NOTED EDUCATOR IN JUNCTION CITY

Prof. Percival Hall, of Gallandet College, Visits State School For Deaf and Blind.

GEO. CAMPBELL RECAPTURED.

Wanted in Colorado for Robbery—Willard Kay Arrested for Fast Auto Driving.

Ogden, Utah, July 26.—Prof. Percival Hall, a prominent educator of the deaf and blind, and instructor in the Gallandet college, the national school for the deaf, is in Ogden spending a few days, the guest of Supt. Frank M. Briggs of the Utah state school in this city. One of the purposes of his visit is to consider plans for the convention to be held in Ogden beginning July 1, 1907, of the association of the American instructors of the deaf. The association is composed of all the leading educators of the deaf and blind throughout the United States. Perhaps the most important object of Mr. Hall's visit to Utah is to go to Panhandle to meet John Clark, a graduate, first of the Utah school for the deaf and later from the Gallandet college, who is making unusual success as a civil engineer. While at college he was very studious and took great interest in surveying. When he graduated he entered the employ of the government doing civil engineering work in the forest reserve, and because of his aptitude was promoted in his work and recently went to New Mexico in charge of a government engineering corps. He is the only deaf civil engineer in the country, and having been so successful the Gallandet college management took special interest in the same and decided to send Prof. Hall here to meet Mr. Clark, and to learn from him the methods he pursued in preparing himself for engineering and to obtain his ideas on the advisability of the national school making civil engineering a branch of their course of study. The taking of civil engineering by Mr. Clark may be the means of establishing a new profession for the deaf and one which pays well. Prof. Hall is very pleased with the excellency of the Ogden school, its beautiful buildings and surroundings.

Prof. Hall was entertained at the Weber club last evening by the teachers of the school for the deaf and blind.

ALLEGED ROBBER CAPTURED.

George Campbell, Wanted in Colorado, Again in the Toils.

Ogden, July 26.—George Campbell, who two weeks ago succeeded in escaping from the Ogden city jail a few minutes after his arrest, was recaptured yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Toot and Officer Hadlock, and will be held for the Colorado officials, who want him on the charge of robbery. Campbell, and a companion named James Slater, were arrested here 10 days ago on a telegraphic communication from the Colorado Springs officers. They were taken to the police station and while the officers were questioning Slater in the chief of police's desk sergeant was called to answer the telephone, and Campbell took advantage of the opportunity and escaped. He says he went to California, but was now on the way east, and was waiting for a box car when arrested.

FAST AUTO DRIVING.

Willard Kay and Friends Placed Under Arrest.

Ogden, July 26.—Willard Kay and three friends who were out for a time in Kay's automobile last evening, were placed under arrest by the police for conducting themselves disorderly. They had taken a little too much spirits aboard and Kay got to feeling quite lively and was running up and down Twenty-fifth at a good speed, and not being satisfied with the wagon road, ran his auto on to the sidewalk, endangering the lives of others. In turning the machine he ran into the stone curbing and the front wheel of the auto was crashed. The police took all four who were in the auto to the station, where they put up a cash bond to secure their appearance in court when the case is called for trial.

NORTH OGDEN.

Promising Crop Outlook—Fitting Program Marks Pioneer Day.

Special Correspondence. North Ogden, Weber county, July 24.—The extreme heat of the last few days tends to the rapid growth of crops in general and opening of those varieties of fruit now in season. Strawberries are off, raspberries nearly so and apples are now on the market. The hay crop is nearly all harvested, the best crop in excellent condition, and tomatoes promise a fair yield. An excellent yield is also anticipated in the peach crop except, perhaps, the Elberta and a few other varieties that suffered most from the recent windstorms.

PIONEER DAY.

Pioneer day was very appropriately observed today in this place with the usual forenoon exercises in the meetinghouse. George E. Brown acted as master of ceremonies, James Varda as chaplain, and the oration was delivered in masterly style by Hon. Joseph Stanford, "Utah As It Was," was given by Mrs. Milder A. Rickman; "As It Now Is," was given by Frederick Barker, and "Utah As It Will Be," was given by Hon. Nathaniel Montgomery. These numbers were interspersed with a speech by M. N. Reynolds, "Why the Pioneers Came to Utah." A solo by Francis Rogers, a pianist by Beth Harper, "Hard Times Come Again No More" by F. W. Ellis, with organ accompaniment by Esther Ellis. The ward choir also furnished an important part in the program, under the direction of A. G. Berrett, with accompaniment by Amanda Ellis. The afternoon was devoted to races, ball games and other amusements on the park, closing with the "light fantastic" in the evening.

E. F. Felt, while selling fruit in Ogden last Saturday, south of Twenty-third street and west of Washington Ave., had the misfortune to lose his purse, containing a green bill, two gold $5's, a small check and perhaps some smaller change.

Little Harvey Chandler, a few days ago, fell through the bridge of the Ogden Northwestern into the canal and was rescued a few rods below clinging to brush having encountered a narrow escape from drowning.

Patriarch David McKay and Parley Eldridge spoke in the afternoon meeting last Sunday.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Ephraim Madsen and John Averett Fall Under Horse.

Special Correspondence.

Mr. Pleasant, Sanpete Co., July 25.—Pioneer day was celebrated yesterday in grand style. A large crowd was out and all seemed to have an enjoyable time.

Some fifteen floats were arranged, representing the Relief society, Sunday school, Y. L. and Y. M. I. A. Primary association, juvenile orchestra, queen, Utah, Indians, followed by the president of stake and bishops in carriages. The band and company D. N. G. U. were out and assisted much in making the parade attractive. After the parade the crowd gathered in the Assembly hall and listened to a well prepared program. Prof. Alfred Osmond was orator of the day.

Immediately after the closing of the program the hazard under the auspices of the South ward opened, by serving dinner for all. The proceeds will be used on the meetinghouse.

Sunday evening, an educational meeting was held in the Assembly hall under the management of the B. Y. U. Professors Osmond and Goodman in being in attendance. A large crowd was out and appreciated much what was said and done.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Ephraim Madsen and John Averett of this place were on horseback Monday evening, returning from business, when the horse reared and fell over backward, falling on them. Both were badly hurt. Madsen had a broken neck and pierced his lung, which bled severely. He is not expected to live. Averett is in a serious condition.

Crane Watson made the address of welcome; the humorous side of pioneer life was shown up by Hans J. Mortensen, and the serious side by Thomas Durham. Mrs. Eva Richards, Miss Ada McGregor and David Matheson rendered vocal selections, and Nevada Watson and Estella Mortensen gave recitations.

IRON COUNTY BUSINESS.

The county commissioners met on the 23rd and transacted the following business:

The treasurer's financial report for the year ending June 30 was approved, showing a balance of $1,800 in the treasury.

The tax levy for the current year was fixed at 3 1/2 mills for county and 2 mills for county school purposes.

Bills were allowed to the amount of $600.

The contract for furnishing the registration and election supplies was awarded to the Southern Utah Printing & Publishing company for $30, express and freight included.

The shingling of the courthouse having been completed by Jacob B. Gould, the work was approved by the board and ordered paid for.

Grain crops are looking well and a good yield seems assured. The weather is hot and oppressive, with little rain.
