The picture presented today is of the home of Hon. William Schansenbach, of the firm of Fred, J. Keisel & Co. It was built several years ago on one of the prettiest locations in the city, No. 526 Twenty-fifth street, over looking the lower part of the city. The house is of two stories and a half, the upper part being used for an attic. There are nine large rooms in the home, besides a spacious hall, bath room, closets, etc. The first floor is divided into four rooms and hall. Upon entering the house one passes into the hall, at the left of which are elegant double parlors, connected with the hall by folding doors. The dining room, kitchen and pantry are at the rear of the hall. A solid polished oak stair case leads to the second floor, which is divided into five large bed rooms and bath. The home is heated with hot air and is also provided with elegant polished oak fire places. It is lighted with gas. The furnishings throughout are very beautiful.

The grounds surrounding the home are some of the prettiest in the city. with a large lawn, flower beds, evergreens, shrubbery, etc., in which the owner takes great pride, making all combined one of the charming homes of Ogden.
