STOLEN.

FROM this city, July 8th, one sorrel STALLION, mane and tail shade lighter than body, about 15 hands high, heavy build, right hind foot white about 6 inches up, think there is a little white on left, rather clumsy and sluggish; dimly branded D on right hip, brand may not be seen. Also, at the same time, 1 chestnut sorrel HORSE, medium size, heavy made, little white on face, about 9 years old.

There is satisfactory evidence that the above Horses were stolen by Indians. The first, as we understand, was traded to some citizen or passing emigrant on East Weber; we are also informed that the latter was traded to Isaac Potter by an Indian.

Whoever will bring the above animals to the subscribers, or give information that will lead to their recovery, shall be liberally rewarded by

G. D. WOOD & SONS,
