

POLYGAMY CASES IN ARIZONA.

The following specials from John B. Milner, Esq., were received at 4 p.m.:

The case of D. K. Udall, for polygamy, is continued till June. Edmund Ellsworth arrested for polygamy, bail given and case continued.

An appeal in Tenney, Christofferson and Kempe cases has been taken but bail refused by the Court.

LOCAL NEWS

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, DEC. 5.

From Australia.—Elders Alma Greenwood, Hinckley, Williams and family, Sister Stevenson and two children, arrived at San Francisco on the 2d inst., all well. Elders Hinckley and Greenwood remained a day, the others came on to Salt Lake and are expected to arrive on Saturday evening.

Alleged Polygamy.—Ole L. Hansen, of Brighton, was before Commissioner McKay yesterday charged with marrying as a plural wife Christina Nelson Fallentine at the Endowment House Dec. 15, 1883. The alleged plural wife and other witnesses testified but nothing direct was given in evidence by the prosecution. Mrs. Fallentine positively denied having been married to Mr. Hansen. The case was continued at 3 this afternoon.

Horse Thieves.—On Wednesday night, two horses were stolen from the Seventh Ward. One of them belonged to a Mr. Blazard and the other to Edward Callister. A saddle and blanket belonging to a Mr. Hill were also taken by the same parties. The suspected ones are two boys named Fred Self and James Abbot, who were seen to take the saddle from Hill's in the Fifth Ward, and have since disappeared.

The boy Self is the same who stole Louis Oviatt's cow and sold her to May and Gulver, and on being convicted, sentence was suspended during good behavior. Our informant is a gentleman living in the Sixth Ward. Mr. D. L. Davis, of the 17th Ward, lost a couple of horses from his corral a few nights ago. He supposes they were stolen.

Broken Leg.—Thomas Holland, of Pleasant Grove, had the misfortune to break his leg between the ankle and knee joints, on last Tuesday. He was engaged in getting out cedar stumps, in the hills west of Lehi, and while in the act of starting one out of its place down the mountain, his foot was caught between two roots and he was carried over with the stump, the accident resulting as above stated. He was also otherwise bruised about his head and body. Brother H. was put upon a wagon and reached his home about 2 o'clock in the morning, the mishap having occurred about 6 in the evening. Dr. Pike, of Provo, set the limb on Wednesday afternoon. The patient is progressing as favorably as could be expected under the circumstances.

Election Judges.—The following Judges of Election have been appointed by the Utah Commission for the municipal elections to be held in the Territory on February 9th, 1884:

Alpine City—S. W. Brown, Henry Moyle, Jacob Beck.

Coralville City—W. H. Smith, John Spriggs, Joseph Salmon.

Lehi City—James Harwood, George Webb, Joseph A. Thorn.

Manti City—E. W. Fox, Jr., Ole Neilson, John H. Hougard.

Payson City—J. H. Green, J. S. McBeth, Thomas H. Wilson.

Pleasant Grove—W. G. Sterritt, Jas. O. Bullock, John Thorn.

Ogden City, Poll 1.—F. A. Sheills, W. Low, Philip Rank.

Poll 2.—M. H. Beardsley, Henry Woolner, H. H. Goddard.

Poll 3.—John Restall, C. C. Richards, Joseph Farr.

Rather Scale-y.—Mr. Peck, Sealer of Weights and Measures, was asked this morning by a News reporter, as the former was occupied in fixing a scale down the street, if he found much to do in his line of business just now?

"Yes," replied he, "I am kept pretty busy at it. Occasionally I find a scale that doesn't weigh exactly right. The other day I came across one that was out a full hundred pounds, so that a customer who thought he was getting 500 weight, would only be getting 400."

"I don't believe it was intentional on the part of the dealer," he resumed, as the reporter wiped the beads of perspiration from his brow, the scale was simply out of order, that was all. It was a large platform scale, having several beams, and one corner had accidentally sunk down and thus thrown the scale out of balance."

"It shows," he said, "the importance of my making regular visits at any rate."

So our reporter thought, as he mentally calculated the effect such a scale would have on a hundred weight of flour.

"The kind of scales most apt to get out of order," said Mr. Peck in conclusion, "are those which are moved about a good deal."

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY DEC. 6.

Price of Solder.—The Pioneer Soda Company, of Bellevue, Idaho, want information as to the price of solder, such as is burned from old tin cans. They need about one hundred pounds, and will remit cash if the price suits. Who will give them the information? Please write to them direct.

Change of Time.—In this issue will be found the new time card of the Utah Central Railway. There are a number of changes which passengers should become acquainted with, or they may get left.

The morning train for the north leaves at 7.20 a.m., and for the south at 7.30 a.m., ten minutes earlier than heretofore.

The afternoon train for the north leaves at 4.25 p.m., and for the south at 3.40 p.m., also earlier than heretofore.

Passenger trains from the north arrive at 10.15 a.m. and 8 p.m., from the south at 10.20 a.m. and 8.30 p.m. Don't get left.

Sudden Death.—E. M. Cast, the well known ice dealer, died at his residence in the Tenth Ward, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was shingling the roof of a coal shed, and his wife observed him getting d. w. rather slowly and carefully, as if something was the matter with him. He entered the house and walked to a chair, stepping carefully so as to avoid his little child playing on the floor, and having reached the seat, gasped and expired in a couple of minutes. The supposition is that it was heart disease that caused his death. He had said to Bishop Spiers more than once that when he died he expected to go just that way, very suddenly.

The deceased leaves a large family. He was a member in good standing in the above named Ward, was of an eccentric but inoffensive nature, and though having many acquaintances, had few if any enemies. We sympathize with the bereaved family in their affliction. There was some talk of an inquest being held over the remains. The time of the funeral has not yet been learned.

RETURNED FROM NEW ZEALAND.

THE AUSTRALASIAN MISSION PROSPERING.

This afternoon we received a call from Elder Alma Greenwood, of Fillmore, who arrived home this morning from a mission to New Zealand. He left here for that part of the world, May 2nd, 1882. We have published several interesting communications from him, that have given accounts of his labors, which have been fruitful of much good, he having taken an active part in the missionary operations among the Maories, with whom an extensive work has been done, and is still progressing, many of that people having embraced the fullness of the Gospel. Elder Greenwood himself baptized 110 persons and assisted in inducting 120 others into the Church by the same ordinance. Most of these additions were aborigines, very few being white people. He also assisted in organizing five branches of the Church. The new members are generally quite intelligent, and perform their religious duties with zeal and ability. They are as a rule exceedingly hospitable, and quite exemplary in their conduct, or at least soon become so when they embrace the Gospel. In fact the change that takes place for the better in them is almost marvelous in its suddenness. The reformatory work among them introduced by the Elders was so striking that it was even observed and commented upon by some of the public journals, usually unfriendly to the "Mormons."

We have some further information from Brother Greenwood relative to new developments in the opening up of the work in New Zealand, which we have not space to introduce to-day, but will present at another time.

Elder Greenwood enjoyed good health while absent from home, and arrives in that condition with the exception of being somewhat fatigued from the effects of the long journey. He was met on the homeward trip by Mrs. Greenwood, who accompanied him to this city from that point.

ALLEGED POLYGAMY.

COMMISSIONER MCKAY'S OFFICE—MORE WITNESSES.

Hanson's case was resumed before Commissioner McKay yesterday, at 3 o'clock, when a number of new witnesses were introduced.

Mrs. Hanson was the most important witness of the afternoon session. When questions were put by Prosecutor Dickson, which she considered of an indecent nature, she would not answer them until they were put in a different way. She testified to the effect that she had never seen Mr. Hanson and Miss Valentine in bed together, and said she did not believe they had ever occupied the same bed.

Ludwig Hanson, a nephew of the defendant, testified as follows: The defendant is my uncle; I know Mrs. Valentine; I have seen her at my uncle's house. There are two rooms in my uncle's house; I sleep in one on a lounge; my uncle and aunt sleep in the bed; the little girl sleeps in the other room; Mrs. Valentine sleeps in the loft; I have seen my uncle since I was subpoenaed; he said nothing to me except that I must come; neither did my aunt; I never saw Mrs. Valentine in bed with my uncle; I only heard he was married to her about two weeks ago; I asked him about it; he said no, and I guess he told the truth.

Hedovich, a little girl eight years of age next testified. She did not know her own age; she knew Mrs.

Hanson and lived with her; she knew it was wrong to tell an untruth; said her mother was in Denmark; she knew Mrs. Valentine; had seen her at Mr. Hanson's and said she (Mrs. Valentine) slept alone in the loft. In answer to Mr. Dickson's question's she said neither Mr. or Mrs. Hanson nor Mrs. Valentine had told her to answer the the questions in the way she had.

Deputy Marshal Ferguson testified he had served the notice on Mrs. Iverson (daughter of Mrs. Valentine), who seemed very nervous and said she could not and would not come, did not want to hear the subpoena read.

A certificate signed by Dr. Shipp was given in to the effect that Mrs. Iverson was too ill to attend court. Mr. Iverson said his wife was not sufficiently strong to come, but was willing the court should go and wait on her, and said furthermore, if Mr. McKay would not guarantee not to keep her long, he would not bring her up. Mr. McKay said "I will guarantee nothing." An attachment was issued, but it was deemed advisable to postpone bringing her up until this morning.

Mr. Anderson testified he had known Mr. Hansen since last May and Mrs. Valentine for about three years; she lived in a house in May last, which he moved into with his family and remained until September; there were four rooms in the house. He said himself and family occupied one bedroom and Mrs. Valentine the other, and he had seen Hanson in the bedroom once and knew of him occupying the bedroom three nights with Mrs. Valentine, whom he had heard speak of Hanson as her "man;" had heard Mrs. Valentine call Mr. Hanson into the house, saying it was bedtime; also said Hanson had denied to him as being married to Mrs. Valentine.

Hanson told Anderson he had his wagon with him and slept in it, and said he (Anderson) knew it. The case was here continued until this morning at 10 o'clock, but owing to Mr. Iverson stating his wife could arrive before half-past 10, the proceedings were stayed for her arrival.

Mr. Sprague was again called in as interpreter.

Mrs. Iverson arrived at 10.45 a. m., and took a seat. Her testimony began and after she had answered a number of questions, the fact dawned that she had not yet taken the oath. This being administered she again repeated her answers and testified as follows: I am 24 years of age, live in the Fifth Ward, and have known Mr. Hansen, the defendant, for about a year and a half. Mrs. Valentine is my mother. Never spoke to her about her being married to Mr. Hanson, he was very kind to my mother having taken some chickens to the city for her several times.

Mrs. Valentine was the next witness. Testified through Mr. Sprague, interpreter. She had a few chickens, and one day Mr. Anderson, who was living in one part of the house, came to her and asked how many eggs she had taken, and said they belonged to him. He talked loud and looked angry, from that time (she was afraid of him, and asked Mr. Hanson to come over and protect her from Anderson that night, which he did, and didn't know where he slept after she went out of the house. Anderson was living in the house but only for fourteen days. Hanson had never slept with her. He had never remained in her room all night. He lived two miles from her house. He slept in his wagon and she could call him up if she needed him.

Mr. Hansen was asked by Mr. McKay, the U. S. Commissioner, if he (Hansen) wished to testify in his own case. Mr. Hansen said yes, and the oath was then taken and he proceeded to testify. He said his name was Ole Lars Hansen (with an e). The first time he saw Mrs. Valentine was about 18 months ago as he was passing her house, on his way to this city. He stopped his team and asked her about some rye, growing near by. She did not understand him and he discovered she was Danish. He then spoke to her in Danish. She told me she was a widow and had our children. "She wanted me to take a few chickens to market for her, and I did, and she felt thankful and often went to the city with us. We had to pass her place close to the fence on our way. I asked her where she was from and she told me. We found out that her uncle had been my school teacher. We became friends. Anderson told me he had bought the property and told the old lady she could live there, and she was very glad. Afterwards something disagreeable came up and she asked me to come over and stay as she was afraid. I went, talked over religion a while then went to bed in my wagon; took breakfast with her in the morning and then went to town. I did not speak to Anderson about the difficulty. Never went to Mrs. Valentine's house without first being asked by her. Never slept in her room; did not think it proper for me to sleep on the floor; always went to my wagon; don't remember of her ever telling me it was time for bed. Never was married to her, and never slept in her bed. She afterwards said Anderson had abused her and she wanted to move. She came to this city and remained two or three months. She wished me to call occasionally. She asked if she might not come to my home and live. I told her yes, but she would have to help my wife in the house and I could not pay her anything. Her son in Idaho wanted her to have endowments. I procured a recommendation for myself to go with her as interpreter, as she could not speak English. Gave my recommendation to President Angus M. Cannon. Don't remember if he gave me any paper back or not, he told me to go and see President Taylor. I did so and he gave me permission to go as interpreter. Did not see Mrs. Valentine in the Endowment House. I followed the people as they passed from room to room, but I was always one room behind. There were other Danes getting their endowments who interpreted for her, so I was not needed. Remained in the House about three hours, then went to the tithing yard to attend to some business. It was some time before she came there; then we went home together. I did not speak to her about what was said in the House, and I wouldn't tell you (Mr. Dickson, who was cross-examining witness) what is done in the Endowment House, if it cost me my life.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY DEC. 8.

STAKE CONFERENCE.

The regular Quarterly Conference of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene in the Assembly Hall next Saturday and Sunday, 13th and 14th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m. A general attendance is requested.

ANGUS M. CANNON,
JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,
CHARLES W. PENROSE,
Presidency of the Stake.

Sent to Detroit.—The following dispatch has been received:

PRESCOTT, A. T.,
Dec. 7th, 1884.

Editor Deseret News:

A. M. Tenney, P. J. Christofferson and C. I. Kemp started to Detroit this morning, and W. J. Flake and J. N. Skonsen to Yuma.

D. K. UDALL.

Lost a Foot.—Eusebio Ramella, eight and a half years of age, had his foot badly crushed on Saturday afternoon in the Fifth Ward, by an incoming Utah Central freight train. He was playing near the track, and it is said trying to climb on the train and fell. He was taken to Dr. Benedict's office, where his foot was amputated. He is doing as well as can be expected.

A Report Denied.—The Tribune of yesterday states that it is the intention of the D. & R. G. W. to extend their road into the northern country in the spring, and that a third rail will be laid between here and Ogden, to enable the Central Pacific people to run their cars into Salt Lake over the D. & R. G. W. Our reporter called upon Mr. Bancroft, receiver of the road last named this morning, who said there were no grounds for such a statement, and that there is nothing in it.

Excommunicated.—A few days since we mentioned an alleged case of gross immorality in the Sixth Ward of this city, the action of the Church in relation to which had been deferred on account of the absence of Bishop Hickenlooper from the city. He having returned, however, the investigation of the affair, under his direction, was completed. The result is that, in accordance with the judgment of the Bishop's Court of the Sixth Ward, Sarah Winter and Thomas G. Winter were, on Saturday last, excommunicated from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The Davis Stake Conference.—The Davis Stake Conference at Kaysville, on the 6th and 7th inst., was numerously attended and was very interesting. On Saturday the usual business was transacted and a number of wards were represented by their respective Bishops. Elder B. H. Roberts gave a pleasing account of the labors of the Elders and the persecutions attending them in the Southern States. In the afternoon Apostle John W. Taylor delivered a discourse on the evils of the times and the duties of the Saints.

On Sunday morning Elder C. W. Penrose occupied the time on the practical duties of the Saints and the Lesser Priesthood. In the afternoon, after the authorities were sustained, Apostle F. D. Richards preached a discourse in the same line of thought as the morning's remarks, and dwelling in detail on the duties of the various officers in the Church, and the different societies organized as auxiliaries, and showing how they could mutually aid in rooting out evil and establishing righteousness. President W. R. Smith made a few pointed remarks on several timely topics. The singing under Elder Joseph Barton was excellent. The meeting house was crowded in every part.

Hanson Bound Over.—We left off our report of this case Saturday after the examination of the defendant. At 1.30 p. m. Angus M. Cannon and Edward Schoenfeldt were questioned, the former as to the recommendation which Hanson had claimed he had given him in order to obtain admission to enter the Endowment House; but his recollection did not justify his statement positively that he ever handled such a document, as a great number of such papers had passed through his hands.

Edward Schoenfeldt testified to the effect that he had given defendant a recommendation, but could not remember whether a request had been made to allow defendant to go through the Endowment House as an interpreter or not. It might have been, but if so it had slipped from his memory.

The Prosecuting Attorney then asked that defendant be held for unlawful cohabitation to answer to the Grand Jury. Hanson said he could not understand this, he was sure he had a clear case.

Commissioner McKay informed defendant that in his opinion there was probable cause for holding him, and fixed the bail at $1,500; and that Mrs. Valentine and Ludwig Hansen would be required to furnish, besides their own recognizance, sufficient security for their appearance, and their sureties were fixed at $250 each. Bonds were given by all.

Returned Elders.—Elder Ira N. Hinckley, Jr., of Fillmore, returned on Saturday the 6th inst., from New Zealand, where he has been laboring as a missionary for nearly two years and eight months. The first ten months he labored among Europeans on Middle Island and met with little success. After this he was called to North Island and there, in company with Elder Alma Greenwood, commenced his labors among the Maories. They were treated with the greatest hospitality by the natives, who listened to them attentively and many of them received the truth. He personally baptized 102 souls, about 100 of them Maories. They receive most readily the very doctrines the whites are most apt to reject or call in question, such as the calling of the Prophet Joseph Smith, the organization of the Church with Apostles and Prophets, with gifts and blessings, the coming forth of the Book of Mormon, etc. They have great faith in the healing ordinance, and the Elders have much administering to do. Elder Hinckley enjoyed his labors very much, had excellent health, and feels thankful for the school of experience he has just past through. He met with no ill-treatment from the natives, and only tongue abuse from the Europeans.

Elder N. L. Lund, of Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete County, returned last night from Minnesota. He left for the Northwestern States mission the 10th of April, 1883, and labored first in the above named State for several weeks, and then in Dakota through the summer, with Elder S. Jacobson. They returned to Minnesota about the 1st of November. At the December Conference he was appointed to labor in Meeker County and other places, and did so during the winter, with Elder Loutsenock. In the spring he labored with Elder Breinholt in Meeker and neighboring counties, and spent the summer in Dakota. They returned to Minnesota about the 1st of November, and labored till December 1st, when Elder Lund was released. He baptized four persons and assisted at two other baptisms. He met no ill-treatment to speak of, found many kind people, but few who were willing just now to receive the Gospel. He labored principally among the Scandinavians. His health has not suffered, though there the climate in winter is severe.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—In the main shaft of the Gregory Mine, near Wickes, M. T., the chain of the ore-bucket broke. The bucket fell a distance of four hundred feet down the shaft, killing John Thomas, Wm. Wilcox, and broke the leg of another man.

—At Helena, on the 26th ult. during a heavy gale, a part of the roof was blown off the graded school building, and also part of the roof of the Montana National Bank building. The latter building is the finest structure in the city.

—Fred Rounseville and Jim Hayden are to have a trial in the United States District Court at Bozeman, M. T., next month, upon the charge of smuggling horses across the Canadian line. Sixteen of these animals are now in custody of a special agent of the treasury department.

—A story comes from the redwoods of Santa Clara County, California, that the wife of a wood-chopper named Montgomery, living on the Santa Cruz side, presented her astonished spouse with a quartette of babies, three boys and a girl, on the night of Nov. 14th. The infants weighed all the way from two to six pounds.

—An exchange says: "C. S. McFarlin of Billings, M. T., gave his dog 'Queen' to Judge Dye of the Stinking Water country, who took her out with him about three weeks ago. Yesterday at noon 'Mac' was surprised to find 'Queen' at his house with a collar on her neck and a piece of rope attached, showing that she had broken away from her kennel and came into town a distance of about 160 miles, across two rivers and a range of mountains." [We don't blame 'Queen' a particle; stinking water smells best at the distance of 160 miles.—E. D. NEWS.]

125 Years Old.

Messrs. Francis Newbery & Son, London, England, established for 125 years, writes: As a testimonial from one of the oldest drug-houses in Great Britain, respecting your household remedy, will no doubt be of interest to you, we are pleased to make the statement that we have sold St. Jacobs Oil with satisfaction to the public for several years, and that owing to the extraordinary merits of the article, the demand is continually increasing, and that we have heard of many favorable reports regarding its great virtue as a pain-curing remedy.
