

VOLIVA CALLS DOWIE NAMES.

"Spendthrift," "Liar," and "A
Traitor to His Trust and His People."

DOWIE'S WIFE APPROVED ALL.

Call on Audience to Signify Their Choice for a Him and It Fell
On Him.

Zion City, Ill., April 8.—The people of Zion City heard their former leader, John Alexander Dowie, denounced from the pulpit in Shiloh tabernacle today, and they approved it, or at least as many of them as could crowd into that vast meetinghouse signified their willingness in a manner that left no doubt of sincerity to follow in the footsteps of the first apostle's successor, General Overseer Voliva. Zion's new leader was the man that told of Dowie's alleged misdeeds and the more bitter and scathing the words of denunciation the more general and enthusiastic was the approval of his listeners.

When, after denouncing Dowie as a "spendthrift," "liar," and "a traitor to his trust and his people," General Voliva suddenly stopped in his denunciation of the founder of the sect and at the end of a moment's hesitation, demanded a decision of the audience as to who should be their future leader, and 6,000 people in the tabernacle arose as one and signified their willingness to follow Voliva to the end.

On the platform with Voliva were Mrs. John Alexander Dowie, Judge Barnes, head of the law department of Zion City, and Overseers Sprecher, 52-cell, Cantel and Granger. At the conclusion of a short prayer by Overseer Sprecher, the newly appointed head of Zion, clad in a robe of simple white and black, a studied departure from the gaudy raiment assumed by the first apostle on similar occasions, stepped to the front of the platform and in a slow, calm and studied voice made the announcement that he was going to take advantage of today's meeting to tell them a few truths about the men whom they had so faithfully followed for so many years.

When most bitter in the denunciation of his former master, there was no lack of the tabernacle who showed approval of his remarks more than Overseer Jane Dowie, the wife for 30 years of John Alexander Dowie, and the mother of his three children. At one point in his remarks where Voliva in angry tones exclaimed:

"I will see that all the costly furniture and expensive library adorning Dowie's Zion City residence and which were purchased by this hypocrite while many of his people were in need, are sold, the money turned into Zion storehouses," Mrs. Dowie half rose from her seat and with her voice and hand loudly applauded the words of the speaker. Overseer Voliva, in justification of the overtures of Zion's apostle, he how money had been squandered foolishly for Dowie's own comfort while the creditors and the people of Zion were calling loudly for money. As an illustration of this state of affairs, Voliva cited his own experience in Zion church. He declared that he had been compelled to keep himself and family of five on 25¢ a month allowed him by Dowie, and that out of this meager salary he had been compelled to turn over a tenth in tithes to the church. He then asked: "What has become of all this money that has been flowing into Zion for so many years?"

In bringing his denunciation of Dowie to a close, Overseer Voliva said: "The day has come when you ought to act as men and women and air your God-given free will. If you want to stand for downright lying, hypocrisy, shameful misuse of money, keep your seats; but all those present who are tired of his lying, his exaggerations, his misrepresentations and his inconsistencies and his hypocrisy and his gross ignorance of all business laws and principles, stand up as an evidence of their denunciation of Dowie and his methods."

The response to this request was instantaneous, every one in the building rising to his feet in acknowledgment of Voliva's leadership.

After the singing of a hymn Voliva declared that if Dowie imagined that on his arrival in Zion City on Tuesday he would be able to frighten Voliva into submission, he never was more badly mistaken in his life.

Voliva then requested all present to keep away from the railway station next Tuesday, when Dowie is expected to reach Zion City. "I don't want you to go down there and listen to his emotional harangues," said Voliva. "If he should try any of his spectacular antics on his arrival here we will soon put a stop to it. He cannot hold a meeting in Shiloh tabernacle, because we won't let him. Should he succeed in securing a house in which to hold a meeting to address the people of Zion, I want you all to remain at home and not attend the meeting."

After the meeting the 250 Zion guards employed in Zion City in the city were sworn in to support Voliva in all his undertakings, and all took the oath of allegiance with the exception of one. A message was received from Dowie this afternoon stating that he would reach Zion City Tuesday morning and containing Shiloh house his home in Zion to be prepared for his home-coming. Voliva, after reading this message, stated in emphatic terms that Dowie would not be allowed to enter the city of Zion and that he would be taken to the city of Zion.

ARRANGED DOWIE FAMILY.

Chicago, April 8.—While the great meeting at Shiloh tabernacle was in progress, more than 1,500 Chicago members of the Christian Catholic church gathered in the central tabernacle at 225 Michigan avenue and heard Overseer Piper deliver a stern arraignment of the departed leader and his family. In response to a request for an expression of opinion, the audience almost unanimously voted to stand by Overseer Voliva and his cabinet in a fight to a finish.

The address of Overseer Piper, one of the most eloquent leaders in the church, contained a cold and merciless exposure of the conditions that prevail in Zion City and the methods that brought the people to their penniless condition. He accused Dr. Dowie of teaching polygamy. Through it all was a note of sorrow for the shame of the old leader, but paramount in the sermon was a challenge to Dowie to do his worst.

"You will not find the people of Zion City standing behind the lace factory when Dr. Dowie gets back," said the speaker. "What will he do? I don't know. He may find some judge foolish enough to let him in an indictment or some court silly enough to put him back in control, but I don't believe so. If he gets back in power those of you who have invested money may as well say good bye to it. He's a master at weeping. All he'll need to do is to weep and some of you will fall on your knees."

DOWIE IN HANDS OF ALIENIST.

Pittsburg, April 8.—John Alexander Dowie, the departed prophet of Zion City, submitted himself to a week's examination to his sanity by an alienist in Mexico because his wife and the faithful believed his crazy," said Elder Frederick G. Hendrickson, who passed through this city tonight from New York to Chicago.

"Two weeks ago in San Luis Potosi, a little Mexican village where he could avoid publicity, Dowie allowed himself to be put under surveillance by a prominent English alienist now in Mexico, and was pronounced absolutely sane and rational."

Elder Hendrickson left Dowie in Mexico to safeguard Dowie's speculative enterprises in Wall street, as margins were being demanded by brokerage houses who had become frightened at the conflict in Zion.

ANOTHER LANDSLIDE ON S. P.

Los Angeles, April 8.—Another landslide at Tehachapi yesterday greatly delayed the efforts to clear the tracks of the Southern Pacific and added hundreds of tons of dirt to the already large obstructions on the tracks. Without a moment's warning the earth rolled from the mountain just at the time traffic was about to be resumed.

There are 120 laborers at work at the mouth of tunnel B, the scene of the landslide. The work is being done with danger and a force of men is constantly on the lookout for further slides. At the Southern Pacific offices word was received from the field that no further trouble is anticipated and the company expects to have trains running regularly today.

FATALLY STABBED HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

Then Jack Allen Turned on His Wife and Inflicted Ten
Knife Wounds.

MAN WAS CRAZED WITH DRINK

After Committing Deed Attempted to Rob Saloon, Held City Marshal
And Watchman at Bay.

Grass Valley, Cal., April 8.—Jack Allen fatally stabbed his father-in-law, Alfred Jenkins, Sr., and inflicted 10 stabs on his wife in this city this evening. Mrs. Allen is dangerously wounded, but the attending surgeons hold out hope for recovery.

The deed was committed at the Jenkins home, where Allen and his wife also resided. Allen, who has been drinking considerably of late and acting peculiarly, was called to supper. Entering the dining room, he picked up a large butcherknife from the table and saying "We will settle this matter right now," plunged the blade into Jenkins' left side. It pierced his lung and went far into the body. Jenkins grappled with the crazed man and finally took the knife from him, being cut in the hand in so doing.

Allen then turned on his wife, chased her into the yard, threw her down and stabbed her 10 times with a pocket knife. The approach of a neighbor armed with a shovel caused him to desist. He ran down town, attempted to rob the bill of Louis Guenz's saloon, and in the fight with Guenz struck him on the head with a hammer, badly injuring him. Allen fled the place and entered Mazzia's saloon on Main street, where he held City Marshal Deable and Watchman Peterson at bay with an ax until Sheriff Walker arrived. Allen surrendered without a struggle to Sheriff Walker. He was taken to Nevada City as a precautionary measure.

Allen is a miner employed at the North Star. Jenkins and his daughter are very highly respected.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound
Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused
It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tens of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With womanly assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the offices of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.
