BURGLAR SHOT AT COTTAGE HOTEL

Attempts to Escape After Detection by Proprietor Smith and Now in Hospital.

SHERIFF GOES AFTER OLSEN

Will Bring Confessed Murderer of Deputy Sheriff Clark. From Omaha.

OGDEN, Aug. 21.—Stephen McCarthy, a burglar, was shot in the hip early yesterday morning at the cottage hotel, on Lincoln avenue, by J. H. Smith, the proprietor of the hotel, while endeavoring to escape from the house. The wounded man was removed to the emergency hospital where he was attended and the wound which is in the hip is thought will not prove serious.

According to the facts obtainable in the case McCarthy entered the cottage hotel shortly after 1 o'clock in the morning. While prowling around the hall he awoke Smith who demanded of him what he wished. McCarthy replied that he wanted a room which was given to him and he tendered a silver dollar in payment of the same. When Smith went to look for his trousers to make change he found they were gone. He returned to the door in time to see McCarthy hurrying toward the door with his trousers and shoes. He started to scuffle with the man while Mrs. Smith, living in the cottage, called to the police. McCarthy succeeded in getting away and as he was about to vault over a fence Smith who had secured a gun fired at him. The bullet struck the robber in the thigh and he fell to the ground.

Officers Wardlaw and Vance appeared shortly after and hurried McCarthy to the emergency hospital where his wound was dressed by Dr. W. J. Browning.

SHERIFF GOES FOR OLSEN

OGDEN, Aug. 20.—Sheriff Wilson will leave this evening for Omaha where he goes to get Charles Olsen, who is under arrest in that city and who was reported to have confessed to the killing of Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark at Uintah, eight miles east of Ogden, Nov. 27 last.

Sheriff Darlow Wilson and his deputies have been working upon the case and after learning of Olsen's arrest and confession he wired the chief of police of Omaha for particulars. A reply to the sheriff's message was received this afternoon, verifying the statement that Olsen had made a complete confession. The fact that the suspected man has confessed to the murder is not the main reason why local officers believe in his guilt. His familiarity with the details of the murder, as contained in the dispatch confirm the statement of his connection with the tragedy.

Deputy Sheriff Murphy who was with Clark when he was killed stated yesterday that while it was very dark on the night of the murder he believes he can identify the man by his voice. In his confession Olsen gives the following details of the tragedy and of his movements since, up to the time of his arrest.

"The night of the murder, my pal, whom I will not give away, hired a team from a man whose name I will not give, and drove to a siding just west of Uintah. We broke into a box car and were piling boxes of food and merchandise into the wagon when suddenly the deputy came along and called to us. We both opened fire and killed him. I know who hit him. The team was left at the car and I went into Ogden, where we stayed for several days. Then we went to Salt Lake and remained a week, returning to Ogden and staying there two months. From Ogden I went to Seattle and worked on the exposition buildings. Leaving there I went to Denver and worked there until two months ago when I came to Omaha.

"While I was in Denver my partner came there, but I don't know where he is now. I came to Omaha to visit some cousins and after being here a short time the murder weighed on my mind so that I took to drink, trying to forget it. When sober, day and night, I am thinking of the killing of the deputy and could not work or sleep. I am glad that the truth is known, for my mind is relieved. I am ready to go back to Utah any time the officers come after me. I have no defense to make."

FUNERAL OF THOMAS SHIPLEY.

OGDEN, Aug. 20.—M. P. Wright, who claims to be a full-blooded Hawaiian, was arrested on Twenty-fifth street and taken to the police station.

The Hawaiian put up a hard fight and it took the combined efforts of the two officers to subdue him and take him to the police station.

Wright was going along the street when he suddenly stopped and drew a revolver from a grip and began to flourish it.

ish it. When officer Herrick appeared on the scene Wright went into a nearby store and laid the revolver on the counter and engaged in a tussle with the officer. Adams was passing along the street and seeing the officer was having a hard job to land his man, went to his assistance. The man was handcuffed and taken to the police station, where he will be charged with disturbing the peace and resisting an officer.

CONVICTED OF PETTY LARCENY.

OGDEN, Aug. 20.—After being out for nearly 12 hours the jury in the case of the state against Henry Kuntz charged with grand larceny, brought in a verdict finding the defendant guilty of petty larceny. The jury announced at about 11 o'clock last night that they were ready to report. The judge was summoned from his chamber and the prisoner and counsel appeared. The verdict was received with a smile by the defendant.

The jury found Kuntz guilty of petty larceny was the result of his attorney placing a jewel on the stand and having him testify that the jewelry which Kuntz is alleged to have stolen from the residence of A. P. Biegelow last March was not valued at more than $50, which would constitute the crime of petty larceny.

(Special Correspondence.)

PROVO, Aug. 20.—The Florence Jepperson concert given in the Tabernacle last night was not well attended, which is the more regrettable as the concert was one of the best ever given in the city. Miss Jepperson astonished her friends by the wonderful beauty of her voice, and they expected much, remembering her ability before she left for the east, where she has been studying for three years.

WHERE WILD GAME IS A PEST

If Mr. Roosevelt will visit East Africa during his projected hunting trip he can find work for the farmers there by killing off the wild beasts that are destroying domestic animals. A newspaper report tells of a pioneer in the Kilimathine district of the Usambara mountains who complains that lions have killed 50 of his cattle in the last year and leopards have destroyed some hundreds of his sheep and goats. One lion performed the record breaking feat of killing two full grown cattle in 15 minutes. These beasts of prey are under the government ban and a price is offered for their destruction. But animals protected by law and regarded as harmless are working even greater evil than lions and leopards. The settlers say they have not yet succeeded in building fences around their fields that will keep out the antelopes, zebras, graffes and ostriches. These favored beasts seem to think that tender and succulent garden truck were planted especially for them, and fences only stimulate their zeal to break down the obstacles and revel in the feast. More aggravating still is the wild boar, which does not injure the fence, but roots out a pathway under it and is ready to contract to dig all the potatoes a month or so before they are ripe enough for the harvest. The white community of Kilimathine are offering head money for lions and leopards in addition to the government bounty, with the result that the hunting of these animals has been greatly stimulated. One man has distinguished himself by killing as fast as he could shoot two lions and a leopard that were only three or four rods distant from one another. But how to deal with the other pests is still a problem. New England farmers who have been wrestling with the deer problem are in a position to sympathize.—Rural New Yorker.
