

MINING EXCHANGE MEMBERS FEAST

Bulls and Bears Amicably Banquet and Discuss Timely Topics.

BROKERS TO MEET YEARLY.

Judge Goodwin Discussed "The Miner's" Growth of Exchange, Future and Other Topics Treated.

What turned out to be the first annual banquet of the Salt Lake Mining and Stock Exchange proved also to be a most successful and interesting affair. The two small dining rooms at the Knutsford were not large to accommodate those who were in attendance on Saturday afternoon and they did present a scene of meriment when, after an agreeable menu had been served, Toastmaster Fisher Harris in a few pleasant sentences welcomed the members and introduced as the first speaker W. H. Tibbals who responded to the toast "The Stock Broker vs. the Mine Owner." After discussing the part played by the stock broker in the mining industry, Prof. Tibbals said: "The mine owner, the 'Miner' and the stock broker, they should work together for the development of the mining industry and the making of this state one of the greatest in the Union."

W. P. O'Meara on "The Investor" stated that "he is the 'Carnegie' who lies awake nights to devise means for distributing his fortune among the poor but worthy brokers." Continuing Mr. O'Meara said: "The investor should take his losses and gains alike, philosophy, and not lay the blame for fluctuations of the market against his wits and judgment, to the brokers."

Ben Luce satisfactorily discussed the process of "washing," and closed by recommending that it be one of the processes washed off the exchange.

Herman Bamberger discussed "Bulls" and C. E. Hudson discussed those present about "Bears." The two speakers maintained each animal has a purpose to fulfill on the exchange.

Judge C. C. Goodwin was greeted with three cheers when he rose to speak on the toast "The Miner." The speaker discussed the process of getting the ore from the mines to the market and advocated that the exchange offer a bounty to inventors of methods and processes which will cheapen the cost of mining and milling. He spoke of the progress of the state which not only was benefiting but mining industry but every industry, taking not only its proper place but that of a chamber of commerce, the lack of which in the city of Salt Lake in the entire country, feels, "By all means," said he, "build up the exchange and never forget the miners. Let all do what they can for the miners."

Ralph Guthrie, in a very excellent speech, discussed "Futures" without which, he said, business has diminished and hardship has been wrought no those without much capital. His speech accorded with the views of many of the brokers.

W. H. Clark, in response to the toast "The Salt Lake Mining and Stock Exchange," spoke of its organization on December 12, 1895, of its early years and struggles for existence and of its growth. "In early days seats sold for $100 now none are for sale for $500. In 1897, 622,000 shares of stock were sold for $153,000; in 1898 the sales were 3,960,000 shares for $1,200,000; in 1899 they were 2,400,000 shares for $1,135,000; in 1900 the figures reached 4,600,000 shares, for $2,075,000, while in 1901 the sales for only eleven months were 20,000,000 shares, bringing upward of $13,000,000. In five years the business has been over $18,000,000."

Tod Goodwin read a poem, a parody on Bret Hart's "Heaven Chinee" which touchingly dealt on certain stocks.

The brokers then decided unanimously to make the banquet an annual affair, a vote of thanks was tendered Judge Goodwin, and a telegram of sympathy and good wishes to the absent president of the exchange, D. H. Perry, who is ill, was voted for and carried. Adjournment until the Saturday before New Years 1902 was taken.

WESTERN STOCK MARKET

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Dec. 28.—With 1,987,000 cattle receipts already recorded and four business days to go, it is a reasonably settled fact that the number of cattle arrivals at Kansas City for the first year of the century will reach the two million mark for the first time in the history of the yards. Hog receipts will also be the largest on record at something over 3,700,000 and, while the sheep footings will show a gain of 120,000 compared with 1900, they will fall about 150,000 short of the banner year, 1897.

The cattle trade of the past week has shown the usual holiday features of abundance but the dressed beef supply has been short of the packing demand and prices have advanced 25 to 30 cents as compared with the low range of values that prevailed at the close of the preceding week. The top price for the fed, branded Wyoming steers that averaged 1,567 lbs. and sold at $5.40, but so costly had been the feed consumed that the shipper declared there was no profit in them, even at $9.40 per head. The nation had been shipped cattle and wheat in equal parts with the odds and ends for the traders. As high as $4.50 was paid earlier in the week for medium beef cattle to finish up and several strings of thousand pound western feeders sold at $3.75. The record of the number of cattle shipped to the country during the year of 1901 will be a surprise to many, as it will disclose the fact that in spite of the summer's drought and the falling high prices of grain feeds, the total number of cattle shipped from the Kansas City market throughout the neighboring states and territories will just about equal that of 1900, which was the largest number ever shipped out and amounted to 610,000 cattle and 55,000 calves.

A few fairly good cattle came in from the south during the week but the southern feed lots are not expected to begin giving up their contents in earnest until about January 1. Geo. M. Ball received $4.50, the top price, for a train of 1,211 lbs. steers from Gainesville, Texas, and other steer sales ranged from $3.50 to $4.45. There were only a few cows offered.

For a couple of days of the past week at least, the hog market roused itself from the state of apathy into which it had settled during the past few weeks and exceptionally active trading was done. Any kind of hog above 150 lbs. on Tuesday and the market was again higher on Thursday, the day after Christmas. The top heavy hogs got up to $6.70 and mixed packing weights sold at $6.20 and $6.25. Light hogs, 135 to 200 lbs. sold on Thursday at $5.25 to $6.25 and pigs at $3.75 to $5.35. The average weight of all hogs received during December will be about 175 lbs. and fully 40 lbs. below that of December, 1900.

Only 3,000 sheep were received during Christmas week, 1900, and less than a fair one day's supply has arrived during the past week. With the meager supplies, which were mostly inferior quality, there was hardly a market established but generally speaking, the mutton market is strong with values tending upward. Choice fed lambs are worth $4.75 to $5.00; fed wethers, $3.50 to $4.25; fed yearlings, $3.75 to $4.50; and fat ewes, $3.00 to $3.75. The odds and ends of ewes and feeders sell all the way from $1.25 to $3.50. The mutton market is very encouraging as was shown by a consignment of 80 lbs. Colorado fed lambs that sold at $5.25 a few days back.

Receipts of live stock for the past week, 13,500 cattle, 61,000 hogs and 2,500 sheep as compared with 28,100 cattle, 55,000 hogs and 13,000 sheep for the preceding week and 17,200 cattle, 46,400 hogs and 2,000 sheep for the corresponding week last year.

FRATERNAL SOCIETY WOMEN

Another Board of World's Managers Will Help World's Fair Work.

St. Louis.—The powerful influence of woman has been enlisted in the work of getting the money with which to erect the $200,000 "Temple of Fraternity" on the World's Fair grounds at St. Louis. The World's Fair Fraternity Building association, which was incorporated for the purpose of providing a magnificent building where all the fraternal societies could have comfortable headquarters during the progress of the Louisiana Purchase exposition in 1903, has created an auxiliary body of lady managers. The duty of this board is to interest the fraternal organizations composed of and controlled by the ladies. Mrs. Geneva L. Miller of St. Louis, a woman of splendid attainments, and who is the past superior chief of honor of the degree of auxiliary, is to be the president of the auxiliary board, and Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Mich., a well known and popular fraternal society worker, has also been appointed a member of the board. Miss West is past president of the National Fraternal Congress association, and she is the supreme record keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees. The other members will be appointed and announced early in January.

The work of collecting the money to erect the "Temple of Fraternity" is progressing well. Assurances of support come from every quarter. The finance committee has completed arrangements for the issuing of handsome lithographed certificates of membership in the association to all persons making contributions towards the erection of the "Temple of Fraternity."

HOSPITAL FOR INDIANS.

One Will Be Built on Indian Reservation—Money Being Raised.

At St. Mark's and St. Paul's Episcopal special Sunday school services were held yesterday afternoon. St. Mark's school was addressed by the dean, there were Christmas carols sung, and medals were awarded to Clay Wallace and Shelly Tuttle, chorister boys, for the best average attendance and behavior during the year. The dean spoke on Christmas and generosity inspired by it. The Christmas tree exercises will be held in the basement of the cathedral.

At St. Paul's church Bishop Leonard made an interesting address to the children of St. Paul's on the holiday season and a story about the Indians on the Uintah reservation. This latter he used in illustration of an object he had in view. While presiding on the reservation he noted the need of hospital facilities, and made up his mind that one should be started among the Indians where their sick could receive hospital accommodations that that region very much lacked. So the bishop said he was raising money to start a small hospital on the Uintah reservation, and wanted the children of the Sunday schools to assist. The children appeared to be interested and when the contribution plate was given quite a little sum of money was passed. The singing included Christmas carols led by a Frenchhorn, and Choirmaster Critchlow said the children sang better than they had for a long time. Mrs. Atchison officiated at the organ.

PARTED HIS HAIR.

Marksmen Has a Narrow Escape on Commercial Street.

It seems there is a shooting gallery on Commercial street where it is dangerous for one to test his ability as a marksman. It's a sort of a boomerang place as one man found to his sorrow Saturday evening. The man, whose name could not be learned, entered the place and aimed his intention of shooting the bull's-eye full of lead. But he did not bargain that the bullet which left the gun was coming back and almost on a straight line. He used a small caliber gun and it is a good thing for him that he did. Otherwise he might now be lying in a morgue. The man took careful aim with the rifle and fired. The next instant he imagined that a large sized and healthy hog was doing business along the top of his scalp; then blood came and trickled down his features. Soon it dawned upon him that he had hit part of the target and as if in revenge it had thrown the bullet back at him, and hit him too. The small piece of lead struck him on top of the head and plucked a neat little ridge for a distance of about three inches. The stranger muttered something not usually if ever found in Sunday school literature and went out in search of a physician.

TEAMS PLAY HOCKEY.

Fast Game at Mellen's Yesterday Afternoon—Big Crowd on Hand.

Fully 500 persons were at Mellen's ice rink yesterday to witness the game of hockey between the Tenth South team and Mellen's team. The game consisted of thirty minute halves and was exceedingly fast. Mellen's organization was by a score of three to nothing. The contest was clean and free from fouls and roughness. Following was the lineup: Tenth South—0. W. Morgan forward, Fred Foulger Bert Margas forward, Frank Foulger C. Crowton forward, H. Hadley H. Holster forward, E. A. Teter W. Dunlop cover point, Ed Smith G. A. Jones point, Lester Teter L. Margetts goal keeper, O. Erickson Referee—Larry Meldrum. Time of halves—30 minutes.

SOME XMAS GIFTS.

Prominent Pugnilians Remember Their Former Antagonists With Presents.

The glad Christmas season brought joy to the ranks of the sporting fraternity, who simply lived over with good fellowship. Messages of love and friendship flew about in profusion, and many touching evidences of esteem were exchanged. Some of the gifts were elaborate and costly, and all breathed a spirit of harmony and good cheer that was refreshing. While few were willing to have their feud made public, it was understood the following mementoes changed hands:

Bob Fitzsimmons is said to have sent to his dear friend, James Jeffries, a horsehoe made by the Cornishman. It was gilded and bore many symbolical engravings. The toe calk was in the shape of a bottle labeled "Dope." One side of the shoe bore the words, "Not the Real Champion," and the other side was inscribed, "He Flunked." It was really a very handsome offering, and the delight of Jeffries can easily be imagined. No doubt it will tend to cement the friendship between these old and dear friends.

Andrew Freedman, it is reported, sent to Albert G. Spalding a diamond studded silver duplicate of a baseball, cut in halves. On one half was engraved a spirited picture of the charge of the Light Brigade, and on the other verse of the great poem beginning, "Half a League."

This was doubtless sent in commemoration of the harmonious and altogether delightful league meeting of recent date.

One of the prettiest gifts of the season was an edition de luxe of articles of agreement for a finish fight from "Young Corbett" to Terry McGovern. The cover is morocco and the title, "Till We Meet Again," is neatly done in gilt.

Bob Fitzsimmons is said to have vised his brother-in-law, Martin Julian, to sup with himself and Mrs. Fitzsimmons at Bensonhurst Christmas night. Pop Anson and James A. Hart will start on a hunting trip in the far West. These old chums do not consider the holidays complete unless they go hunting together.

Sam Harris sent to Billy Roche a neat little volume entitled "Every Man His Own Fighter, or How to Defend One's Self in an Emergency."

Billy Madden presented a crayon portrait of himself to Gus Ruhlin. It was handsomely framed in polished deadwood, surrounded by a pair of scissors, and bore the inscription: "I will yet make you champion!"

Jack Schaeffer sent to George Sloan a flashlight photograph of the "student," cue in hand, seated in a chair, while the "dard" was making a difficult move. It was a souvenir of the recent game at Madison Square.

Numerous other presentations took place, but lack of space forbids the publication of a complete list.—Denver Post.

Meeting is Called.

Next Thursday evening there will be a meeting of the Basket Ball league at which it is expected the schedule will be formed for the coming season and adopted by the league. The meeting was called by President Sharp and it is said numerous matters of importance will be brought up and disposed of. The managers of the teams composing the league are anxious to get down to work as soon as possible.

Heavyweights Training.

Jimmy Burns and Mexican Pete are working hard for their coming struggle in the square circle, and they are doing their best to get into perfect physical condition by the time set for their little twenty-round argument of fist and foot. Besides doing road work for the wind they are working in the gymnasium and sparring with their trainers. Burns realizes he has a pretty good man to go against but he promises to do his best and surprise a few of those who are banking on the other fellow.

Shoot of the Rifle Club.

JOCKEY CLUB STAKES.

Twenty-Three for Sheephead Bay Meetings Value $250,000.

New York, Dec. 29.—The Jockey Club Jockey club has issued a list of stakes, twenty-four in all, which will be decided next year at Sheephead bay. There are twenty-three stakes for the spring and fall meeting and one for a future year. All the stakes closed on January 2, 1902. The value of the stakes and overnight races will amount to $250,000. In several of the stakes the purses have been increased. When the entries have been received they will be worth more money in the aggregate than any similar association in this country. The future stakes of 1904 will probably be the richest of that line of turf features. The added money has been increased to $10,000, and as all the breeders have been entering their mares liberally of late the race promises to reach the high mark of $30,000 in value. The race, combined with the 23 stakes for 1902 will be worth in the aggregate the great sum of $191,000. Besides these stakes there will be plenty of overnight races.

STILL WANTS THE CUP.

Sir Thomas Ho Lands Trophy.

New York, Dec. 30.—J. Frederick Tams, of Tams, Lemoine, and Crane, yacht brokers who have been in Holland, Belgium and England since Oct. 30, has just arrived in this country on the steamer Sir Paul. He said he had a half hour's conversation with Sir Thomas Lipton in London shortly before leaving.

"Sir Thomas told me," said Mr. Tams, "that he would challenge for the cup until he either won it or was convinced it could not be won. I certainly think Sir Thomas is very much in earnest and that his desire to win the cup comes from sporting motives only. I wanted to get him to talk about other things, but his heart is set on that cup."

National Rowing Regatta.

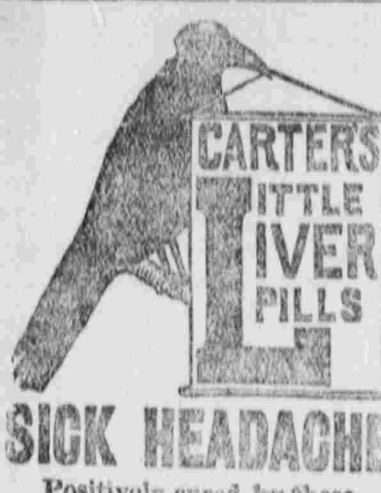

New York, Dec. 29.—It is believed that the next National Rowing regatta will be held on Lake Quinsigamond, near Worcester, Mass. Julius D. Maher, of the Metropolitan Rowing club, is authority for the statement that the Wachusett Boat club has signified its intention to apply for the regatta at the annual meeting of the national association of amateur oarsmen to be held next March, and that many of the local amateur oarsmen are in favor of the plan.
