

WIFE CHARGES EXTREME CRUELTY

Pearl Florence Daniel Says Husband Dragged Her Across Floor by the Hair.

SHE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

At Different Times, Complaint States, He Cursed and Abused Her, Beating and Knocking Her Down.

Pearl Florence Daniel charges her husband, George E. Daniel, with extreme cruelty in a suit for divorce filed in the Third district court Saturday, alleging that defendant at various times struck and beat plaintiff and upon one occasion, on April 1, 1906, struck her and dragged her across the kitchen floor by the hair, leaving her in an unconscious condition.

The complaint sets forth that the couple were married at Salt Lake City April 26, 1905, and that shortly after the marriage, defendant began to treat plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner; that at different times he used abusive language toward her, cursing her and calling her vile names, and in addition to the instance above recounted, the defendant did, according to the sworn statement of plaintiff, on May 7, 1906, strike her repeatedly, knocking her down and injuring her, from which injuries she has not yet fully recovered.

ALSO FAILED TO PROVIDE. Plaintiff further alleges that defendant has, for more than a year past, failed to provide her the common necessities of life, and that she has been dependent upon her own efforts and the charity of friends for her support. There is one child, a girl two years old, of which plaintiff asks the custody, also for permanent alimony and further relief.

AGAINST LAND BOARD.

Van D. Spalding seeks writ of prohibition, alleging discrimination. Van D. Spalding has filed action in the Third district court, asking for a writ of prohibition to prevent the state land board from approving the application of the Millard Land & Irrigation company for the segregation under the Carey act of 128,787 acres of land in Millard county. Spalding claims that the state land commissioners have discriminated against him in awarding the land to the Millard company, inasmuch as he offered to buy the land outright from the state. His complaint states that he made his offer to purchase the land Aug. 3, depositing as evidence of his good faith 25 cents per acre for the land.

The application of the Millard Land & Irrigation company for segregation of the land and selection under the Carey act was made to the board Aug. 1, and Mr. Spalding's application was returned to him Aug. 22 with the statement that the land would be segregated under the application of the first applicant.

Mr. Spalding claims he was discriminated against, and that the land board had no right to turn his offer down under the circumstances.

MINING TITLE DISPUTED.

The Nevada Mining company has filed suit in the Third district court against Alexander Colbath and Vida Richards Colbath to recover the sum of $815 alleged to be due on a certain promissory note executed by defendants May 16, 1906, together with interest and attorney's fees. The note is secured by a mortgage on property in lot 6, block 61 in plat B of Salt Lake City survey.

FINED FOR CONTEMPT.

L. N. Butler, who was found in contempt of court last Saturday for disobeying the orders of the court and of William Van Valkenburg, commissioner in the division of waters in the Big Cottonwood creek, appointed as the result of the Progress suit against Salt Lake City and others, in taking waters from said creek contrary to instructions of the commissioner, has been fined $25 and costs of court by Judge Morse. A stay of judgment for one week, however, was granted.

OWE $750 FOR RENT.

Kenneth R. Smoot and Clarence B. Eyer are plaintiffs in an action filed in the Third district court against A. E. Hyde, Jr. and Brigham Cannon, in which plaintiffs seek to recover $750 rent alleged to be due from defendants on the premises known as 57 Market street, Salt Lake City. The complaint sets forth that defendants entered into an agreement to rent the said premises at $150 per month during the year 1908, but that no rent was paid during the months of May, June, July, August and September. Plaintiff asks judgment for the amount named above, with interest and attorney's fees.

ROBINSON FILES ANSWER.

Denies That Wm. Day Was Ejected From Room in Judge Building.

An answer has been filed in the case of William M. Day against T. D. Pitt, C. C. Riley and H. J. Robinson, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $5,000 damages for the forcible ejection of plaintiff by defendants from room 304 in the Judge building, on Aug. 20, 1908. Defendants deny all the material allegations contained in the complaint, and as far as the ejection alleged is concerned, defendants claim that H. J. Robinson was in prior possession of the room and that on Aug. 21 plaintiff wrongfully endeavored to enter room 304 and was prevented by the defendants, and that any injury to plaintiff's business, or any mental anguish or suffering of plaintiff were the result of his own acts and not of any act of any of the defendants.

FINERY IS SHOWN IN DIEHL'S COURT

Colored People Cause Amazement

By Rich Display of Costly Clothing.

THE CRIMINAL ELEMENT.

Case of State vs Mary Jarrett and Kate Speed, Charged With Intent To Murder.

One of the results of crime and general lawlessness committed daily and nightly in Salt Lake by the army of black male parasites and colored female denizens of the under world was prominently shown in Judge Diehl's court this morning when the long drawn out case of the State vs. Mary Jarrett and Kate Speed, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was called for preliminary hearing.

The alleged offense was committed on the night of Aug. 3, in a house of ill fame on Victoria alley. A row occurred between Mary Jarrett and Ella Branch, colored women of the town, over the ownership of a dress. It is claimed that the Branch woman attacked the Jarrett woman and tried to throw her from the second-story window. A gun was drawn and the Branch woman received a dangerous bullet wound in the breast. The Jarrett woman and the Speed woman were arrested and charged jointly with assault with intent to commit murder. For several weeks the case continued without date, and the accused released upon their own recognizance. At this moment the prosecuting attorney appeared and the case was proceeded with.

The courtroom was practically filled with a large proportion of Salt Lake's darktown population, but not the kind who follow lawful vocations for a living.

The women came to court from houses of ill fame. The men from various dives like "Candy Bill's" place and other resorts. There was more interest manifested in the spectators than in the stories told by the witnesses.

The men, for the most part, were attired in the height of fashion. With immaculate shirts, fronts, gaudy ties, tailor made suits, up to date headgear and patent leathers, they roamed in and out of the courtroom, held whispered conversations and watched the proceedings occasionally.

The women, with two or three exceptions, were dressed like the story book princesses. Tailored made skirts of silks and other fine material, costly elbow gloves, expensive slippers and silk hosiery and picture hats were seen on every hand. Kate Speed, one of the defendants, coffee colored, was attired in a mixture of white and black and wore a picture hat that partly covered a brown "straight-haired" wig about the size of a wash tub.

PINERY AND CRIME. All this array of finery is the result of crime of the most vicious and low order. Some of the women present in court this morning have been arrested time and again for "dipping" or pocket picking. All are now in jail. The police, however, the most part are not known to have done any work. They are of the class that live with fallen white women. Their dress and the display of jewelry created considerable comment and speculation and the question was asked more than once why Salt Lake tolerates this criminal element. They have been drummed out of other cities but seem to have found a haven of rest here. They are of the "hop-head" class that think no more of taking a human life than taking a drink of beer.

The story of the shooting as told by the witnesses brought out nothing that has not been published with the exception of certain revolting details which want to show the low character of those involved and the rottenness that exists where these parasites hang out. The prosecution is in the hands of Asst. County Atty. Myers and the defendants are represented by Atty. Wm. Newton.

The Speed woman was found not guilty and discharged and Judge Diehl will render a decision in the Jarrett case tomorrow morning.

FUNERAL OF MRS. H. S. YOUNG.

Noble Worker for Welfare of the Young Is Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Georgiana Fox Young was held Saturday at her late residence in the Fourteenth ward, the services being presided over by Bishop Elias Woodruff. Music was furnished by the Graham-Ashworth-Squires-Biddoway quartet. The service opened with prayer by President H. S. Grant of Davis stake, and the benediction was pronounced by Elder George L. Seaman. Among the speakers were Mrs. Charlissa Smith Williams, president of the Relief societies of Salt Lake, who was for many years an associate of Mrs. Young in charitable work. Many instances of her kindly consideration of the poor and the suffering were recited and an eloquent tribute paid to her memory. Mrs. Young was one of the first women in the state to interest herself in kindergarten work, and her noble efforts in this regard were highly extolled. President Nephi Morris of Salt Lake stake was also a speaker, and his remarks were of praise for the noble woman called by death. Not alone in Church work was Mrs. Young an untiring and consistent worker, but also in her home and in the circle of her friends and family. Her life, though not extending to the years allotted to many, was one of unbroken service to the cause of charity and of helpful effort for others. Following the funeral service, interment was in the city cemetery.

HARRIS NOW IN BUTTE.

H. Harris, who left Salt Lake recently under suspension of sentence, knows now that Butte is not the mecca for undesirables from the Mormon town, says the Butte Miner. He has every reason to know this, since his admission in Judge McGowan's court yesterday morning, that he left Salt Lake under suspension of sentence cost him just 45 days more in the county jail than he might have otherwise drawn.

Harris was charged with vagrancy. Judge McGowan went the police judge in Salt Lake just one better and gave Harris 90 days, explaining that 45 of these he had coming to him in Salt Lake.

WHOLE WEEK OF CARNIVAL.

Festival begun in Theater Last Week Will Be Continued at Odeon Hall.

Tomorrow evening in Odeon hall the Salt Lake fall carnival will be continued, concluding its half week in the Salt Lake Theater, which commenced Thursday last, with a week at the Odeon hall. The festival of 300 boys will be enrolled in the physical classes of the association following a systematic course of training. During the afternoon program, the junior swimming medals and ribbons won at the last state meet at Lagoona will be presented to the winners.

In the evening the senior classes will combine for a rousing big class, which will act as a starter for their work. The program for the men will consist of marching, calisthenic drills, apparatus work, comical gymnastic games and wrestling bout, and a special match game of basketball between the senior and junior teams.

The entire physical section was open for inspection to men this morning, and ladies are invited to see the work in the gymnasium. The entire equipment has recently been put in a No. 1 condition, and the prospects are good for a splendid opening. The work, it is expected, will be under the direction of J. G. Hoffer, Herbert G. Sinton, C. E. Middleton, and M. R. Yokel, as instructors in gymnastics, athletics, the games, swimming and wrestling.

The lists for the various classes are now open for enrollment, and will be closed in full swing within a very short time.

TO PROBE WOTEN CASE.

Alleged Attorney Will Be Questioned By Committee of Lawyers.

E. B. Critchlow and William A. Lee, a majority of the members of the committee on grievances of the state bar association, addressed a communication today to the supreme court, in the matter of the application of J. W. Woten to be admitted to practise law in this state.

The committee states that it is in receipt of complaints against Woten, which, if true, would show that he is not a proper person to be admitted to the bar.

The court made an order to the effect that an investigation be had, and the following were named to hear the matter pro and con and report to the court: Charles Baldwin, E. A. Wedgwood and Benner X. Smith.

Miss Gates to enter upon a professional operatic career, and Miss Cannon to take up piano work. Friends to the number of 40 or 50 were in attendance to bid the young ladies goodbye. They will sail from New York on Saturday, at which time they will be joined by Miss Sybella Clayton, who leaves tomorrow. She is to give several professional concerts in Berlin this winter, and will return home in the early spring.

LOGAN CASE TOMORROW.

The case of the State vs David Logan, colored, charged with the murder in the first degree of Dick Hawkins, also colored, on the night of Sept. 10, in a low Commercial street dive, will be called in Justice Bishop's court tomorrow morning for the purpose of taking Logan's plea. The plea would have been entered this morning but counsel for defense, Sam King, could not be present. The case was filed in Judge Diehl's court, but was dismissed there upon motion and another complaint filed in Justice Bishop's court.

TWO DEPORTATION CASES.

Inspector in Charge James McCabe of the local immigration office leaves for Nevada this evening. At Elko he will place in custody a demented Frenchman, Bernard Tristant. Tristant will be given a hearing and unless he can show why he should not be deported he will be sent back to France.

The immigration offices here have also received information that a warrant is to be served upon Antonio Berardo, an Italian, who is charged with the murder of a man in the Utah state penitentiary, where he is now serving the last month of a 13-month imprisonment for dealing in the white slave trade. Berardo will have finished serving his sentence sometime early in October, but he will not be a free man. He will be given a government hearing and then sent back to Italy, to stay there.

GYMNASIUM WORK BEGINS.

Formal opening of the gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. is scheduled for this afternoon and evening. At 4 o'clock the boys' gymnasium work will be started with a rousing number of classes combining for the first session of the season. The program will consist of the usual class work with several special events in the way of games. It is expected that this year in the neighborhood of 300 boys will be enrolled in the physical classes of the association following a systematic course of training. During the afternoon program, the junior swimming medals and ribbons won at the last state meet at Lagoona will be presented to the winners.

In the evening the senior classes will combine for a rousing big class, which will act as a starter for their work. ### REV. SHORT RETICENT.

After a sojourn of several weeks in the east, Dr. P. B. Short is again at home. He preached yesterday morning in the First Methodist church, but made no allusion to the remarks alleged to have been made by him recently in Cincinnati, wherein he spoke in a derogatory manner of Salt Lake and of the people of Utah in general. Mr. Short declared to be interviewed by the advance yesterday, but intimated that he is willing to meet the issue, and has the original manuscript of the discourse alluded to, to be used in case he is called upon to make explanations.

MAY SAW AND SAW WITH NO RESULTS

New Cells at State Prison Will Defy Efforts of Convicts.

GOOD HOME FOR BAD TRIO

Denning, Sullivan and Majors Will Find Themselves Locked Where Nobody Can Harm Them.

Fifty steel cells have been set up in the new cell house at the state prison, but it will be two weeks before all the rivets are in. The tougher element of the local population is viewing the new arrangements with more or less dismay, as the bars are of five ply steel, several of them being chilled and hardened by a special process that makes them entirely impervious to the action of the finest saw made. Experiments made at the state prison show that the teeth of a saw merely slide over the surface of the steel without making the slightest impression, no matter how long the contact continues. The teeth of the saw are merely polished and worn down. When the first tier of cells is completed, that altogether lovely trio, Denning, Sullivan and Majors, with the more hardened convicts will be turned loose in one of the new corridors with plenty of room to navigate around in, and there they will stay. No trusty will be allowed to approach them, only the guards will have access to the corridors, so there need be no more trouble, grief, worry or anxiety over any possible attempts to escape, for that will be impossible. At last inventive genius has devised a scheme which to all appearances now will bring relief to the minds of prison wardens.

The direction of construction is under Superintendent Rasmus of the Pauly Jail company of St. Louis, the actual work being done by inmates of the prison. There is complaint of this from the labor union which placed on labor wherever and whenever they can, and Walking Delegate J. E. Munsey of the Bridge and Structural Workers' union has been to see the governor and file a protest with him against the employment of convicts in setting up the cells. Governor Cutler replied:

"Personally, I would rather see the convict employed at building roads, making parks and children's playgrounds than in taking the place of skilled mechanics. The law as made, however, reads that way, and you see, all our hands are tied. But that is a refractory outfit out there, and it will do them good to work awhile."

The warden will continue to thus utilize the services of trustworthy convicts.

GREAT FLORAL PARADE.

Five Hundred Children Will Pass Through Streets in Carnival Garb.

Starting at Odeon hall at 4 p. m. tomorrow, five hundred children in carnival garb will march in the flower parade, which forms a conspicuous feature of the week of festivities at the North Temple street hall. The line of march will be down the west side of Main street to Fourth South, thence countermarching up the east side of Main to First South street, thence east to State street, north to the Eagle Gate, west to the Pioneer monument and north to the Odeon hall, where the parade will disband.

Richard W. Young, marshal, and Hugh J. Cannon, Judge Elias A. Smith, Judge Samuel W. Stewart, C. S. Martin, and B. F. Grant, aides to the marshal, will conduct the parade.

Officers of the Improvement associations will occupy carriages at the head of the procession, followed by the divisions as follows:

Liberty stake, under E. M. Ashton; Pioneer stake, under E. H. Eardley; children's division, under F. M. Agostini and Joseph J. Cannon; Salt Lake stake, under Alex. E. Carr; Ensign stake, under George J. Cannon; other organizations, under John Q. Critchlow.

Liberty stake will form east side of North Temple street, extending west from Main street. Pioneer stake will form on the west side of West Temple street, extending south from North Temple street. Children will congregate at Odeon hall. Salt Lake stake will form on the north side of North Temple street, extending west from Main street. Ensign stake will form on North Temple street, extending east from Main street. The general officers of the Improvement associations will form on the west side of Main street, extending north from North Temple street, and other organizations will form on the west side of Main street, extending north from North Temple street.
