about the fair, but on looking about the officers discovered the body of a man in hiding under one of the benches. When pulled out into the light the man was found to be a negro. His face, which was a ghastly white, was covered from head to foot with blood. Dr. Steely was summoned and upon examination found the man to be dead. The cause of death, extending from the nape of the neck clear over the head to the forehead, which took six stitches to close. When questioned the negro said he was with the assailant he was dumb as an oyster. To find out who the other fellow was is baffling the police, as invariably in such cases the negroes are the only ones "trying" and then if the assailant is found guilty the information is given to the police, but if not deemed sufficiently guilty they have nothing to say.

General Hospital.

Plans for the erection of the new hospital have been definitely shaped. The architects of incorporation were held with the county clerk last Tuesday. It is to be known as the Pocatello General Hospital.

The corporation is capitalized at $20,000, divided into 500 shares of $40 each. Of this amount, $5,000 has already been subscribed. The incorporators are W. F. Howard, Mannie E. Mains, A. L. Cook and H. A. Castle. Work on the structure, it is understood, will commence at once.

Burned by Acid.

Robert Mobley of the U. S. assay office in this city was frightfully burned yesterday about the hands and face with carbolic acid. He was shaking a large bottle of the poisonous fluid, when the cork suddenly flew out, spill-

Brady Files Answer.

Another chapter was unfolded this afternoon in the somewhat famous litigation over the Boise Capital News of this place, with the filing of the answer of J. H. Brady, chairman of the republican state committee, in the injunction case brought against him by R. S. Sheridan. The latter brought the tion to restrain Brady from voting the stock belonging to Sheridan, C. H. Fisher, president of the company, had fraud upon the part of Fisher and Brady, and further alleged that Brady was seeking to secure control of the company for his own use, and that it is personal political ambitions. Brady made a loan to the News, taking the stock of three men and $50,000 bonds as security. He had been in the company two years and he had the stock made out in his name.

Fisher alleges that he consented to the transaction with the understanding that the stock was to be returned in a week by Fisher and Brady, the owners of the stock. Fisher, however, did not return the stock, and he was fulfilling the same in his answer. Brady denies there was any fraud. Fisher and Brady told him that the stock was to be returned. He is told one provision was that he should not know the name of the lender. Another provision was that Sheridan, C. H. Fisher, was to be the manager of the company and Fisher be ected. Brady alleges the change was made three weeks after the loan was made. He states it was agreed that he was to hold and vote the stock for three years, and control the paper, which was to be independent in politics. Mr. Brady's political ambition referred to in Sheridan's complaint is for the United States senatorship, to which he is said to aspire.

Charles Lewis, a young man of the town, who is employed on the Harkness ranch, received some very painful injuries the other day, which came nearly causing him the loss of his eyes. Lunch had been carried to the men working in the field, and with it a pall of hot coffee, covered with a tight fitting lid. On reaching the camp, the coffee was put on the stove to rewarm it, but the lid was not removed. The liquid soon commenced to boil, and Charles, seeing that the lid of the pall was still on, tapped it with a knife to knock it off, whereupon an explosion
