Machine Had Gone Over an Embankment and Landed on Railroad Track.

THREE PEOPLE WERE KILLED.

Wreckage of Touring Car Was Scattered Along the Track for Full Two Blocks.

New York, Oct. 7.—While speeding along in the Bronx early this morning, an automobile containing nine persons went off an embankment at One Hundred and Sixty-first street and Jerome avenue and three persons, a man and two women, were killed. The machine fell on to the New York Central tracks and the wreckage was struck by a south-bound train. In the automobile when the accident occurred were five women and four men.

At Jerome avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-first street the roadway is between 30 and 40 feet above the railroad tracks. When the big machine plunged downward it struck near the southbound tracks and the nine persons and the automobile were caught by an incoming train.

Besides the three killed all the others in the automobile were injured. They were taken to the Fordham hospital, where it was reported at 1:30 this morning that at least four of those hurt were in a serious condition.

When the train reached the Grand Central station shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, Engineer Livingston was placed under arrest. One of the passengers on the train said that the train was running at about 35 miles an hour when it struck the machine. The machine was a heavy touring car, and it is said was running down Jerome avenue at a rapid rate of speed.

The body of Albert Noyes, chauffeur of the wrecked machine, was found underneath the pilot of the engine horribly mangled. At 3 o'clock this morning one of the injured women was identified as Anna Smith, aged 17 years. This made a total of three dead, one of whom, a woman, was still unidentified.

Wreckage of the machine was found scattered along the track for a distance of two blocks. The car had been reduced literally to bits. It is said to have been running at the rate of 25 miles an hour.

The automobile accident which occurred early today at the foot of Jerome avenue in which three persons lost their lives and six were badly injured, was one of the worst since the sport became popular in this city. Loss of life possibly would have been avoided but for the untimely arrival of a passenger train on the New York Central railroad.

Unfamiliarity with the nature of the roadway was the direct cause of the accident, Albert Noyes, a chauffeur employed by the Riverside casino, had charge of the automobile, which was a heavy touring car. With three other men and five women, the automobile had been run to Yonkers and Van Cortlandt park, a popular ride for those who wish to try the speed of their machines late at night. After supping at one of the numerous hotels, the party started on their return trip about midnight. There was a straight run of several miles south in Jerome avenue, down which the machine sped at the rate of 25 or 30 miles an hour. At One Hundred and Sixtieth street the avenue crosses to an abrupt end. An iron fence guards

Has your boy plenty of pluck? Does he hold out?

Grit, courage, strength, finishing power are essential these days. The reason why doctors so often order Ayer's Sarsaparilla for thin, pale, delicate children is because it supplies these essentials. It makes the blood pure, rich.

The stone wall and 40 feet below are the tracks of the New York Central, skirting the edge of the Harlem river. Evidently Noyes was not thinking of his proper course, a wide sweep to the left which would have carried the machine out upon either of two bridges across the river.

The iron fence afforded only a slight obstruction to the ponderous car and it fell with a crash to the railroad track. Unfortunately for the pleasure-seekers a local passenger train bore down upon the wrecked machine, tore it into ribbons and scattered the pieces along the track for two blocks. Noyes' life paid for his error. Two of the women, one of whom was identified as Anna Smith, 17 years of age, also were killed, and it is probable that some of the other six will die.

Commissioner of Health Darlington was a passenger on the train. He took charge of the relief work, summoned ambulances and hurried the injured to Fordham hospital. They were so completely dazed by the sudden ending of their trip as to be unable to furnish any details of the nature of the third victim—a woman, whose body had been cut in two.

White Confesses to Hold Up.

CAMPAIGN IN KENTUCKY.

John Sharp Williams Opens it In Louisville for Democrats.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 6.—Congressman John Sharp Williams opened the campaign in Louisville for the Democrats tonight at a meeting which drew a large crowd to the Seventh street armory, the place being filled to the doors. The meeting was presided by a long parade of the Democratic clubs of the city carrying Parker banners.

Mr. Williams' speech was largely pitched in a key of intense sarcasm, dealing mainly with the record of the Roosevelt administration and the views of the president as set forth in the letter of acceptance. He took some time to answer the charge that the Democratic party is not a party of constructive statesmen.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.

First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by all druggists.

WIFE AND LOVER MURDER HUSBAND.

Victim Was Struck on Head With A Hatchet and Shot Three Times.

CRIME COMMITTED IN BOISE.

Woman Said She Acted in Self Defense, Then Broke Down and Told Another Story.

Boise, Ida., Oct. 6.—Charles Daly, 25 years of age, was brutally murdered last night by his 20-year-old wife and Fred Bond, her lover. The crime was committed in the Daly home, where Bond was a roomer. The victim was struck on the head with a hatchet and shot three times in the region of the heart with a pistol. The shooting occurred shortly after midnight, but it was not heard by the neighbors, and nothing was known of the tragedy until Bond came down town about 9 o'clock in the morning and informed an officer that Mrs. Daly had shot her husband.

An examination disclosed a frightful tragedy. The body of Daly was lying in a pool of blood in the room where his murderers had spent the night. There was blood on the bed, on the walls and all over the apartment. Bond and the woman were arrested. A coroner's jury was called and the inquest is still in progress at a late hour tonight.

When the woman was put on the stand she told a blood-curdling story of having shot her husband in self-defense. She narrated that he threatened her and she shot him. Later when he stirred she shot him again, and again three hours later she gave him another shot and hit him with the hatchet.

She stuck to this story until today, when she broke down and declared that Bond did the killing about half an hour after midnight. It was arranged, she said, that she should get the revolver, which she procured from a hardware store, and then tell a story of having committed the deed in self-defense.

Bond insists he had nothing to do with the murder, but the case against both is very strong. The murdered man was in poor circumstances, being employed by the gas company as collector.

SUBMARINE BOATS SHIPPED.

Their Destination so Far as Known is "West of Chicago."

New York, Oct. 7.—Five submarine torpedo boats built in Massachusetts have been shipped by rail from Jersey City. "West of Chicago" is the destination expressed upon the way bill which accompanies one of the most unusual shipments which has ever crossed the American continent.

Valued at nearly $4,000,000, the torpedo boats occupied 17 new steel flat cars and six box cars, the appearance of the entire train being not unlike the caravan of a circus. The boats were shipped in sections and each car was covered with canvas which concealed the contents.

There was not the slightest mark on any car to indicate the contents or the destination and to the railroad employees who inquired, the stereotyped answer was given that the covered masses were a part of a large shipment of machinery destined for the west.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY.

Robber Compels Young Woman To Hand Over $1,500.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 6.—A robber walked into the savings bank at Treynor, a small town 15 miles east of here today, and at the point of a revolver compelled the assistant cashier, Miss Frances Wood, to take $1,500 from the cash drawer and put the money in his bag.

Then the robber drove the young woman who was alone in the bank, into the big vault and locked her in. Customers coming into the bank half an hour later heard the girl's screams for help and released her. She told of the holdup and an armed posse was started after the robber.

GENTLEMAN BURGLAR.

Harry Russell Chased by Woman And Caught by the Police.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Pursued by two women and a score of pupils of the Marshall high school Harry Russell, whom the police call "the gentleman burglar," and who has been sought for two weeks, has been captured after a chase covering several blocks. The pursuit was along the streets of the residence district about Garfield park and followed an attempt at burglary.

When arrested the man wore kid gloves, patent leather shoes, a light overcoat of expensive make and carried a silver-headed cane. When seized he protested with indignation against the arrest. The police waited for a few moments, but the insistence of the women pursuers convinced them and Russell was taken to the police station, where later he is said to have admitted the robbery.

Burglar's tools and false keys were found in the man's pockets. Several pieces of jewelry supposed to have been thrown away by the man during the chase, were found in the street. Russell is accused by the police of nearly 20 robberies committed in the Garfield park district in the last month.

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER.

Herpicide is Death to Dandruff Germs.

The germ burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or scurf, and digging at the root of the hair where it seizes the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lusterless and dead-like hair, then falling hair, and, finally baldness. Nine-tenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff. Without dandruff, hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ leaving the hair to grow unhampered, as it does with the American red man. Sold by leading druggists. Send 25c for trial sample.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes: "I was in a bad way when I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me, and now I am well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c. 50c. $1.00. Sold by Z. C. # A MILLIONAIRE BUSINESS WOMAN.

Mrs. Anne M. W. Walker of Philadelphia, with the possible exception of Mrs. Hetty Green of New York, is the richest woman in America. Her father, the late William Wrightman of Philadelphia, was a dealer in chemicals and the richest man in the business. He had so much confidence in the ability of his widowed daughter to conserve the millions which he had accumulated that he made her his sole heir. Mrs. Walker, whose husband had been in the employ of the great chemical concern dominated by her father, immediately assumed control of the business, and she spends the entire day in the supervision of the establishment's affairs.
