Molhods of im-provements here and there with a view to improving the same and keeping the division up to its high standard of ex-cellence were the principal matters dis-cussed. While there was nothing given out for publication regarding the con-ference it was understood that it proved very beneficial and greatly pleased those who were in attendance.

INCREASES OFFICE FORCE.

Rock Island Local Offices Will See Additional Men Here.

Another change is announced in the offices of the Rock Island railroad offices of the Rock Island Failroad in this city, the latest being the ac-quisition of an additional man on the local staff. At the rquest of General Agent J. G. Doolittle, A. W. Randall, heretofore assistant ticket agent in the office of the Rock Island at Denver has been named at traveling conserver agent for the road with the office of the Rock Island at Denver has been named at traveling passenger agent for the road with headquarters in Salt Lake. The ap-pointment of Mr, Randall re-estab-lishes the local office of the Rock Isl-and on the basis on which it was working prior to the panie of 1907, during which time most of the roads retronched by reducing the amount of help employed. Mr. Randall recruits the rank of the local office up to the standard and his appointment is an evidence of the faith of the road officials in the stability and growth of this city and state. Mr. Randall will remove his family from Denver and establish a home in this city. To fill the vacancy in the chief clerkship in the Book Island office, caused by the promotion of Andrew Jensen to be contracting freight and passenger agent. Mr. Doollitle has named for the position Samuel V. Spry, a Salt Lake boy who has enter-ed the railroad business for keeps. Mr. Spry is a nephew of Governor William Spry, and has earted his promotion by his devotion to business.

J. W. Ellingson, chief clerk of the freight department of the Salt Lake Route in this city, with his wife and family, returned last evening from a two weeks' visit at his old home in Phoents, Arizona. Mr. Ellingson said he rode through the country with his hat and cost off and enjoyed the warm climate immensity.

JUDGE DIEHL IS GIVEN A TOKEN

Retiring Police Justice the Recipient of Handsome Watch Fob This Morning.

J. M. BOWMAN SUCCEEDS HIM

Last Session Marked by Judicial Clemency and Exchange of Oratory And Good Wishes,

The last session of the criminal division of the city court at which Judge C. B. Diehl presided, was held this morning, beginning shortly after 10 o'clock. After a service of about 10 years at the old police department headquarters, Judge Diehl stepped flown and out and at noon was succeeded by Judge J. M. Bowman, who with Judge Whitaker, was elected at the last contest at the polls, Judge Bowman opened court and then adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when he will have his first real ression

The last session of Judge Dichl's court was an occasion for remarks of congratulation, good wishes and regrets. Congratulations for the manner in which the retiring official had conducted affairs of the court over which he presided for sc long; good wishes for his future, and the success of Judge Bowman, and regrets that the associations formed during Judge Diehi's in-cumbancy in office are now at an end, cumbancy in office are now at an end, in an official way. After the regular city call had been disposed of, and just before court ad-jornned, Assist. City Atty. E. A. Rogers arose and addressed the court on be-half of the department, attorneys and newspaper men who have been associ-ated with Judge Diehl for many years. "I have one more motion to make" ated with Judge Diehl for many years. "I have one more motion to make," said he, "and I do not think it will be opposed by anyone. I wish to make a motion of thanks to your honor for your uniform courtesy and kindness, on behalf of the many friends you have made here, and with the wish that your future will be happy and prosperous. On behalf of these friends I desire to present to your honor this token of our love, respect an desteem."

PRESENTATION MADE.

Mr. Rogers then presented to Judge Dichi a handsome gold watch fob from which was suspended a gold thirty-second degree Masonic charm. It was several minutes before Judge Diehl could reply.

Diehl could reply. "I can only say this," he said finally. "I have made many good friends and have been happy in that I have kept them. My associations here have been most pleasant. Members of the depart-ment, the attorneys and gentlemen of the press have been my friends and have so been tied up with me in my daily and official life that I regret very much the severance. For this beautiful charm I most heartily thank them and shall wear it with much honor, with shall wear it with much honor, with good feeling and good will, and I trust that Judge Bowman, who succeeds me, will leave here, when he does leave, with the same expressions of friend-ship, respect and honor as I leave." Atty, William Newton, on behalf of the box court star, beyond

Atty, William Newton, on behalf of the bar, court attaches and newspaper men, said: "I desire to say a few words of thanks and of regrets, and I believe everyone will voice my sentiments. We regret that your honor is about to leave us but of course you are not going far away and I hope those as-sociations will continue both in and out of the court. I desire to thank you

SUNDAY DRUNKS FORGIVEN. Judge Diehl was in a merciful frame of mind this morning and it is per-haps the first time that "Sunday drunks" have escaped a fine of $5 or more. There were five cases of this kind that were dischargd, and only one wherein sentence was imposed, and that was in the case of Ellen Shoppe, who has been a source of great annoyance to the police. She was given 30 days but the sentence was regarded by Judge Diehl as an act of mercy as the woman has no place to go, and on account of her physical condition can not remain in the county infirmary.
