruin of his (Foster's) daughter, aged 15.

—A Washington paper says, "Mormonism has successfully defied the advance of civilization, the Rev. John P. Newman and the legislative ingenuity of Congress."

S. A. GRANT & Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, desire agents to sell their manufactures on the Pacific Slope, and offer extra inducements to those who are out of employment, and who desire a first-class business with good profits. w27
