MUST ANSWER FOR ASSAULT

Roscoe Willey Arrested for Murderous Attack on a Non-Union Worker.

CLARK HEARING THURSDAY.

Surprised at Charge of Murder in First Degree—Wedding Fells—Burial of a Baby.

Ogden, Sept. 18.—Through the good work of Sheriff Sebring, Roscoe Willey, wanted in Salt Lake City for assaulting a non-union man named Hodgson about a month ago, was placed under arrest and turned over to the Salt Lake officials, as the offense was committed in that district, and must be prosecuted there.

When the electrical workers' strike was on in Salt Lake a month ago, a man named Hodgson refused to go out on a strike with the others. One day when he was at work Willey and a man named Nelson went to him and tried to get him to quit work. He refused to go with Willey and Nelson. It is claimed that Willey and Nelson, in a brutal assault, rendered him unconscious and then carried him to the city of Davis, where they were arrested. The charge of murder in the first degree was read to him, setting forth that the crime of shooting Jones was committed with malice, and premeditation, as he claims that it was purely accidental. His attorney, John G. Davis, appeared in court with him and expects to offer

CLARK HEARING THURSDAY.

Claude Clark will appear Thursday morning before Judge Murphy to answer to the charge of murder, his preliminary hearing having been set for 10 o'clock. He was arraigned before the court yesterday on the charge. He was greatly surprised when the charge of murder in the first degree was read to him, setting forth that the crime of shooting Jones was committed with malice, and premeditation, as he claims that it was purely accidental. His attorney, John G. Davis, appeared in court with him and expects to offer

OPENING OF COLLEGES.

Larger Attendance Than Ever in All Institutions of Learning.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Sept. 11.—Logan has decidedly the appearance of a "college town" the past few days. The streets seem to be literally alive with students coming in from the outside and endeavoring to get located for their work. The B. Y. College opened yesterday for registration and there was one third more registered than on the first day of our previous year. The college anticipates the largest attendance in the history of the school. The opening of the Agricultural college this morning is very favorable, without doubt the attendance will be larger than at the beginning of last year. Every room at the dormitory has been taken and many more applicants have come in.

The New Jersey academy opened also with an excellent showing. It is prepared to take care of a larger number clear the defendant or to get him off with a conviction of no more serious crime than involuntary manslaughter. The colored population appear to be standing by Clark, as it is their opinion that the shooting was purely accidental, the only thing they have against him is that he should not have pulled the pistol to strike Cowden over the head with it.

WEDDING PERMITS.

Licenses to wed were granted by County Clerk Matson to the following couples:

John W. Price and Miss Edith Carlson, both of Ogden.
Owen W. Halverson and Miss Geneva Briggs, both of Ogden.
Charles H. Blair 21 of Ogden City and Miss Eleutha Gray 23, of Willard, Boxelder county.

BURIAL OF BABY.

Largely attended funeral services over the remains of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lundquist were held yesterday afternoon at the Roy-meetinghouse. Some beautiful music was furnished by the choir. Words of comfort were spoken by Patriarch G. W. Larkin, Bishop Holland, Martin Brown, Henry White and John Hooper.

SOUTHERN STATES REUNION.

Oct. 4th, 1907, at Headquarters on Richards Street.

On the above date at 8 p. m. will occur the Annual Reunion of Southern States Missionaries and friends. Light refreshments and an interesting program will make a pleasant evening. All are invited.

The annual business meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year will occur at this meeting.

It is a copper coin 3/4 inch thick, and 3/4 inch in diameter. An Indian head is engraved on the face, surrounded by the words: "Medalet, 1234, 5678, Year 1847, Series CXXXI."

On the reverse side is the queer reading: "America Land Plenty, Labor scarce. Labor reaped by the man, Jamestown, Produce, Corn Tobacco." The last two letters being now obliterated.

The lower half reading, beginning at the outer circle reads: "England land scarce, labor plenty, labor reaped by the acre."

The coin was bought by Mr. Wilson, from a stranger, the day before yesterday for a trifle. The stranger found it out in the prairie some eight miles west of Blackfoot.

The medal has a hole in it which is worn oblong by much use. As if it may have been worn around the neck of some Indian for many generations.

It goes without saying that, this find has aroused much curiosity as to how this medal came out here, and as to its origin.

HAMILTON, MONT.
Mrs. Evelyn Grover Closes Long and Eventful Career.

Special Correspondence.

Hamilton, Mont., Sept. 16.—Evelyn Grover, wife of the late Jared Grover, passed from this life Friday, Sept. 13, after a long illness. She is the mother of 12 children, six of whom survive her, besides other relatives. She was born Sept. 9, 1823, in Tennessee and is the daughter of John Riddle. She was married and resided in the Church and was ever a devoted member, loved by all who knew her.

Old School of Letter-writers Rites in Tropes, Metaphors and Similes.

Losing Issues in Words.

Another wonderful thing about the old letter-writers, especially the female letter-writers, is the wealth of hyperbole in which they wrote. Nothing is told in plain terms. Tropes, metaphors and similes adorn every page, and the supreme elegance of the language is rivaled only by the clumsiness of the idea, which is lost in an eddy of words.

Marriage is a chain, or the "hymeneal chain," or "hymeneal empancipation from parental care." When Mrs. Montgomery writes to Gilbert West, that "miracles of the moral world," to conclude with his going, she laments that his "bright hand, first dedicated to the muses, then with butting judgment consecrated to the Nymphs of Solyma, should be led captive by the cruel force of Mr. W."

She does not know who or what the Nymphs of Solyma were, he had the intelligent misfortune of finding out.

Miss Seward describes Mrs. Tighe's "mighty charms as 'Asian inspiration added to the charms of Venus,' and speaks of the elderly 'ladies of Longwood,' as 'in all but the voluptuous sense, Attitudes of the lower world.' It is to be 'the numerous pantile of Lucifer's honor.' A Scotch gentleman who writes verse is a 'Canadian Ophelia,' a 'Lichfield gentleman who sketches is 'our Lichfield Claude,' and a budding poet is 'our young Alexander Maclure.'

MAYFIELD.

School Opening—M. I. As Reorganized—Missionary Welcome Home.

Special Correspondence.

Mayfield, Sanpete Co., Sept. 17.—The district school opened on Sept. 16, with the following teachers: Orin Anderson, principal; Clyde Whitlock, Miss Mina Jolly, and Mabel Larson.

Last Friday night the population of town was increased to the number of three. A pair of twins arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Sorenson, and also a boy at Oscar Nielsen's.

A missionary party was recently given in honor of the return of Elder C. C. Whitlock, who had recently returned from the new field. He had spent 25 months in the Samoan Islands. A few days later the Young Ladies gave their annual party, which consisted of a dance and the serving of ice cream and cake.

M. I. A.'S REORGANIZED.

The Mutual Improvement association was reorganized last Sunday. Miss Linda Larsen is president of the Young Ladies and Evelyn Anderson and Lillie Christensen, counselors. Vivian Whitlock, secretary; Mabel Larson, organist; and Charles Wilkerson, treasurer. In the Young Men's association: Joseph Sorenson is president; Arthur Christensen and C. R. R. Nielsen, counselors; Alva Anderson and John Larson, secretaries; and Oscar Nielsen, librarian.

FATAL WRECK ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC

William Elmer Was Killed Instantly and Five Others Were Injured.

ACCIDENT NEAR LAKE SIDING.

Sheep Cars Demolished—Burned Out Cultivator Cause of Smash-up, Which Occurred 10 Miles West of Ogden.

Ogden, Sept. 18.—A burnt-out cultivator on the old line of the Southern Pacific near Lake Siding, about 10 miles west of Ogden, was the cause of a fatal freight train wreck yesterday noon. William Elmer, a brakeman, was instantly killed, and several persons, all from Ogden, were injured, none seriously. The injured are:

Daniel A. Creamer, conductor, head cut and body badly bruised.

William Butler, brakeman, bruised about the head.

W. S. Newell, fireman, injured internally.

Engineer Schwartz, slightly bruised.

The train was a special eastbound from Kelton to Ogden, and was made up of 11 double-deck cars of sheep. The special was running at the rate of about 20 miles an hour, when it suddenly encountered the hole left by the burning out of the cultivator. The pilot of the locomotive buried itself in the opposite bank and turned almost completely over. Four cars filled with sheep piled on top, killing most of the sheep in them. Seven cars and the caboose remained on the track, but everything in them was badly shaken up.

The engineer and fireman saw the danger in time to jump to save their lives, their injuries being caused by jumping from the moving engine. The brakeman who was killed was riding on the engine, but did not have time to escape. He is the son of Warren Elmer, and leaves a wife and one child.

Wrecking trains were sent from Ogden and Montello, and the injured were brought to Ogden last night.

ONLY TATTOOED ROYAL LADY.

Princess Waldemar of Denmark has a large anchor tattooed on her left arm. It was done in the far east when the princess, then Marie of Orleans, was making a long tour of the Orient. To lighten the monotony of life aboard ship the princess and her companions occurred to her to write, as we in this dull age should do, "Dr. Darwin died last night," or "Poor Dr. Darwin died last night." She wrote, "A bright luminary in this neighborhood recently shot from his sphere with awful and deplorable suddenness," thus picking up Walter's imagination to the wonderment before descending to facts—Agnes Repler in Harper's for August.

HER MAID WAS A MAN.

During a small dinner given this past winter at one of the embassies here in Washington, some remarkable stories were told by Americans and foreigners. The story which caused the most astonishment was told by an English woman, who was here with her father on a short visit to the hostess. She was a very handsome spinster, tall and stately, and about 40 years of age.

At dessert the conversation became general and drifted from one topic to another, and finally celebrated robberies were discussed. The English woman listened with great interest and then volunteered to tell of an experience of her own.

"Just before starting on this trip," she commenced, "my father and I returned to London after a year's absence, and in a few days we were down to our country seat."

"We had been there for about six weeks when numerous sensational robberies took place in our neighborhood, and were reported to the local police. They worked very hard but every day was exhausted and no light was thrown on the robberies."

"We did not take an active interest in the search until one day I discovered that some valuable heirlooms were missing. My father, who had lost all patience over the slow and unsatisfactory work of the local police, wired to Scotland Yard for an inspector to come to us immediately. We decided not to mention this to any of our friends, and also not to our servants."

"The inspector arrived that evening, and he listened most attentively to father's account of the robberies in our neighborhood and our own. Then he interviewed our men servants, my cook, parlormaid, and chambermaid, but learned nothing from them. They were all old family servants and perfectly honest."

"Have I kept all your house servants, madam?" he asked.

"Yes," I replied. "No, stay; there is my little confidential maid, Hobson. She has been a year in my service, and is a most competent person. When I engaged her she brought me excellent references. I am sure you will learn nothing from her, but I will send William for her at once."

"The room was dimly lighted and the girl did not see the inspector, standing back in the shadow, as she stated."

"Did you wish me, madam?" she asked.

"Before I could answer the inspector stepped quickly forward and turned the light full on the girl's face."

"Bill Jones," he said, "I've been looking for you for two years. Madam, turning to me, this is one of the smartest crooks in London."

A buzz of excited comment interrupted the English woman, then she was allowed to finish her tale.

"Jones is now serving a long sentence in Dartmoor, which he well deserved. But I have never recovered from the shock of discovering my confidential maid was a man. The spinster's voice was tragic. 'I am one huge bluish whenever I think of it.'"

Submarines used as scouts in naval warfare.

After spending much money and time in experimenting with submarine boats, France has adopted them as the scout ships of her navy. Always impressed with the value of torpedo boats, of which she now has 235, that nation was one of the first to accept the submarine vessel as an important feature of naval warfare. The accompanying illustration shows the Hornet, a submarine boat, lying in wait for a squadron during the recent French naval maneuvers. Admiral Fourmies declared after the war game that submarines will prove valuable for attacks on hostile fleets in port.
