WINONA, STARE CO., IND. During the winter I and my famfly of six were taken with la grippe. The disease was very prevalent at that time in the village where I resided, nearly everyone being sick with it. Our doctors treated it as best they could, but were very unsuccessful in the treatment of it. As soon as my family were taken sick I went to the drugstore and bought six bottles of Pe-ru-na, and we yond receiving Gov. TENDENCY OF CORPORATIONS. One of the growing evils of the day is the tendency of corporations, com-panics and individuals conducting business which is charged with a public interest-such as that of common carrier, carrier of telegraphic news inended for the general public, etc., promote private interests by favoring a few at the expense of the many. This favoritism is wrong in principle This favoriosm is woods in pronopolies and fosters and builds up monopolies to the detriment of the best interest of all our efficients, excepting the favored few. This tendency should, as far as possible, be checked by legislation. I therefore recommend that an act be therefore recommend that an act be passed making it a public offense for any corporation, company or individ-ual doing business in this State, such business being charged with a public interest, to discriminate against any citizen, corporation or company in this State, by refusing to grant equal privi-leges, prices or terms to one which are given to others in this State.

Without any desire to trespass upon the prerogatives of the legislative branch. I feel that it is proper for me to suggest that one of the evils of mod-ern times is the making of too many changes in statutory laws. The body ern times is the making of too many changes in statutory laws. The rapidity with which the details of the favorable military operations at Magaliesberg are received excites the sugnicion that affairs are not going equally well in other quarters whence no authentic news can be obtained. Gen. French's cavalry division has again outmanoeuvered and defeated De Larey, possibly has driven his force out of the Witwatersrand district, although this is not quite clear from the dispatches. The mountain strongholds are less important to the Boers than formerly, since they are making little use of artillery and are depending almost entirely on their rifles and horses. French ap-parently has the body of mounted men requisite for the hot pursuit of De Larey's burghers, but they will probably divide and break up into small bands. From Knox's headquarters there is less information than from Magallesberg and the fears of military men that something has gone wrong are not dispelled. The scene of operations against Dewet is, however, at a distance from the railway and communications are slow. Defensive operations against the raiders who are roaming at will in the Dutch districts of Cape Colony are conducted on a large scale, but no active measures for following or heading off invaders are reported.
