

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Returned.—Father Thomas Corbin, of Peterson, called this morning, having just returned from St. George. The old gentleman, ranging well along in the seventies, is as juvenile as ever, and ready to dance a hornpipe on the slightest provocation. He says he never felt better in his life. Welcome back.

Grand Entertainment.—To-morrow (Tuesday) evening, there will be a grand entertainment in the 15th Ward School-house, for the benefit of Bro. E. Deesley, leader of the Ward choir, as a slight acknowledgment for his efficient services. A fine and varied programme is prepared and the charge for admission will be 25 cents. To commence at 7:30. Several excellent singers and reciters will take part in the performance, which promises to be exceedingly interesting.

Congratulations.—Good wishes are in order for another happy couple. On Thursday last, May 6th, President D. H. Wells officiated in the ceremony which united Mr. George Arbuckle and Miss Elizabeth S. Allen for time and eternity. The groom is well known as an accomplished salesman in the grocery establishment of Young, Marks and Young, and the bride is esteemed by all her acquaintances for her womanly graces and ladylike deportment.

A Scandal Suit.—A suit for $50,000 has been filed in the Third District Court, by Ferdinand Dickert, civil and mining engineer and recently a deputy U. S. mineral surveyor, against Albert G. Campbell. The complaint sets forth that on the 2nd day of February last, Campbell addressed a letter to Mr. James Lowe, in which he scandalized the reputation of Dickert as a mining surveyor, on alleged grounds of dishonorable conduct while acting as U. S. Deputy Surveyor, by which means his name and business had been injured to the amount stated.

Gone to Rest.—We learn from a friend in Provo, of the death of sister Mary Ann Ogden, who departed this life at that place yesterday morning at eight o'clock, and was buried last evening. Deceased was a sister of Judge W. N. and Hon. W. H. Dusenberry. She resided in California for many years, was afflicted with the dropsy, and came to Utah some time ago, as she said, "to die among her friends." She lingered along for several months, sometimes better and again worse, until finally death put an end to her sufferings. A week or two previous, she announced her desire of joining the Church, and was accordingly baptized and confirmed. After this, she felt more at ease in mind, and expressed herself as ready to die when the Lord saw fit to take her. She passed away without a struggle. The early burial was necessitated. Deceased was the mother of three children.

Utah Flora.—We had a visit this morning from Prof. W. E. Jones, explorations in the Rocky Mountain Territories we noticed a few days ago. This gentleman has just returned from St. George. His trip to Southern Utah was for the purpose of collecting botanical specimens for several universities. He has secured about 5,000 specimens representing 200 different species, and would have obtained many more if it had not been for the backwardness of the season. He intends spending two or three months in Utah, and part of the time will attend to the botanical class which he commenced to-day. Prof. Jones will visit other parts of the Territory, and contemplates publishing a work devoted to the flora of this region, no adequate text book for the study of which exists. He says Utah is specially notable for the vast number of medicinal plants to be found within her borders. We hope to see a place in the museum of the near future, specially devoted to the science of botany.

Solian Revels.—The following, from the Enquirer, describes the effects of the wind storm that visited Utah County last week, and of which we have, as yet, heard but little.

"A furious wind swept over this county on Wednesday afternoon last and blew things around at a lively rate. Frame houses, wooden shanties, barns, outhouses and such like were made sensible of the storm King's angry mood. Scattered around in some places could be seen the fragments of hay stacks, manure piles, barn doors, fence rails and uprooted trees, engaged in a lively warfare.

But from all accounts, the fury of the storm in the northern part of the county exceeded anything of the kind ever experienced in that region before, and was evidently much more violent than in the settlements south.

The only casualties that we have heard of, up to the present time, happened in and around Lehi. A new adobe house, owned by Mr. Samuel James, was blown several feet from its foundation, and laid in a confused heap, with hardly a whole adobe left to be found in the mass of debris. The stable end of John Gibbs' house was blown down, and the roof of James Carter's dwelling was carried off by the wind. John R. Peterson's house was burned down to the ground, and all that was saved were a stove and a sewing machine. This mishap occurred through a spark from the locomotive (the house being distant only 50 feet from the railroad) which lodged in some straw near the house. Notwithstanding the efforts of a large number of men to extinguish the flames, the house and furniture were entirely destroyed within 15 minutes after the fatal spark fell. Great sympathy is expressed for Mr. James and Mr. Peterson especially, as they had just completed their buildings and occupied them. The point on Mr. Peterson's house was severely dry. There is some talk of raising a subscription in Lehi to enable them to rebuild, as the unfortunate men are, financially, in poor circumstances.

At Alpine a new adobe house was blown down belonging to Mr. Neilson. Some cow-sheds, belonging to Mr. Stephen Moyle, were lifted from the ground and carried away some distance.

Sunday Services.—The general meeting of the Latter-day Saints yesterday afternoon, was held in the Tabernacle.

The congregation was addressed by Elder Henry W. Nalabitt, who began his discourse with the remark that the Sabbath, according to the views of the Saints, was not only a day of rest, but of spiritual refreshing, for there were spiritual wants to be supplied as well as temporal necessities. Regarding the need of the administrations of the Spirit, a great many people were at variance with the Latter-day Saints. It was allowed by "Christians" everywhere, that in the days of the Savior the gifts and blessings that flow from the Holy Spirit were indispensable to the true and proper establishment of his Church, and to its efficacy in the accomplishment of the things it was bid to establish, but in modern times, strange to say, these same gifts and blessings were accounted as non-essential. All Christians acknowledged the beauty, utility and perfection of the ancient Gospel, and not only conceded but advocated its claim to divine authenticity. If this gospel was divine, it was necessarily perfect in all its parts and principles, and neither would require nor permit any additions or alterations. It was the product of Almighty Wisdom, and was above the power of man to criticize or to change for the better. We could not suppose it contained anything superfluous, for God did not do anything in vain. Everything connected with it was essential to the proper consummation of the work it had to perform, which work was the salvation of the human family, in all ages of the world, and it was but reasonable to suppose that if the plan was changed, the results would be changed correspondingly. In the various departments of science and art, it was conceded that the success of a project depended upon the faithful adherence to the established principles. Why not the same in regard to the gospel, which was the science of all sciences? The Bible informed us what the gospel was, its forms, doctrines and operations, as taught and practiced in the days of Christ and the Apostles. Was not the same gospel needed now to accomplish the same results? Yet how vast the difference between the original gospel and the various religious systems of the day, which profess to be in its likeness. The only thing which would excuse this great variation would be to prove that the former gospel was imperfect, and that the religions of the world had superseded it. Account of its weakness and deficiency. But this we could not do. It was conceding the wisdom of God below the intelligence of man. Therefore the change was inexcusable. We were not justified in throwing away a substance to grasp at a shadow, to relinquish that which was tried and proven for that which was faulty and defective on first appearance. The new religions were to be the true and original gospel, identical with that taught by the Savior, and to earth in all its primal purity and power. All the scriptures and principles then taught were believed and advocated by the Latter-day Saints. They accepted it in its entirety and would not countenance the slightest deviation from its originality. It was an everlasting gospel, eternally the same. There was no believing in it and rejecting it in part. All the principles were necessary to its perfection, and any departure therefrom was a heresy from the right. This gospel was revealed through Joseph Smith, an humble person selected from all the intelligences of the age to bring forth the truth in the latter days. That he was poor and humble was no argument against his being a man chosen of God for the work, for the same argument could be and had been urged against the Savior and his Apostles. The question was not was he sufficiently educated and polished for the important mission he fulfilled, but was the system he established the truth? It was certainly an exacting standard of the faith formerly delivered to the Saints, and the Latter-day Saints testify to the world that it is the identical gospel which was brought to the earth by the Son of God; taken away afterwards on account of the wickedness of men, and restored to the world in these days, by an angel of God as predicted in the Holy Scriptures. The speaker then bore his testimony to the truth of the gospel, and invoked the blessing of the Lord upon the congregation.

Serious Runaway.—The Junction of Saturday records a runaway that happened in Ogden the day before, and came near terminating fatally. Mr. John Fry, of the Grove Brewery, was driving into town with his single horse buggy, with his partner, Mr. Richer, Mr. James L. Dee, and his son, John Fry, Jr., in the conveyance. Mr. Richer and Mr. Dee, occupying the seat, while the boy was in the back. Mr. Fry himself was driving, seated on the knees of the other two gentlemen. When about 40 yards north of the Ogden River bridge, a cleft came out of the lines got entangled and torn out of the driver's hands, and the horse, taking advantage of the perilous situation, started off at a more than lively rate. Mr. Fry received a portion of the strong impetus and was nearly thrown out of the vehicle, when Mr. Dee held him back. While trying to recover his balance, however, Mr. Fry was again thrown, and this time forward on the ground, between horse and buggy, the former stepping out rapidly and dragging the carriage over the prostrate man, who by a wondrous escape serious injuries and was only slightly bruised in the back. The horse was all this time driving off at a furious rate, and the gentleman had lost all control of the refractory animal. Mr. Dee took a bold leap sideways, and his foot caught in the hind wheel, and received considerable bruises on the right arm. Mr. Richer was the last man to leave the dangerous vehicle. While he was getting out at the back, the impetus of the conveyance prostrated him to the ground, stunning him entirely for a while. As soon as the other gentlemen had picked themselves up they hurried to the assistance of Mr. Richer, who was bleeding profusely from nostrils and mouth, and two bad bruises received in the face. No bones were broken, and the injured persons are now all getting along favorably.

Gambler Arrested.—Saturday evening, a party of knights of the green cloth, wearing their lawless occupation in an up-stair room of the Godbe building, were interrupted in the midst of their game by the unexpected entrance of police men. Alex. Burt, who called off their names and put them all under arrest. They were arraigned before the police magistrate this morning, when three of them pled guilty and were fined $50 each; the remaining one pled not guilty and had his case postponed till to-morrow.

RAHART BROS.

The scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a tear.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Russian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every cent bottle. Trial bottle 25 cents.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by the Z. C. M. I. Drug Department and Moore Allen & Co., Salt Lake City.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and it is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain in its remedial effects, it produces rapid and complete cures of Eruptions, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always restores and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It forces up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is today the most available medicine for the suffering sick, anywhere. 25c

IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL

TO SEE what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become conversant with this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

You are landed by the Union Pacific R. R. in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where stands the C. and N. W. Palace train, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, elegant Day Coaches, Smoking Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and into Chicago. Gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail, through thriving cities and villages, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discovers the high rate of speed which he is riding. Trains of this road are always on time, connections sure, and passengers seeking pleasure, comfort, safety and ease in travelling, will find the "North-Western" in excess of their expectations, and the greatest of all routes to Chicago and the East. Insist upon Ticket Agents selling you Tickets via this road; all Agents sell them. Examine your Tickets, and refuse to buy if they do not read over this Road. If you wish the best Travelling Accommodations, you will buy your Ticket by this Route, AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER. dsly

Weeks and Faces. The features enameled by the famous Parisian artists were simply masked; the pores were closed and the whole face converted into a piece of animated porcelain. Such is not the effect of "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP" which produces a complexion equally smooth and brilliant without the slightest possibility of any bad effects. Beware of counterfeits. See that "C. N. CRITCHESTER, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which it is not genuine. Sold by druggists at 25 cents, three cakes 60 cents. As a toilet accessory for both sexes, "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP" and may be trusted to produce a perfect and permanent color where all other dyes have disappointed the purchaser, yet it is the least expensive of them all.
