

TRIBUTES TO PIONEER WOMEN.

Interesting Social Event in Honor of Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells.

HARDSHIPS OF EARLY DAYS.

Handcart Veterans Enulogized for the Part They Played in Reclaiming the Arid Waste.

The social event of yesterday was the meeting of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers at the Bee Hive house, held in honor of Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, whose 76th year, and 18th birthday were celebrated in a special assemblage of the society. From 3:30 to 4 o'clock an informal reception was held and the many friends of the guest of honor extended congratulations upon the occasion.

The meeting proper was called to order by the president, Mrs. Alice M. Horne, and the prayer was offered by Chaplain Mrs. Margaret Pierce Young. The president then in an appropriate speech announced the purpose of the meeting and introduced Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who gave a paper on the life of her mother, Mrs. Wells. The remarks dealt with her more private life and with personal reminiscences, the whole being a tender and beautiful tribute of love and reverence for the mother, whose every trait and attribute was deeply engrained on her heart. The whole was interspersed with passages from the poems written by Mrs. Wells, appropriately mingling, and illustrating events in her own life history.

"OUR PIONEER MOTHERS."

The second paper was by Mrs. Julia Farnsworth Lund, on "Our Pioneer Mothers," and was a glowing exposition of the claims of the Pioneer women to share equally in the honor and glory of the great pioneer movement in the valley with the men, whose names and memories receive the more frequent and public praise for work and hardships involved in that event. There was not a toll, suffering, sacrifice nor hardship which the women did not endure equally with men and with many more added that the latter did not share, and this, too, with nature and frames never so well fitted to endure hardships as the sterner sex. She recounted individual incidents with names and dates, and with many more added that the latter did not share, and this, too, with nature and frames never so well fitted to endure hardships as the sterner sex. She recounted individual incidents with names and dates, and with many more added that the latter did not share, and this, too, with nature and frames never so well fitted to endure hardships as the sterner sex.

MRS. BATHSHEBA SMITH.

Mrs. Horne called for expressions from some of the Pioneer mothers present, and Mrs. Bathsheba Smith spoke first, also paying her tribute of testimony to the courage and noble character of those who redeemed the desert wastes. "It is hard," she said, "to single out one, or a few names from the rest, for all had an equal share in the burdens."

MRS. WELLS SPEAKS.

The president then called upon the guest of honor, who responded in a few heartfelt words of appreciation for the tributes of love and friendship shown her, and said that if she should never have another birthday this would surely be sufficient for memory to dwell upon.

HANDICART VETERANS.

Mrs. Emily Woodmansee was then requested to speak, and answered in a touching eulogy of the pioneer companies, whose feats of hardships and toils are unsurpassed. "It is to the pioneers," she said, "that all honor is given for early day heroism, but I was with the handicart company, and can testify only too well of what we had to pass through. Tired, footsore and often hungry, we had only the thought of Zion to cheer our weary steps, and the hymns of our people, sung with full hearts to give us strength for the day's march. I don't know," continued the speaker, "what my life work will win for me, but when I die, if Peter opens the gates only a little way, I shall say 'handicarts,' and I believe that he will let me in."

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

Interpreted with the addresses, were beautiful vocal selections, given respectively by Miss Shipp and Miss Edmonds, the latter singing "O My Father," by Eliza R. Snow; and hymns written by Mrs. E. B. Wells were sung by the assembly. The closing prayer was offered by Rev. E. L. Goshen. There was an informal program, short addresses being made by Bishop O. F. Whitney, Gov. Wells and Mr. Joseph Wells, with a characteristic speech by the guest of honor, Mr. George D. Pyper sang, and the affair was an altogether delightful one.

PRESS CLUB MEETING.

Another pleasant event given in honor of Mrs. Wells was the meeting of the Press club on Saturday night, the affair being a Valentine celebration, with Mrs. Maria Kelly, as postmistress with eminent success. There were valentines galore, with a majority going to the guest of honor, while a short but enjoyable program was given and dainty refreshments served. The committee to whom credit is due for the successful affair were Mrs. Lydia D. Alder, Mrs. Romania B. Pratt and Mrs. Emily Woodmansee.

PARTY LAST NIGHT.

Last night a family party was given in honor of Mrs. Wells by her daughters, Mrs. Isabel Sears and Mrs. Annie Cannon at the home of the latter. The rooms were beautifully decorated in amethyst shades, the amethyst being Mrs. Wells' birthday stone. There was an informal program, short addresses being made by Bishop O. F. Whitney, Gov. Wells and Mr. Joseph Wells, with a characteristic speech by the guest of honor, Mr. George D. Pyper sang, and the affair was an altogether delightful one.

Mrs. Thomas Kearns has returned from Washington.

An announcement of interest to many friends was that of the marriage of Miss Amy Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pike of this city, and Dr. N. V. Withee of Ogden, the event taking place on Saturday at noon. The ceremony was performed at the University club by Rev. G. I. Goshen, as the latter was ill and unable to go. The bride was attended only by her parents, and after the ceremony the young couple left for a trip to California.

SUCCESSFUL LEAP YEAR BALL.

The leap-year ball at Christensen's hall, last night, arranged by the ladies of the Scandinavian committee and missionary association was in every respect a successful affair. It was held for the benefit of the Stockholm mission house fund, and the net proceeds are said to have been very satisfactory.

Record It.

When the Century Owl has laid its eggs and their young shall have died of old age, it will still be on our records, if he don't pay. Merchant's Protective association, scientific collectors of bad debts. Top floor Commercial block. Francis G. Burke, General Manager. "Some people don't like us."

Amusements.

Moderate in size but generous in applause, was the audience which assembled at the Salt Lake Theater last night to witness the presentation of "Richard III," by Charles B. Hanford and his company. The production was well staged and the costumes were representative of the characters and age they typified. But the acting was not strong anywhere; neither was it particularly bad. Mr. Hanford played with conscientious fidelity throughout, and at times was very satisfactory, though his class is clearly not among that of the great masters of Shakespearean interpretation. The days in which the latter reigned and shone seem to have gone into an indefinite eclipse. When they return it must be with the masters in the foreground, Shakespeare himself stood at the head of his craft, and the men who read his lines, and who impersonate his characters must do the same. When they fail, the public falls, the best proof of which is the tale told at the box office.

"Richard III" will be the bill again tonight.

At the matinee tomorrow the "Taming of the Shrew" will be the offering, and at night, "The Merchant of Venice" closes the engagement.

Artists Fairbanks and Hafon are painting a new curtain for the amusements hall in the Granite state house.

Those who have seen the work say, from an artistic standpoint, it will be the finest thing of the kind in the state. The "drop" is to be completed for the initial dramatic performance (in the new hall), which will be given March 1. The play selected is "Under the Magnolias." The people of Granite are taking a lively interest in the production in view of the fact that not only is the cast to be composed of "home talent," but the author also hails from their own state.

The Philharmonic Guaranteeing association can congratulate themselves on having an attraction in Lillian Blauvelt.

That is drawing a large advance sale of seats that has been known in musical circles for years. It looks now as though every seat in the Congregational church would be filled and all available space for chairs taken.

Ward Entertainments.

The Mutual Improvement associations of the Twenty-third ward will give a social in the regular meetinghouse tomorrow night. During the evening there will be refreshments, dancing and an informal program. The event is in honor of the closing lesson, but the associations will continue in review work for perhaps three or four weeks yet.

The lunch basket ball and sodaball in the Eighteenth ward will be held tomorrow night.

A unique feature will be the auctioning of the various lunch baskets, whose owners will be unknown. The winner will then find the name within on a card, and the fair owner will be his partner for the evening.

A select character ball will be given in the Twentieth ward annex on Friday night next, March 4, at which a prize will be given to the best sustained male and female character. On Thursday night, March 3, there will be a minstrel show in the same hall.

Clever Trick of Union Pacific Express Messenger Brought To Light.

D. E. DUNNING THE CULPRIT.

Robbed Car of Wearing Apparel and Jewelry Belonging to Miss Hamilton of Omaha.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Utah, March 1.—L. E. Dunning, an express messenger in the employ of the Union Pacific, was placed under arrest here last evening by Detective Pender, but up to the present no charge has been preferred against him. The charge, however, will be either grand larceny or robbery, which, has not yet been decided upon.

Dunning's arrest immediately followed a visit to this city of Atty. Le Grand Young, who came to Ogden yesterday and held a conference with Chief of Police Browning. Mr. Young represented that an express car had been opened between Cheyenne and Ogden, and that a quantity of ladies' wearing apparel, with a gold brooch set with pearls, diamonds and emeralds, a silver necklace and other jewelry, had been stolen from said car. The goods were the property of Miss May Louise Hamilton of Omaha, Neb., who was traveling from Omaha to San Francisco in December last. The articles were valued at $500. Judge Young secured a warrant with which to search the Dunning home on Twenty-eighth street, but at the request of Chief Browning Dunning was brought to the police station and on being put through a rigid examination confessed his guilt and turned over the goods to the officers. They were cached in his cashbox, but some of the wearing apparel had been taken to a local dressmaker, who was changing it to fit his wife. Dunning admits he is "up against it," and says that he will plead guilty to the charge. He is about 30 years of age and when he arrived in Ogden from the trip in question, reported the loss of the goods to the company, pretending he knew nothing about the robbery.

GAVE WORTHLESS CHECK.

L. Taylor was arrested last night for obtaining money under false pretenses, a charge preferred against him by Dr. Forbes. Taylor applied to the physician for medicine and tendered in payment a worthless check, receiving quite a sum of money in change. When the paper was presented at the bank payment was refused, hence Taylor's arrest.

DAIRY COMPANY FAILS.

The Pasture Dairy company, which filed its articles of incorporation Dec. 11, 1903, with a capital stock of $25,000, has admitted insolvency on a complaint filed against it by Fred J. Kiesel, who seeks to recover the sum of $1,186.75, which plaintiff loaned defendant at the time of the incorporation. Mr. Kiesel in his complaint alleged insolvency and asked that E. Murphy be appointed receiver. This was consented to by President H. L. Griffin and Secy. C. S. Grant and the receiver was therefore appointed in accordance with the petition filed.

THE STRIKE IS OVER.

The boilermakers who went out on strike Saturday afternoon returned to work last night, having received word from the east that all differences had been satisfactorily adjusted. As the men had had no particular grievances, but simply went out on orders from the head offices of the union, they were perfectly willing to resume work, and did so immediately, the word was received here.

ICE COMBINE.

The following ice companies of Ogden have consolidated for the purpose of reducing expenses: Farr Bros., Mountain, M. L. Jones, John Farr and John Smith Sons, of the Salt Lake and known as the "Citizens." It is understood that no attempt will be made to increase prices.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE.

The Blackman & Griffin company, which has been in the city for some time, has filed its articles of incorporation with the county clerk. It has a capital stock of $20,000 and its officers are B. G. Blackman, president and treasurer and F. J. Griffin, vice president and secretary. Those with C. J. Griffin form the board of directors. The company will conduct a wholesale produce business.

CONSUL SERVES NOTICE.

The agent of the Greek consul here, George A. Tsoumis, by name, has served notice on the Southern Pacific Railway company not to settle any claims for the death of the 16 Greeks killed in the Jackson explosion. The consul says he has reliable information that certain persons have falsely represented themselves to be relatives of the victims in order to collect whatever claims may be due them from the company.

FIRE EXPERT HERE.

Secretary of Pacific Board of Underwriters Talks on Burning Subject.

Secy. Alfred Stillman of the Pacific board of underwriters is in town until Friday, and is stopping at the University club. He remarked today, his great regret at losing Mr. Parkhurst, the surveyor in charge here, but was pleased to know that he was to do so well by the change. Mr. Stillman expressed the highest opinion of Mr. Parkhurst's abilities, and said he was an exceptionally bright insurance man. Mr. Stillman said in response to questions, that one marked effect of the Baltimore fire was the hastening of property owners all over the country to insure. Herefore, it had been a question of getting rid of the old premium, but now, business men seemed to have forgotten all about rebates in the desire to get insured. Mr. Stillman does not believe in cycles of years, and does not see why there should be any great fire in December, 1903, but the third, with the Baltimore and the Rochester fires at numbers one and two. The use of salt water for fires, Mr. Stillman considered a great thing, and he thought San Francisco was specially well adapted to a salt water hydrant system. He will appoint a successor to Mr. Parkhurst before returning to the coast.

CITY PAYROLLS HELD UP.

Auditor Felt Returns Them for Further Information.

The payroll of the department employees of all the city departments, except the parkkeepers, city and county building and the board of public works department, were held up by City Auditor Felt this morning and returned to the heads of the various departments for further information as to the authorization of the employment of the men on the payrolls. The payrolls were for the last half of February and those held up include all the employees in the waterworks, streets, health, city engineer, city cemetery and land and water commissioners' departments.

When the payrolls were submitted two weeks ago the city auditor called attention to the fact that he could not properly audit them for the reason that the authority for the employment of the men was not on file in his office. He requested the heads of the departments to furnish him with such authorization. He at that time let the payrolls go through but notified them that unless the information was forthcoming by the time the next payroll was submitted he would refuse to audit them. It is believed that the action of the auditor will result in some legal action being taken to test the matter.

The Utah Light & Railway company has now received and installed current regulators ordered in December, 1903, and the delay of the manufacturers in filling the order has been a source of considerable annoyance to the Utah company. The management finds that orders for machinery must be sent in one year ahead of the time for delivery. These regulators control the flow of the current very much as governors do the motion of steam engines.

STRIKE ALL OVER.

Southern Pacific Boilermakers at Ogden and Elsewhere Return to Work.

The strike of the boilermakers on the Southern Pacific is over. The trouble has been settled and the men at Ogden and elsewhere returned to work last night again. Apparently the Ogden men know nothing about the transaction. They were simply notified to throw down their tools from the union house at Ogden and return to work. The order was rescinded in the same manner and the incident closed.

The men apparently walked out without a moment's notice and the strike came as a surprise to all. Had it been a railroad company that had fired every man without 10 minutes warning, well—

San Pedro Sued.

A $2,000 damage suit has been filed in the district court against the San Pedro road by Frank Owens, who seeks to recover that amount for injuries received by being thrown from a hand car on Dec. 8, 1903, near Calientes. Plaintiff was in the employ of defendant company and had started from Calientes to Calientes on the car, which he claims had no brake. He had to use a block of wood as a brake and while attempting to stop it in that manner the block came off and he was thrown across the back, severely injuring him.
