

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, SEP. 20.

THE EMIGRANTS.—A dispatch in another column states that the company of Saints now en route to this city passed Chicago yesterday. The companies usually are four days between New York and Omaha and four days between Omaha and Salt Lake. This company we understand left New York on Wednesday evening last, and consequently, if they come through in the usual time, they will be here on Thursday evening next, Sept. 26. If they reach Omaha to-day, they may be here on Wednesday evening.

LADY PRACTITIONERS.—"Observer" writes from Provo, Sept. 16, hoping that the time will soon come when women will engage more extensively in the medical field.

"In regard to patronizing itinerant professors, especially those of great pretensions, we cannot recommend it, as some of them may be able, skillful, experienced, and trustworthy, but generally they are more likely to be quacks, humbugs, and unprincipled adventurers, unworthy of anybody's money or confidence."

(Per Deseret Telegraph.)

LOGAN, 20.—A sad accident occurred here at 9 o'clock this morning. W. P. Huband, a resident of Logan while engaged in erecting a large frame dwelling house for George M. Peacock, fell from near the top of the building on a lower joist, which broke, and from thence fell down the cellar, hitting the corner of a rock and receiving a cut over his right eye three inches long, penetrating the skull and fracturing it one inch, small portions of brain oozing out, paralyzing his side. He was entirely unconscious. Dr. Ormsby is attending him. He says recovery is doubtful.

Joseph Thatcher accidentally shot off one toe of his foot last night.

LOGAN, 21.—W. P. Huband, the man injured yesterday by falling from Peacock's building, died at 3 o'clock this morning.

LADIES ADMITTED TO THE UTAH BAR.—This morning there were some unusually interesting proceedings in the Third Judicial District Court, his honor Chief Justice McKean presiding. From a few minutes past 10 o'clock until about 1/2 past 11, the attention of the court was occupied in hearing and determining motions and arguments in relation to jury cases.

A few minutes before the last of these was disposed of Governor Woods, accompanied by several ladies entered the court room; all of them being invited to seats within the enclosure partitioned off for the use of the bar.

When the motions and arguments under consideration had been disposed of, the Governor arose and said:

"May it please the court, I desire to move the admission to practice in the courts of this Territory, of Miss Phoebe W. Cousins. She is a graduate of the Law School of the Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., has been regularly admitted to practice in the courts of that State, and in the United States District Court of that State; also in the courts of the State of Arkansas. I move her admission to the bar of this Territory."

THE COURT.—"It has been said by a learned writer that law is the refinement of reasoning. Perhaps it is natural to infer that those who have the most refinement ought to be very clear, perhaps intuitive, reasoners. Certainly no gentleman of this bar would deny that, in social life, woman's influence is refining and elevating. May we not hope that the honorable profession of the law may be made even more honorable by the admission of woman to the bar. It strikes us as a novelty, gentlemen, but everything in the line of progress is, at some time or other, a novelty. I very cheerfully admit Miss Cousins to this bar and, gentlemen, I present to you our sister at the bar."

JUDGE HAYDON. "I move that the clerk swear Miss Cousins in, and that she sign the rule of attorneys."

The oath was administered, and the Court took a recess of three minutes, in order, as the Court said, that the members of the bar might be presented to their sister at the bar.

This formality having been attended to, business was resumed, when the following remarks and motion were made by MAJOR C. H. HEMPSTEAD. "I rise for the performance of a most pleasing duty. I think we may say that the admission of Miss Cousins to the bar of Utah is an era in Utah life. It is perhaps to be regretted that Utah, in this, has not taken the lead, and that Miss Cousins did not come here before she went to the bar in St. Louis. However, she has been accepted as a member of this bar with pleasure, on the part of both Court and members of the bar; but while, sir, I and my brethren of the bar, have extended a hearty welcome to Miss Cousins, I know not what would become of us should she, as she probably will, and as she will have the right to do, appear against any or all of us in the progress of some important trial. I fear we might have a most difficult task to encounter our learned and interesting opponent. Notwithstanding these apprehensions, your honor, I take pleasure in saying, that I have been a resident of Utah nearly ten years. When I first came here I became acquainted with many who have since become warm friends of mine, and for whom I cherish the warmest feelings of friendship. I may also say, your honor, that I have met with some most brilliant intellects, not only industrious minds, but brilliant intellects, among the young ladies of this city. Over three years ago, one of these—a most estimable young lady, undertook, partially at my suggestion, and certainly with my approbation and all the assistance I could render her, the difficult and arduous task of study necessary to become a proficient in the law; and during that time I have had pleasure in noting her progress. I refer to Miss George Snow, daughter of the Attorney General of this Territory. I know, sir, that for the last three years, she has been a devoted student in her father's office, in striving to obtain an understanding of the principles and practice of the law, but she has not dared to come forward to ask admission to the bar. From my own examination, I am enabled to state that she is fully competent to be admitted to this bar; fully competent to meet almost any of us, not only in taking, but in reasoning at the bar. And on this statement of my own personal knowledge and examination, united with that of her father, as to her qualifications, I rise with pleasure to move her admission to the bar, as the first of Utah's daughters who has entered the profession of the law. (Applause.)

COURT.—"I am very happy to hear the remarks and motion of Major Hempstead. I have a personal acquaintance with Miss Snow, and I have no doubt of the correctness of the statement made in regard to her. Let me say right here, however, that whatever may be the feelings of the members of the bar on this subject, the court must not take such a course as to render it liable to the charge of great partiality to the ladies. The Mayor, in his enthusiasm, seems to have forgotten that our practice here is, to require of gentlemen, who have never been admitted to the bar elsewhere, first to go before a committee for examination. Now, while this is a matter of form merely, and, of course, is so in this case, yet if I were to admit a lady who has never been admitted to any other bar, without referring her case to a committee, some young incompetent gentleman might apply here and plead that as a precedent in his case, and so place the court in the embarrassing position of appearing to have one rule for one sex and another rule for the other sex. I think I will grant that motion in a modified form, or rather first appoint a committee and let them report. I will appoint as that committee Major Hempstead and Mr. Hoge. I have done that with several young gentlemen who have applied for admission, and taking that course in this case will make it conform to the rule."

Miss Snow being in Court, Messrs. Hempstead and Hoge retired, and in a few minutes returned and made the following report:

"The application of Miss C. George Snow, for admission to the bar of the Third Judicial District Court of Utah, having been by the Court referred to the undersigned for examination and to report thereon, the undersigned beg leave, respectfully, to report, that we have made a proper and necessary examination as to the qualifications of the said applicant, that she is an estimable lady, and by a long course of arduous study of the law, is fully qualified for admission to the bar. The undersigned therefore respectfully recommend the admission of Miss Snow to the bar of this Court."

(Signed) C. H. HEMPSTEAD,
E. D. HOGE.

COURT.—It may be pertinent for the Court to remark that Miss Snow will find in Utah an ample field for the exercise of her professional talent. Perhaps in no part of our country can she find a better field for the exercise of her talent and attainments; and the fact that she has long resided here, and that she is the daughter of a lawyer, will be of great service to her, giving her much advantage over strangers who come here, and especially in listening to the complaints of her own sex. Perhaps the application of Miss Snow for admission to this bar may be of vastly greater importance than at first it seems to be. I take pleasure in granting the motion, in accepting the report of the committee, and in admitting and welcoming Miss Snow to this bar. Gentlemen of the bar, many of you already have the pleasure and honor of Miss Snow's acquaintance; and the court will now take a very brief recess that you may all become so, that we may all congratulate her on her admittance to the bar."

Miss Snow was sworn, when, after the formality of introduction to the members of the bar, the Court adjourned until Monday morning.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 23.

THE LAST COMPANY.—Another company, and the last for this season, will leave Liverpool for Utah on Wednesday, October 16th, to be composed only of those having means of their own for their fares and expenses from their homes to Ogden, or Salt Lake City, and those who may be advised from this office.—Mill. Star, Sept. 3.

ACCIDENT ON THE UTAH NORTHERN.—Last Thursday evening a slight accident occurred on the Utah Northern. The engine ran over a steer, cutting him in two, the collision causing the engine to run off the track and tip over. Slight damage was done, and by Friday noon the engine was running again, the accident causing the omission of one round trip.

APPLES.—We often hear inquiries made as to the best method for packing away winter apples so that they will keep good the longest possible period of time and to occupy the smallest convenient space. If somebody who knows all about this subject would be good enough to give us the benefit of his information, in a brief and pointed way, we would be pleased to give it to the public, through the News. The subject is of some importance on account of the large apple crop this season.

RELEASES AND APPOINTMENT.—Elders James A. Leishman and Jesse Gardiner are released to return to Utah.

A CHANCE FOR FREIGHTERS.—Owners of mule and ox teams who want to freight from the terminus of the Utah Southern to Pioche, can find employment by applying to Gordon and Murray, Lehi, or at their office half a block south of R. R. terminus in this city. They have seven or eight hundred tons of freight they want hauling from Lehi to Pioche. See their advertisement.
