

BIG KICK FROM THE SOUTHLAND

Bp. Warren Candler Doesn't Want It Taken in by Rockefeller's Hookworm Commission.

SAYS SOME BITTER THINGS.

Declares Oil King Would "Take Charge Of Both Our Hands and Our Stomachs."

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Regarding the $1,000,000 gift of John D. Rockefeller for the investigation and cure of the "hookworm" disease, Bishop Warren Candler of the Southern Methodist church said yesterday:

"It is to be hoped that our people will not be taken in by Mr. Rockefeller's vermin fund and hookworm commission. The habit of stinging out the south for all sorts of reforms, remedies and enlightenment is not for our benefit, and the too ready acceptance of these things upon the part of some of our people is not to our credit. Mr. Rockefeller would take charge of both our heads and our stomachs and purge our brains of ignorance and our bowels of worms."

"For some reason, self-appointed philanthropists have taken it upon themselves to discover and proclaim against conditions in the south, calculated to create further prejudice against the states and people of the south, so as to divert immigration and to alarm the resident population."

"A grant deal of exertion has been required in the past to establish the falsity of the many slanderous charges made against the south and this section has not yet recovered fully from them. Recently an outcry was made that the southern people had become the victims of a deadly disease known as 'pellagra,' which was charged to the use of Indian corn. The disease has been traced to southern Europe where it is common, and later information goes to show that it was imported in the persons of immigrants."

"The pellagra panic having failed of the expected result, now comes a howl about the hookworm. The south is represented to be filled with a wretched brood of dirt eaters. Who that knows the south can for a moment believe this? It is time the southern people had begun to resist this officious disposition to take care of them which certain parties are addicted to. Donations may easily, as dum-dum bullets, wound where they hit and leave a mortal poison in the hole they make after being received. We are certainly able

Valuable Recipe When Afflicted With Rheumatism or Backache, Also Splendid Tonic.

At the first sign of rheumatic pains or backache, or a feeling of being generally run down and weakened, the following simple prescription should be used:

"One ounce compound syrup Sarsaparilla; one ounce Tonic compound; half pint high grade whisky. Mix them and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time. The bottle must be well shaken each time."

Any druggist will supply these ingredients and they are easily mixed.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—Mrs. SAM'L LEE, 3223 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided.
Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA V. HENRY, R. F. D. 5.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

to take care of and to cure our hookworms, without Mr. Rockefeller's million-dollar dose of verminage."

TURKEY WILL SELL FIVE BATTLESHIPS

Washington, Nov. 1.—American iron and steel manufacturers have received requests from the Turkish government to submit offers on one of the most notable piles of scrap iron ever put up for sale, nearly one-half of the Ottoman navy, as it appears on paper. One Nov. 11, bids will be received by the navy for the sale of five battleships. Their construction made Turkey the third naval power in the world, their destruction at a time when that country ranks near the bottom of the list of naval powers, is a story by the new regime to regain the empire's lost prestige. New ships will take the places of the discarded ones.

The battleships offered for sale are the Asiatik, the Mahmudieh, the Osmanieh, the Orkanieh and the Hamadieh. The first four were constructed in England in 1864 and 1865, while the Hamadieh was not launched until 1885. The ships are of one type, being of 6,600 tons displacement and bearing 16-inch armor. They carry 8-inch guns and had a speed of 14 knots an hour.

Sir Richard Gable of the British navy, together with a number of subordinates, are now in Constantinople, engaged in re-organizing the Turkish navy. They have decided that the policy of pretense must end and at the same time the names of the five vessels are stricken from the list of battleships as ineffective, and will be sold to the highest bidder in junk. Dealers throughout the world have been invited to bid for them.

WEST POINT WILL CUT OUT FOOTBALL

Death of Cadet Eugene A. Byrne Cause of Col. Hugh A. Scott's Action.

KILLED IN HARVARD GAME.

College Authorities View the Case in Different Lights, Some for, Some Against.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Because of the death of Eugene A. Byrne of Buffalo, N. Y., no more football will be played by the West Point eleven this year.

This statement was made by Col. Hugh L. Scott, superintendent of the United States military academy, late tonight, after a consultation with the authorities of the academy on the death of Byrne as a result of injuries received in the Harvard game yesterday.

Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, who was injured in yesterday's football game between the Army team and Harvard, died early today. His father, former Chief of Police Byrne of Buffalo, was with him when he died.

The tragedy has brought such poignant grief to officers and cadets alike that the end of football at West Point and Annapolis is predicted by many.

Young Byrne expired at sunrise. Brave as was the young soldier's fight against death, it was hopeless from the start. Buried beneath a mass of struggling players in the Harvard-Army game yesterday, his neck was twisted and broken by the weight of the crushing pile above him.

Only the immediate resort to artificial respiration kept the boy from almost instant death, for he did not draw a natural breath after receiving the fatal shock. Surgeons were unable to make a complete examination last night. But X-ray photographs taken after his death revealed a dislocation between the first and second cervical vertebrae. This caused the natural process of breathing to cease and the artificial means of respiration resorted to was all that kept the injured cadet alive until today. No autopsy was held.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in the Catholic chapel at the post, where the body was taken. A cadet guard has been posted at the chapel and details of young soldiers will watch over the body until after the services tomorrow. The funeral will be conducted with full military honors. Monsignor C. C. O'Feefe, in charge of the Catholic chapel in this vicinity, will officiate.

When the cadet corps and the official family of the academy had recovered from the first shock of the announcement that Byrne's injuries had terminated fatally, the effect which the accident might have upon the remainder of the football schedule immediately came to mind. The sentiment hardly had time to crystallize today, but more than one opinion was voiced that the casualty would result in curtailing the remainder of the season, if not the cancellation of the entire schedule, including the Army-Navy game.

Official expression on the matter is manager. When Col. Hugh Scott, the academy superintendent, was asked for his opinion, he replied: "That is a matter I cannot discuss now."

The manner of young Byrne's injury, witnessed as it was by the father and the hundreds gathered to witness the struggle between the Army and Harward, was dramatic. When spectators realized the shock was serious the cheering was hushed as if by magic. A few minutes later Byrne was carried unconscious from the field.

Taken to the cadet hospital, killed surgeons labored over him throughout the night. Considered at times, he realized the seriousness of his condition.

By order of Col. Scott, cadet activities for today were directed to be only such as would not prevent the flag was lowered to half mast and directions were given that all academic duties be suspended tomorrow.

Young Byrne was only 21 years old, but was a veteran of the Army football team and popular with his classmates and officers. He was acting captain of the eleven yesterday.

Byrne was injured in a mass play on tackle, a play common enough in football and which had been used several times in the game previous to the accident. Byrne, standing valiantly as left tackle for the Army, was forced under the rush of Crimson players, and on being mugged, had his head twisted into a position where the weight of the men piling upon him was greater than the strong ligaments of the vertebral column could stand.

Byrne's death will kill football for both West Point and Annapolis, was the frequent remark heard on the grounds last night, and tonight, with Byrne's death, it prevailed that football as a sport at West Point and Annapolis has been seriously jeopardized.

COLLEGE AUTHORITIES EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS

Stanford University, Cal., Oct. 31.—When President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford, Jr., university heard of the death from football injury of Cadet Byrne of West Point, he expressed his opinion that it would make American football for colleges increasingly unpopular and might pave the way for the introduction of Rugby in the eastern institutions.

"The death of Byrne will affect Rugby football as played by Stanford and the University of California only as an additional argument against American football as a college sport."

"In Rugby football accidents of this character do not occur. Injuries in this game are largely confined to arms and legs and are not serious. Internal injuries or bruises on the head are of little account, as the absence of offside or mass plays prevents the concentration of attack on one man. This accident will lessen the popularity of American football and may pave the way for the introduction of Rugby into the eastern colleges."

PRIEST, BELL OF DRAKE.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 31.—President H. M. Bell of Drake university and President A. B. Storms of the Iowa state college at Ames, said tonight football should not be condemned because of the death of Byrne and the terrible injury to Wilson.

"I am sure the death of Byrne, but such an accident is likely to occur in the progress of any game which is pursued by the vigorous young men of today. I like football and cannot see that many permanent injuries are suffered in it when the number of participants is considered."

President Storms said: "I do not think the death of West Point player is enough of an indictment against football to bring about its abolition. In general, I think the game is all right."

ARMY OPINION.
Washington, Oct. 31.—Cadet Byrne's death was widely discussed in army and navy circles today. While anything in the nature of an official expression was lacking, officers do not incline to the view that football is likely to be abolished at the West Point and Annapolis academies.

Secy. Dickinson is absent with the Taft party and Acting Secy. Oliver declined to have anything to say about the accident beyond expressing regret. Secy. Meyer was equally reticent.

Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of the army, expressed a personal view in defense of the game.

"More injuries are suffered in teaching the cadets to swim, in the base-ball games, in polo and in gymnastic work than in football," he said, adding that the accident from what he had heard, seemed not the result of undue roughness, but rather one of the misfortunes of a legitimate sport.

Football found another defender in Dr. Charles W. Needham, president of the George Washington University, who, however, declared the American way of playing it should be reformed.

"Football playing has been the medium of college and university advancement," said Dr. Needham. "The result has been to develop what might be called semi-professional teams with a view of getting teams that will win. It is the winning that advertises."

"What we need in our colleges today is to develop a more general athletic activity of the student body."

"I think the American way of playing is too close and is attended with a great deal of danger that might be averted by a more open game, but I think a good, wholesome, police supervision over them for awhile would be good and that where it is discovered there is slugging or improper conduct on the part of any team or member of the team, that it should be punished like any other assaults."

AS VIEWED AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 31.—"In my opinion canoeing and rowing are more dangerous than football," said Prof. Geo. W. Patterson of the University of Michigan, tonight when asked what the effect of Cadet Byrne's death probably would be. Prof. Patterson is chairman of the board of control of athletics at the university.

"In the 15 years that I have been watching football at Ann Arbor," he said, "there has never been a death caused by the game. But we have canoeing fatalities every year."

Atty. Henry Bodman of Detroit, another member of the board of control, declared the percentage of football accidents is growing smaller.

A SPASM OF VIRTUE.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 31.—The death of Cadet Byrne will not bring any radical change in football at the University of Notre Dame, according to

Rev. John Cavanaugh, president of the institution. "Spasms of virtue do not help," said Dr. Cavanaugh. "Football today is a less violent form of amusement than it ever has been before."

"I venture to say more people have died of pneumonia while watching a game than have lost their lives on the field. I believe, too, there are many times more deaths from automobile accidents than there are from football."

AS YALE FEELS IT.
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—The death of Cadet Byrne brought keen sorrow to Yale men, especially to the coaches and players. The latter had much praise for Byrne's work in the Yale-Army game a fortnight ago.

It is stated with authority that the accident will bring no change in football here.

Walter Camp, head advisory coach in football, declined to comment upon the accident.

KANSAS'S IDEAL.
Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 31.—"I cannot say just what effect the death of Cadet Byrne will have on inter-collegiate football," said Chancellor Frank Strong of the University of Kansas tonight.

"This fatality is very lamentable, yet it should be remembered that in almost any athletic sport the chance of injury is considerable. The circumstances under which the accident occurred doubtless will have much to do with its effect on football."
