A growing city makes its demands felt in many directions, and yesterday it was the turn of the churches to find for the first time in the city's history, that they are insufficient in capacity to accommodate the throngs who turn out on an Easter morning to listen to the beautiful services in honor of the day when the Savior felt the new life of His resurrection, and listen to the tale of His life and death and final triumoh over both, from the

and final triumph over both, from the lips of a favorite pastor. Easter Sunday in the year 1997 will be long remembered by all Salt Lak-ers. It seemed as if every influence of nature had joined forces with the art of man to make the day perfect. The earlier rains gave way to a por-fect day of sunshine, while the seni-lest of breezes laughed over flavers and budding trees in every direction, seeming to smile a benediction on the showers which had done their work untanaked to prepare for the warmer and brighter day beginning with the Easter dawn. Nor was all the new life in nature. Churches where the sermons of a year had fallen on scantily filled benches, suddenly found every seat taken and the standing room thronged to its ca-warding. In the mass of a number of the standing room thronged to its ca-pacity. In the case of a number of larger churches, such as St. Mary's, hundreds stood in the street during the service, unable to gain entrance within the doors.

within the doors. Nor was the Easter parade of new millinery overlooked. Fair women in newly made creations of ruffles, silks and feathers thronged the walks on the way to church, completely over-shadowing the mere escorts who ac-companied them dressed in the more somber hues of the mere bread win-ner

AT ST. MARY'S.

AT ST. MART'S. Easter services at St. Mary's con-sisted of three masses, the principal one being the solenn pontifical mass at 11 o'clock, to which hundreds of people more than the church would hold, turned out. They stood on the sidewalk during the mass, listening to the strains of music which floated out through the open doors and windows. The choir was composed of 25 voices, under the direction of Miss Nora Gleason, and its work was specially mspiring. At the close of the 11 o'clock service Bishop Scanlan paid the choir the high

At the close of the 11 o'clock service Bishop Scanlan paid the choir the high tribute of declaring that it had ren-dered "the best musical service ever given in a Catholic church in this city, and well befitting the last Easter in the old cathedral." The sermon of the pob-tifical mass was delivered by Rev. Dean Harris, a noted Canadian divine who is visiting in the city. It was a dramatic visiting in the city. It was a dramatic recital of the events leading up to the death of Christ, with the circumstances His resurrection vividly portrayed.

AT UNITY HALL.

"The Truth in Christ," while a musical program was rendered, consisting of a solo by Mrs. Bessie Spiers Browning and two anthems by the choir. Follow-ing the sermon a christening service was held at which a number of flow members were formally welcomed into the society. the society.

Petition Vetoed—The petition of Bishop Lawrence Scanlan asking per-mission to construct a temporary church building of wood near the cor-ner of Fourth South and Fourth West streets, has been vetoed by Mayor Thompson for the reason that the structure will be within the fire limits and hence the ardinance prohibits it and hence the ordinance prohibits it being constructed of wood. The fur-ther reason for the veto is that the building would be too close to the railmad yards.

BY REV. P. A. SIMPKIN. At the Phillips Congregational church Rev. P. A. Simpkin delivered a sermon that was at once cloquent and impres-sive. Analyzing the lesson which the resurrection brings to all Christians Rev. Mr. Simpkin declared that the world does well to lay emphasis on the importance of Easter day, "for," he said. "the full score of the harmony that sweeps on the sunlight and the winds of God is in the triumph of this truth, "Christ is risen from the dead, and be-come the first fruits of them that slept." "Never in the age has the certitude of immortality so possessed men as to-day, and none of the contributions to scientific thought are more eagerly de-voured than those which lend assent to the persistence of the scul and person-ality beyond death. Never were there so many of the children of the race for whom the coentral fact of this day has whom the central fact of this day has a personal and living message, and nev-er a time when this crowning fact in the life of the Lord Christ appealed the life of the Lord Christ appealed from a firmer base, or with a clearer call than it does now." St. Mark's cathedral could hardly have held a larger congregation than it did last evening, on the occasion of the giving by the cathedral choir of Dudley Buck's cantata of "Christ the Victor." The text included two hymns. "Yo Christian Herald's connection sal-

"Ye Christian Heralds go proclaim sal-vation in Emanuel's name," and the familiar "Duke street," which the congregation joined with the choir in singing. The choir did very well, such few omissions or slips as occurred not be-ing noticed by the audience. The solo-ists were Walter Wallace. Thomas E. Rowan, Thomas Wise, and the Misses Osborne. Mr. Wallace did especially Rowan, Thomas Wise, and the Misses Osborne. Mr. Wallace did especially well with his great bass voice, and Mr. Rowan's tenor was a marked feature of the evening. The duo for the two sopranos was sweetly sung. The work of Prof. A. H. Peabody at the organ calls for special commendation. The Instrument he has to play is hardly of the best, but he made it sound far bet-ter than one who is acquainted with its frailtles would expect. His work all through was finished and given with good judgment.

through was infined and given with good judgment. The cantata will be repeated next Sunday night, at St. Mark's, and is worthy of a large audience. Easter services at St. Mark's were celebrated in the morning, preceding the cantata in the evening, by a special song service, and a sermon by Thean song service, and a sermon by Dean Brewster, who took for his theme the words of St. Mark: "And when they hooked they saw that the stone was rolled away for it was very great."

AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

At the First Methodist church the At the First Methodist church the easter sermon was preached by Rev. Benjamin Young, in connection with a service of music and song, which was beautifully carried out. Among the song numbers were "Ye Bells of Easter Morn" by Miss Edua Evans: "Hail Glorious Morn," by Hugh W. Dougall; duet, "O Divine Redeemer," by Misses Kelly and Davis; E. B. Kimball, the new organist, played with excellent cf-fect, and did much to making the pro-gram a success.

Brain a Success.

The congregation at St. Paul's yes-terday was one of the largest that has ever gathered within the church. Hev. Chas, E. Perkins took for his theme a text from Corinthians: For since by man came death, by man also came the resurrection of the dead." A beau-tiful song service preceded the ger-mon A1340.11
