BY TELEGRAPH.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.
Last Night's Dispatches.
CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, 15.—Hale offered a resolution seating Belford, which Clerk Adams refused to entertain. Hale appealed from the decision of the clerk, who declined to entertain the appeal. The previous question on proceeding to the election of Speaker once moved, put and carried. Hale demanded a division. The result was 149 ayes, 129 nays, so the resolution was adopted.

Clymer nominated Randall and Hale nominated Garfield. The clerk appointed Clymer, Banning, Fort and Oster tilters, and by a vote of 149 to 135, Randall was elected over Garfield.

Garfield and Goode conducted the Speaker to the chair and Kelly, of Pennsylvania, administered the oath.

The Speaker said: Gentlemen of the House of Representatives—Elevated for the second time by your generosity to the exalted position of Speaker of this House, I thank you with a grateful heart, shall endeavor with even temper, but with rigid firmness, to perform the duties of the office and to respond adequately to the confidence reposed in me by conforming my action to the clearly expressed will of the House. Yet fully realizing the delicacy and difficulty of the position, I solicit your advice and assistance, feeling assured at the same time of your forbearance and indulgence. We meet under circumstances imperiously demanding that all considerations of class and section shall be subordinated to the loftier and more patriotic object of doing what is best for the whole country and all its people. The adjournment of the administration has been introduced into office which is obeyed as the actual government, regardless of the grave events which marked its birth, and this House, animated by a spirit of true patriotism, desiring first public tranquility under the law, will frankly approve any sincere and permanent policy looking toward peace and the consequent promotion of the general welfare, but it should be held our sacred duty to provide legislation which will render impossible a repetition of the wrongs which have occurred and of the dangers which threatened us. I assume the office, I will render backward in the work of retrenchment and reform so auspiciously begun at the last House. Under a matured and definite plan of reduction of the expenses of the Government it is certain that still greater reduction can be made without impairing the efficiency of the administration. I should be frugal. Never before was it more urgent than now, with general financial distress and with labor distressed by heavy burdens, to expedite the reduction of the public debt. The rule of hard necessity darkens every household in the land, extravagance on the part of the people's servants is an unpardonable crime. It is partly because of that whole some policy so faithfully carried out that I am permitted this day to speak from this place, invoking for our deliberations tolerance of opinion, which secure, harmonious action, right and clear judgment, which purifies legislation, and that mutual confidence and respect shall subside between the House and its presiding officer. I am now ready to take the oath prescribed by law. (Clapping of hands on the democratic side of the chamber.)

The oath was administered. The Speaker then administered the oath to the members. Most of the southern members took the qualified oath. Objection was made to swearing in Calhoun, Bayard, of South Carolina, Darrel, Ellis and Robertson, of Louisiana, and Paschere, of California, and those members stood aside.

The delegates of the Territories were all sworn in without objection. Clymer offered resolutions electing as clerk George M. Adams of Kentucky; sergeant-at-arms, John C. Thompson of Ohio; doorkeeper, John W. Folk, Minnesota; postmaster, James M. Stewart, Virginia; chaplain, Rev. Dr. John Poirer, Maryland.
