WOMAN WANTED HOME-MADE GOODS

When Imported Macaroni Was Sent Her She Refused Absolutely to Accept the Tender.

Manufacturers' Association Increasing Its Membership and Progressing Nicely.

A story that illustrates how at least on Salt Lake woman became a heroine in the cause of home manufactured goods, is vouched for by a South Main street merchant. The merchant has been unfortunate in his experience with home made goods, in the past, and on account of inferiority in quality had decided to import all his goods from standard eastern houses. Now he has thought it over again, and is once more placing orders at home, with the idea of continuing it while the quality will justify the action.

A woman was at the bottom of it. Sho was a woman shopper who bought heavily at the merchant's store, and last week she placed an order for a number of things, specifying that all of them should be home made.

SENT "JUST AS GOOD."

The merchant never heard of "home The merchant never heard of "home made macaroni," so in filling this item he sent a "just as good" brand from far away, where some far away manufacturer got the Utah money, instead, of it going to support some list of wage earners at home. Next day when the delivery man called, the box of macaroni sat on the table unopened and the deliveryman was told in no uncertain way "to take it back, and to send tain way "to take it back, and to send either home mademacaroni or n-o-n-e." was mentioned with such emphasis that the merchant felt com-pelled to sit up and take notice, and to stock up his store with everything he could find that was built or made or grown at home, and now he is won-dering what next will be called for, and how long the interest will last on the part of the public.

OUTLOOK ENCOURAGING.

At the headquarters of the Manufacturers & Merchants' association the work suggests that the interest will be permanent, and that the day is past when home manufactured goods need be disbarred on account of their inferior quality. The big meeting for women, at which the auxiliary will be formed, will be held at the Commercial club Wednesday evening, Jan. 17. A number of invitations have been sent to women's organizations, and a general invitation is extended to all women who care to, to attend. The movement will be explained, and an auxiliary organized, but no financial responsibility will be attached to the membership.

MEETING TONIGHT.

The board of directors of the organization will meet tonight to pass on amendments to the constitution, and to consider the matter of a trip over the state, on which the doctrine of the necessity for a great central market like Salt Lake, in order to have a great state, will be explained, and the idea of reciprocity in trade between Utah cities will be exploited.

The most recent additions to the membership of the association bring it over the 200 mark. The last to join are: George S. Bell, A. L. Polk & Co.; Callaway, Hoock & Francis; Brown, Terry & Woodruff; the Fluff Rug company, and Fred Herdlisky.

PROF. THOMAS RADCLIFFE. The Well Known Salt Lake Organist Who Died Suddenly Last Night.

Prof. Thomas Radeliffe, the well known organist, pianist and musician, died at 9 o'clock last night from exhaustion, caused by asthma from which he has suffered for a number of years. It was only yesterday morning that the professor was, apparently, in fair health, and there seemed no reason why he should not live a number of years to come. But during the afternoon he became greatly distressed. Physicians were summoned and everything was done to relieve the sufferer; but he fell into a lethargy from which he could not be aroused, and with all the members of his family present, he quietly Prof. Radeliffe was one of the best known musicians in the west. He was born in the island of Malta, in the Mediterranean sea, nearly 70 years ago, but afterwards removed with his par-ents to England where he received a thorough education. His instructors were Capriani, Potter, Conybeare, and Howson and Best. The latter musician took marked interest in his promising pupil. Prof. Radeliffe became eminent as an executant before he came to this as an executant before he came to this country, officiating on the great organs in St. George's hall in Liverpool, St. Paul's cathedral in London, Westminster Abbey, and in other noted churches, as well as performing at great musical festivals. He was especially skilled in oratorio and with the standard works of all the great company.

standard works of all the great com-posers he was well acquainted.

Prof. Radeliffe came to America 27 years ago, and located in Boston. He was induced to remove to this city the made organist of the First Congregational church then worshipping in Independence hall. He has ever sipre resided in Salt Lake, though his work has by no means been confined to following year, largely through the efforts of Mrs. Dr. Hamilton, and was has by no means been confined to its municipal limits, for he has appeared successfully as an organist at the World's Fair in Chicago, and a num-ber of times in important musical func-tions in Denver, Chicago, New York.

Spokane, Boise, Ogden and other cities Weber, Beethoven, Bach and Handel were his favorite composers, and he was particularly pleasing when playing their compositions. When the First Congregational church was built at the corner of Fourth East and First South streets, the fine organ there was built from Prof. Radel Te's specifications, and under his supervision, and in the building of the Christian Science and St. Paul's church organs, and in the reconstruction of other instruments hi advice and counsel were found to be most valuable. He not only knew how to play, but he was well acquainted with organ construction, and personally kept the First church organ in good condition, and it was through his knowledge that the instrument was provided with fine solo stops that from the first marked it as one of the best instruments in the west.

Prof. Radeliffe was a planist and composer, as well as organist, and a most excellent accompanist on the plane That he was a good composer was only recently indicated in his winning of the $500 prize for the Tribunt anthem, the adjudicator being Dean Parker of the Yale musical faculty. He was planning a pleasant trip to the coast which, it was believed, would benefit his health, when the final summons came. The deceased was one of the best pedalists in the country, and could use his feet with the celerity that most musicians can use their fingers. Pedal playing was second nature to him, so that he unconsciously followed the lower score from a merest glance, while watching more closely the scores above for manual performance. The man was heart and soul a musician, and his musicianship was recognized years ago by his being made a charter member of the American Guild of Organists. He

Judge Armstrong Rules Against Justice Omie in Civil Case.

For the second time within a week a writ of prohibition has been granted by one of the judges of the district court against Justice of the Peace Mc-Omle of Murray to prohibit him from taking any further action in a case wherein it was alleged that he had no ! jurisdiction. The second writ was issued by Judge Armstrong yesterday and it prohibits Justice McOmie from taking any further action in a case in his court entitled Bagley Bros. against him in the probate court of Suffolk county, Mass., on Jan. 23, 1903. The Alex Winters on the ground that he had no jurisdiction either of the parties to or subject matter of the action. It was claimed by Winters in his petition for the writ of prohibition that the cause of action did not arise in Murray and that neither of the parties to the suit were residents of Murray, hence Justice McOmie was without jurisdiction. In granting the writ Judge Armstrong sustains the contention of the petition-

JANUARY AILMENTS

AND HOW TO TREAT THEM.

The Healthfulness of January Weather

Discussed.

January is the best month of winter,the best for health, the best for business, the best for pleasure. The best for recreation The trying weather of Movember and December have passed and most people have become acclimated to winter weather.

Dr. Hartman, in speaking of catarrhal diseases prevalent during January, among other things, said, "Notwithstanding January is a midwinter month, fower cases of chronic catarrh are acquired during this mouth than any other month of the year, with the possible exception of October."

He went on to say. "The healthfulness of January weather, however should not put people off their guard. There are many little rules that should be carefully observed.

"For instance, the feet should be kept dry. The hands and wrists kept warm Sleeping rooms should be well ventilated. The throat gargled with cold water every morning. All these are excellent preventatives to catching cold or acquiring eatarrh.

The Dostor further said, "During a long and busy life, I have never omitted these How Dr. Hartman Avoids details. In addition to these, I always have a hottle of Peruna in my room. If I have . slight cough or hoarsoness, - the least sign of sore throat or specing, I take a few doses of Persina and the difficulty disappears.

Colds and Catarrhal Allments.

"I have used Peruna very nearly all my life and I attribute my hale and hearty old age to the use of Peruna. I know many other old people who can ay the same.

"While January is a salubrious month, yet caution should be observed Those who have chronic catarrhal ailments should b. warned that the healthfulness of January weather is not sufficient to Lenefly catarrhal diseases. It can be assumed that the catarrh is of a grave terms A course of Peruna should be resorted to. "Peruna." ery Pr. Hartman, "is my own remedy for catarrha diseases, whether acute or chronic. From the slighter cold to the most settled and stabborn cawerb, I use Perana and Fernna only, and certainly my success in treating catarrhal diseases ought to be a guarantee that Peruna is an efficient remedy. "I have received many interesting !etters from those who have taken Peruna, telling me of the value of Peruna in preserving health, preventing disease and relieving catarrnal ailments. One letter that I recall at this time is from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klee, of 215 East 4th street, Topeka, Kas.

"We are both much pleased with Peruna and do not hesitate to praise it on every occasion.

"My wife took Peruna for liver trouble and a run down condition incident to the same. A few bottles built up her health and strength.

"I took Peruna for a cold which settled in my kidneys, giving me much pain. In two weeks I was much better and in a few months I was well. We keep it on hand all the time, in case we take a cold." Another correspondent, Mr. Fred Derseweh, of Ridgetop, Tenn., has used Peruna in his family for five years. Among other things, he says: "We have used Peruna in our family for five years. It is one of the best medicines I know of. I and my wife and our thirteen children do not need a doctor, since we use Peruna.'
