SOCIAL CHAT

The week has been a busy one, especially in the way of weddings and wedding parties, a large number of its functions having been devoted to the brides and grooms-elect with their parties. Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff and W. E. Fife whose marriage took place on Wednesday, Miss Sara Reid Park and Lieut. Beebe whose wedding takes place next week, were among the specially honored, and for the latter more yet are being planned. Besides these have been the usual number of dinners, luncheons and card parties.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the week in honor of Miss Cosgriff and Mr. Fife was the dinner given by J. E. Cosgriff on Monday night, the event taking place at the Alta club, the red room being used, and the decorations being in red and white, the chosen bridal colors. A mound of American Beauty and bride's roses, surrounded by red electric lights, formed the centerpiece, strands of silk were brought from the chandeliers to the corners, and on the mantel behind the bride couple was a large heart and arrow formed with red and white lights. The place cards were red hearts and arrows. The guests consisted of members of the bridal party.

One of the largest events of the week will take place tonight in the large reception and dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Park and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McMahon at the Ladies' Literary club in honor of Miss Sara Reid Park.

Prof. F. C. Reynolds gave a dinner on Thursday night in honor of the university debaters, the table being effectively decorated, and covers laid for about eight.

Mrs. W. L. Greene entertained the members of the Lantern club at the Manitou on Thursday night.

Mrs. E. A. Wilson entertained the "500" club on Thursday afternoon, 20 guests being present. Prizes were won by Mrs. D. C. Jackson and Mrs. J. M. Reynolds.

Miss Nettle Luman was hostess at a delightful euchre party on Thursday night, the affair being in honor of Miss Aileen Yard of Denver. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink carnations and about 40 guests were present. Including Miss Fanny Breeden, Miss Marjorie Mulvey, Miss Elsie McMillan, Miss June Whittemore, Miss Irma Rivers, Miss Pearl Little, Miss Edie Hansen, Miss Neva Hoy, Miss Nell Williams, Miss Alice Perrelli, Miss Eva Ray, Miss Merle Lynch, Miss Margaret Harris, Miss Beth Buckingham, Miss Abbie Lowe, Messrs. Clare Rivers, Jay Buckingham, Charlie Treasder, Frank Rudy, Valentine Hoy, Jack Hansen, Austin Landenberger, J. R. Whittemore, Clayton Smith, Bernice and Henry Richardson, Maurice Moon, Paul Carpenter, Scott Bird, Louis McCurdy.

Miss Louise Wey will entertain a party of her friends on Monday at the Wey home on Second East street.

Mrs. L. Seton Lindsay entertained informally at a bridge tea on Tuesday afternoon, the decorations being in red and five tables played. The prize winners were Miss Union Worthington and Mrs. E. O. Cary.

Mrs. J. D. Anderson gave a luncheon at the Commercial club on Tuesday and afterward took her party to the Orpheum. The guests were Mrs. John Hanna, Mrs. W. Z. Hudson, Mrs. James Dinwoody, Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Mrs. W. W. Arnold, Mrs. J. M. Marriott and Mrs. George Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George Q. Morris will entertain a number of friends at their home this evening.

A large party occupied boxes at the Orpheum on Tuesday night among them Albert McCormick, Ben Siegel, Devereaux Jennings, Wallace Brede-meyer, Ernest Sadler, Miss Loren Leary, Miss Alice Goodwin, Miss Stella McIntyre, Miss Eloise Sudler, Miss Jenna Budd Geddes.

Mrs. Percival O. Perkins will have for her guests next week Miss Helen Petro, granddaughter of the late Lord Petro, and a prominent member of the Savage Grand Opera company. The Petro received much social attention during her last visit here and made many warm friends.

Lieut. Rifenberk gave a box party at the theater last night in honor of Miss Sara Reid Park and her bridal party, the guests being Miss Claire Soule of Los Angeles, Miss Mabel Baum of Denver, Miss Clara Smith of Los Angeles, Lieut. Beebe, Paul Galleher, Robert Park of Portland, and Miss Park of Hiamford.

Misses Edith and Claire Ellerbeck were hostesses at one of the prettiest affairs of the week given in honor of Miss Sara Reid Park. The hostesses' guest of honor and other guests are all Stanford graduates, and all details of the affair breathed of the alma mater. The decorations were in cardinal red, the Stanford color, the centerpiece being a large S done in red flowers, and streamers of cardinal ribbon were brought from this to the several places and fastened with a bow. Tiny silken pennants floated from boats shaped from grape fruit, and the candies, lees and all appointments carried out the chosen idea. Covers were laid for eight.

Mr. D. E. Hurley entertained at a dinner at the Alta club on Thursday

ONE OF THE WORLD'S RICHEST WOMEN.

It is known that by the provisions of Marshall Field's will the widow of the late Chicago dry goods merchant is left a big share of the vast fortune which has been conservatively placed at $150,000,000. It is also expected that when the will is read the many philanthropic enterprises he had favored will be well endowed. Mrs. Field was married to the millionaire dry goods merchant in London last October. She was the widow of Arthur J. Caton.

Miss Sara Reid Park and Lieut. R. Beebe were guests of honor at a dinner on Thursday given by Miss Carrie Sappington, covers being laid for eight. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and white roses, the candle shades in the same colors, and the place cards were hand-painted cupid. The guests besides were Lieut. Rifenberk, Miss Mabel Baum of Denver, Miss Mamie Sappington, Roscoe M. Breeden and James Ingebreten.

WEDDING BELLS

The largest bridal event of next week will be the wedding of Miss Sara Reid Park and Lieut. R. E. Beebe, the event to take place next Tuesday at St. Paul's church at 8 o'clock. The bride will be attended by Miss Mabel Baum of Denver, as maid of honor, and Miss Claire Soule and Miss Claire Smith of California and the groom by Lieut. Rifenberk, while the ushers will be R. N. Park of Portland, Lieut. Galleher and Lieut. Gruber, and Hugh Park, Jr., will give the bride away. The affair will be a military one in all details, the decorations to be all in military dress, and the music to be furnished by the Fort Douglas band. A wedding supper will be given after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Park, 40 J street. A novel innovation in wedding annals will be a house party to be given by the bride and groom following the wedding, the members of the bridal party being invited to spend a week at their home at the Fort.

Mrs. William Cowan announces the engagement of her daughter, May to David F. Wissner, the marriage to take place Feb. 15.

A quiet wedding of the week was that of Miss Helen O. Bailey and Mr. R. H. Sargent of Washington, D. C. the ceremony being performed at noon on Monday with Rev. W. M. Paden officiating and a luncheon served afterward, the newly wedded pair leaving directly for Washington where they will make their home.

The most elaborate event of the week was the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff and W. E. Fife on Wednesday, the affair taking place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff, which was most beautifully decorated for the occasion, the predominant colors being white and red. The bridesmaids, Miss Fitch, Miss Eugenia Miller, Miss McGrath and Misses Sherman, were all in gowns of red crepe, and the little flower girl, Ellen Cosgriff, wore a dainty gown of white, with red sash, and red shoes, while in her hand she carried a basket of red roses which she strewed in the path of the bride as she entered on the arm of her brother. Her gown, of course, was white, a beautiful creation of Brussels net over silk with trimmings of rose point lace, while a long veil of tulle caught with lilies of the valley and rose buds, with diamond brooch and bouquet of bride's roses completed her toilet. Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff and Miss Cosgriff both wore handsome gowns of white, and Mrs. G. J. Gibson, Mrs. W. R. Rose, and the Misses Pearl and Georgia Savage who assisted in receiving and entertaining were beautifully gowned. The impressive ceremony of the Roman Catholic church was pronounced by Bishop Laurence Scanlan and others of the party were Frank Cantwell who acted as best man, and J. E. Cosgriff and Harry Sherman as ushers. The event was a notable one in the season's bridal annals.

A pretty wedding of the week was that of Miss Ada Thompson and Curtis E. Warren the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. C. Hunting, the matron of honor being Mrs. Herman Prindlethal and the best man Thomas Anderson. The rooms were prettily decorated, and a number of friends assisted. The bride's gown was white crepe de chine over taffeta with trimmings of rose point lace, and Mrs. Prindlethal was in blue crepe de chine over silk. A wedding supper was served afterward and later Mr. and Mrs. Warren left for a trip to the coast.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

The marriage of Miss Florence M. Scovcroft to Mr. Alva L. Scoville on Wednesday of this week was one of the leading social events of the season. The ceremony was performed in the Salt Lake Temple, the bride and groom returning to Ogden on the early evening train. They were tendered a brilliant family reception at the Scovcroft home, where a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The home was a profusion of beautiful cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Scoville left for California after the reception, where they will spend a month, returning to Ogden to make their future home. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Scovcroft, and one of Ogden's most popular and talented young ladies. The groom is owner of the Scoville Press, and one of the leading young business men of the city. He is also a prominent church worker in the Weber stake, and very able lecturer. On their return from the coast they will make their home at 226 Jefferson avenue, where they will be pleased to greet their many friends after March 1. May their wedded life be long, prosperous and most happy.

At the Fifth ward amusement hall Wednesday evening was given one of the most joyous dancing parties of the year, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement association of the ward. It was a character ball, and many costumes were worn. For the best sustained characters prizes were awarded to Miss Emily Hammarland, who was costumed as a squaw, and George Poulter, who represented a squaw. Over 100 couples were in attendance, and everybody present had a joyous time. The young ladies will give a benefit ball next Wednesday night in honor of William E. Eccles, who leaves soon on a mission to England.

The teachers and pupils of the North Ogden, Pleasant View and Harrisville schools participated in merry sleigh ride Tuesday afternoon. Over 40 sleighs were put into use, and 600 school children enjoyed the ride and sweet strains of music discoursed by the North Ogden band.

On Tuesday evening an enjoyable card party was given by the Modern Woodmen.

The grand ball given Wednesday evening by the "Electrical Workers' union" at Toiler's dancing academy was an ATTRACTIVE USE OF RIBBON PLEATINGS.

The vogue for trimmings which the new season's models present so markedly is strongly exemplified in this sheer dove gray wool batiste. The skirt is full circular mounted over a white taffeta drop, in the hem of which are run featherbone cords, which add in holding out the skirt about the feet. Richelleu pleatings in a slate gray are run lengthwise in double rows from waistband to hem at the front and sides, the panel portions thus created elaborately trimmed in scroll design with ivory white and darker shade of gray appearing in three rows on the hem. This dark foot trimming is much favored by the French couturiers. The bodice, which is drawn easily into the crushed grille of the cloth, has a deep round yoke of white mousseline on which are set crosswise pleatings banded with a tiny silver soutache, the rosette in the darker shade of the pleating set with silver and pink enamel buttons. The collar of real Irish crocheted is in one with the chemise, this applied to the yoke, which is cut from beneath. Tiny featherbone cords are run through the shirtings, which join the yoke and bodice, the full elbow sleeve with pleating trimming and lace cuff likewise corded at the armhole.

event long to be remembered by all who were present. The hall was elegantly decorated with various electrical creations, which brilliantly lighted the ball room and tripping the light fantastic until after the midnight hour was enjoyed by a large crowd. Dainty refreshments were served throughout the evening.

Among the most joyous events of the past week was the grand celebration of Burn's birthday on Thursday evening by the Scottish knoxes of Ogden and the Thistle club of Salt Lake. An excellent musical and literary program was rendered on which Profs. Charles Kent and Squire Coop took part, and Rev. E. I. Goshier delivered an eloquent address on the life of Burns, and his works, also on the many virtues of the Scottish people. After the rendition of the program an hour at social dancing, singing of songs, and social chat was indulged in. Everybody present spent a pleasant evening and hoped for another similar event in the very near future.

Thomas Whalen, wife and daughter, returned home Wednesday from a month's pleasure trip to California.

Monday afternoon two of Brigham City's popular young people, Miss Abbie Rhese and Mr. R. A. Madson, were wedded. Both parties are well known also in Ogden, where the groom has been employed as a clerk in the Ross book store for several months. They will make Ogden their future home.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Yor hairs WILL talk! It doesn't matter how much you try to silence them with heavy veils and broad hats, the ends of the hair will stick out and call to every passer-by, "See how dull and brittle we are! She neglects us shamefully."

Every woman should have beautiful and abundant hair, for nature lavishly rewards those who labor intelligently to preserve and beautify it. Is your hair oily or sticky? Is it dull or lusterless? Have you dandruff? If so, you should use Newbro's Herpicide at once. It kills the germ or microbe that causes dandruff and falling hair, after which the hair will grow as nature intended. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly and gives the assurance of a cure from the very first application. It contains no oil or grease, and is unsurpassed for its distinctness. It makes the hair light and fluffy and gives it a silken gloss.

Send 10c. in stamps for sample to THE HERPICIDE CO., Dept. L., Detroit, Mich.
