KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister.

READ PROOF BELOW from

Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Alban's, Vt., Jan. 29th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendalls' Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame, and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, nor can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callouses, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The regular Sunday services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were held in the Tabernacle, on Sunday, commencing at 2 p. m.

The choir sang:

Great God attend while Zion sings,
The joy that from thy presence springs.

Prayer was offered by Elder Geo. G. Bywater.

The choir sang:

'Twas on that dark, that solemn night,
When powers of earth and hell arose.

The Sacrament was administered by the Priesthood of the Sixteenth Ward.

President Joseph F. Smith addressed the congregation. The Latter-day Saints enjoy the inspiration of the Spirit of God, and it is always necessary that those who address them should be operated upon by that holy influence, that the congregations of the people may be edified. Without that power of inspiration. No man can comprehend the Lord or His purposes. That inspiration or light can only be obtained through humility and obedience to the divine will. The world have been laboring for ages to establish the kingdom of God. Buildings for worship, and institutions for theological instruction have been erected, that Christ and him crucified might everywhere be preached. Yet the people who take the name of Christ are not more united, not more honest nor more pure than those who assumed that position over eighteen hundred years ago. Then the servants of God taught the people by the authority, power and inspiration of the Almighty, and not by their own wisdom as in this day. This is a remarkable fact in the face of the great growth of human learning in this age. It proves that man can only find out God, whom to know and Jesus Christ whom he has sent, is eternal life, by the spirit of revelation. If the world were willing that there should be direct divine interposition for the regulation of national and other affairs, the condition would be changed. In the absence of this willingness for divine interference in human affairs the people are growing more disunited, and moral rectitude is becoming more and more rare. A tree is known by its fruits, and so is a community by its works Impurities cannot flow from a pure source and vice versa. In a community where honesty, virtue, purity, honor and general morality prevail, that community are Christians, because Christianity incorporates all the higher virtues. It is by these fruits that mankind are to be judged. In this regard the Latter-day Saints are willing to go into a comparison with any community in the world, any time, and we fear not the result. While the Saints are far from being perfect, yet we are not afraid that the result of an investigatin should be known as to our comparative status regarding the Christian virtues, as relating to any other community. When a man departs from the principles of rectitude in any of these things, it is the duty of the Latter-day Saints to call him in question, and if he repent not excommunicate him from the Church. We cannot fellowship infidelity, wickedness, corruption nor debauchery of any kind. If we do we violate our covenants with God. If we do not as we agree to with God and each other we are covenant breakers, and the Holy Spirit will not abide in us, and we have no fellowship in the Church of Christ. But those who are willing to sacrifice the world and work righteousness, on such He will place His seal, and they are His.

We expect to respect the laws of the land and be good citizens, as we have been. A good Latter-day Saint cannot be other than a good citizen. A just man will not transgress a righteous law of God or man. He obeys all wholesome and good laws, and is therefore above their penalties. The speaker said he had never been to law with his neighbor, neither had his neighbor sought to proceed legally against him, neither had any charge ever been preferred against him. This was because he had sought to live his religion, which is the religion of the despised Latter-day Saints, and no man could say that he had ever taken an illegal advantage of any one. If it could be shown he had he was willing to make it right when the fact was exhibited to him, for his religion taught him this course. He had lived on the frontier nearly the whole of his life. In his childhood, with with his father's family, he had been driven from his home in Missouri and again in Illinois, and suffered many hardships in consequence. He came to this valley in 1848, when there was not a green bush visible, excepting by the edge of some stream. He had lived here about thirty-four years and had never had the privilege of fully exercising citizenship. His fathers had lived in this country for seven generations and had fought in the revolutionary war. He had never had the privilege of voting for a President of the United States, or a senator or governor. He had voted for a Delegate to Congress, but his vote in common with those of the great majority of the citizens of Utah had been nullified, and a certification of election given to the candidate of a meagre minority. What crime have the people committed that they should be thus outraged? A good deal is published about the disobedience of the Latter-day Saints. What law have they transgressed? Some may say the law of 1862, against polygamy. Here is one law it is generally presumed the Saints have disregarded. One solitary law that the people of Utah can be charged with disobeying. Yet it would be supposed from misrepresentative reports that the people were living in utter lawlessness. Even if it be admitted that that law has been violated by some, they are answerable to that law, and why are they not tried in accordance with law and condemned or acquitted? If perchance some are guilty, why on that account are the whole people thus charged? The law itself was believed to be unconstitutional not only by people inside the Church but outside of it. No decision was reached on this point by the legal tribunals of the land until a test case, volunteered for the purpose, was taken up, and even then the points relating to constitutionality were not placed squarely before the court. And it is generally believed that if a case were taken up and placed before the Court of Last Resort in all its bearings it would still be held as unconstitutional.

The Latter-day Saints are as loyal a people as there are in the United States. The community are as well ordered, honest and upright as can be found anywhere. They made this country what it is. It is through their industry and intelligence that it has been made habitable. The speaker had been amused to hear remarks by men who had come recently to this city with a little money in their pockets, and perhaps built a fine house on some corner lot by the beautiful shade trees that adorn the sidewalks. Some of this class assume airs and make pretensions as if they had made the country, when they probably never planted a kernel of corn or made a spear of grass to grow. There were honorable exceptions to that class, however, honorable men who had aided in developing the country. To such he made no reference.

The Latter-day Saints would continue to keep the law of God and fight with the sword of truth under the banner of Christ. This course would ultimately cause victory to perch upon their banners. It was not for the Latter-day Saints to resort to carnal weapons, for vengeance was with the Lord. He had brought us off conquerers thus far and he would continue to do so, and the efforts of the enemies of the Saints would prove futile to the end. The more they persecuted and hated the people of God the less they would accomplish.

The choir sang:

Jerusalem, my glorious home.

Benediction by Elder Elias Morris.

Correspondence.

BATESVILLE,
Panola County, Miss.,
August 13, 1882.

Editor Deseret News:

Sir:—Will you give me space in your valuable paper to inform the public what is going on in this part of the moral vineyard? We are here in the land of darkness, though God through His infinite mercies sent to us the Gospel by one of His servants John N. Price, who tarried with us about three or four months, and he preached the Gospel in purity. He baptized sixteen persons and organized a branch of the Church here after which he was relieved and is now going home and we are at this time without any Elders, but we are doing the best we can hoping another will visit us soon. Brother John N. Price was faithful to his duty and the Lord blessed his labors though he suffered scorn and many other trials, but through faith he was able to organize this branch known as the Panola Branch. He ordained Brother Nerias Keeth President of the Branch and myself Counselor and Brother T. J. Youngblood Clerk after which he left us and went to his home at Mill Creek, Utah Territory.

If you thiuk the above worthy of space in your columns, please copy.

J. E. YOUNGBLOOD.

"With special and most gratifying success I used St. Jacobs Oil for a severely sprained knee. It was cured in ten days, and I cannot say too much in praise of the valuable substance," says Mr. S. S. Rhody, of the M. C. R. R., cor. Page and Railroad sts., Jackson, Mich.

WIN HONESTLY OR NOT AT ALL

Editor Deseret News:

Through the columns of your widely circulated paper I desire to call the attention of all candid, fair-minded people to what appears to me to be the dishonorable methods resorted to by the D. M. Osborne & Co.'s agent in this city as exhibited in his advertisement in your columns. He has so worded one article that almost every one who reads it is led to believe that he claims that the Osborne Twine Binder had a field trial with the McCormick at Alpine, Utah County, and beat the McCormick; sold some machines in place of the McCormick, which he represents as not working well, etc.; every word of which is false, as the Osborne agent knows. The Osborne has never had a trial with the McCormick at Alpine, the only trial it ever had with the McCormick in this Territory was at Payson last year, when the Osborne was the challenging party and was beaten badly according to the unanimous decision of the committee. The attention of the agent of the Osborne Co. was called to this matter a week ago, but as he has failed to correct the misrepresentation in his advertisement, I feel compelled to expose the matter in justice to the McCormick and myself. Your's very truly,

JOHN W. LOWELL.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, fetching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from grey or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

☞ READ THE VERDICTS:

July 26th, 1882.

We, the undersigned, farmers of Alpine, Utah Co., having this day witnessed the operation of the Osborne Twine Binder, in Wheat and Oats, do affirm that it did the most perfect work we ever saw done by any Self-Binder. The cutting was absolutely clean and the grain was tightly bound.

We do not see that any imperfection exists in this machine.

ALPINE, Utah, July 26, 1882.

We proposed to D. M. Osborne & Co., that if they could, by actual field trial, demonstrate to our entire satisfaction that their Twine Binder would do better work and tighter binding than the Wood or McCormick Binders are doing, then we would purchase an Osborne.

This proposition was readily accepted by D. M. Osborne & Co., and we are pleased to state that their Machine has demonstrated its superiority to our fullest satisfaction and we have purchased an Osborne through L. P. Lund, Agent at Pleasant Grove.

C. M. BECK,
W. T. BROWN,
HYRUM HEALY,
J. S. BECK.

At the trial above mentioned three Osborne Binders were sold on the field, two of which were purchased by parties who had taken McCormick Binders on their merits, and condemned them on account of the very bad work performed.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH,
July 24th, 1882.

We started our Osborne Twine Binder to-day in heavy oats on the farm of Fredk. Reich, and after testing it thoroughly we find it without a single defect. The cutting is clean, binding tight, and the knot perfect, it does the best work we ever saw.

B. ADAMS,
DANL. ADAMS.

We witnessed the working of the Osborne Binder above referred to, and freely bear testimony that we never saw its equal. The bundles are tightly bound and every knot perfect.
