He is Looking for a Match Here-"Billy" Madden, His Manager, Tells Why He Threw Up the Sponge in San Francisco Last Week.

Gus Ruhlin, the Akron Glant, ac- it was the first statement he had made companied by his manager, "Billy" Madden, arrived in Salt Lake from the coast this morning and are registered at the St. Elmo. They are on their way East but expect to remain here for a few days and possibly longer. Ruhlin's left hand is badly swollen from the effects of an accident while training and injury sustained in his fight with Champion Jeffries. It is Madden's intention to remain here and give an exhibition with Ruhlin and Jimmy Burns if the latter is willing and suitable arrangements can be made with Manager Jack McNamee of the Salt Lake Athletic club.

In an interview with a "News" re-

"Well, you may get another chance at Jeffries," suggested the reporter.
"We would like to meet Jeffries again," answered Madden, "and Gus would be able to do much better. Of course, you know, the people, or some of them, think it was a fake, but it was not. I threw up the sponge because I knew my man didn't have a chance to win."

Asked if he had made any plans for the future, Madden said: "No; we haven't done a thing yet. It's a little too soon."

We heard there was boxing going on here and we thought we would stop off for a few days and try to get on an exhibition with Burns.

"I know Burns," continued Madden,
"and I want to tell you that that fellow has met some of the best men in the country and defeated them."
It was hinted that Burns would not stand much chance against Ruhlin in Madden and Ruhlin spent the day in looking around town and hunting up old friends, of whom there are quite a number here. They called at the Salt Lake Athletic club several times but were unable to see the interior because Manager McNamee could-not be found. Publish hand is apparently in a bad Manager McNamee could not be found.

Ruhlin's hand is apparently in a bad condition, but he says it will be all right again in a short time. He says if he can get a match with Burns, he will settle down to work at once.
In speaking of the proposed match between Jeffries and Sharkey, Madden said that if the arrangements were not already made they would not meet at San Francisco next month. He said that Sharkey wanted to fight in January, but that was out of the question as the Twentieth Century club had no permit for that month, and consequent. permit for that month, and consequently the fight must take place in December if at all.

A strong draft drew the smoke from the burning buildings directly in the tunnel and the miles of drifts, upraises and slopes connecting with it began to fill rapidly with the smoke.

Every entrance to the property is the scene of active work and the willing hands are only stayed by the fear of certain death if hey enter the smoke-filled levels. Every few minutes men make a rush strangling as they meet the foul smoke which fills the tunnels and levels.

The first started about 7 o'clock this morning from a defective flue in the bunkhouse at the mouth of the tunnel. It quickly communicated with the other buildings. The dense smoke from the burning converter-house, which was saturated with oll, began pouring into the tunnel, which, with the shafts of the mine, acted as a chimney.

REPORTS ARE MEAGRE.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 21,-Only ire at the Smuggler-Union mine near Telluride, Colorado, has been received at the local office of the company. It is not known here this morning whether he loss of life will reach 100 as feared. whether any bodies have been found red and identified last night. The damage caused by the fire in the loss of buildings is estimated at $18,000, fully covered by insurance, but the mine will have to be closed for at least a month, SMOKE FILLS TUNNEL.

The mouth of Bullion tunnel, through which the Smuggler-Union mines are worked, is located not over 50 or 60 feet rom the burned buildings. The smoke from the start seemed to be drawn to the mouth of the tunnel, and it encireled that point as if there were no other place of escape. This was due to the suction as the air in the mine was warmer than that outside. On account of this suction movement the majority of mine and tunnel enrances have iron doors ready to lower in place at a minute's notice to stop smoke or fire. Unfortunately, the Buling effect of the fire was due to the flames in the converter house, which was saturated with oil and which emitted the darkest smoke imaginable.

At last accounts all attempts to explore this level have been grustrated by the smoke. Seventeen of the twenty-two bodies recovered were found in the seventh level. The fire did not penetrate the mine workings and the frightful loss of life was due entirely to smoke.

OWNERSHIP OF MINE.

The mine was originally owned by a company, of which John Porter, of this city, was the president, and A. II. Fowler, secretary and treasurer. About In the excitement of trying to control the fire in the outside buildings the mine was forgotten and before the situation was realized the workings were fast filling with dense smoke. By this time the buildings about the mouth of the tunnel were all ablaze and nothing could be done to stop the smoke from

Mr. Lawrence went to New York about a week ago. Arthur Collins, manager of the mine, is also absent on a trip to Mexico. Jacob Filins, attor-ney for the company, left for Telluride last night to make an investigation.

MINERS' FEDERATION DISCUSS IT. The executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, now in session in this city, discussed the disaster at their meeting today. They averred that agitation would commence in labor circles to procure legislation which would remedy the evils which caused the fire at the Smuggier-Union mine. In 1878 a snowside occurred just above Bullion tunnel in which twentyseven people lost their lives and it was here on July 3 last that the fighting, consequent upon the miners' strike, oc-

Denver, Colo., Nov. 21-A special to who were suffocated to death in the Smuggler-Union mine yesterday morn-ing was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning. The searching parties were unable to work last night owing to the dense volumes of sulphur gas which per-meated every portion of the 18 miles of underground workings. The work of bring down the bodies of the victims was slow and laborious, the steep trail making it very difficult to carry the bodies. The bodies were placed upon improvised stretchers and twelve stalwart miners and brought to ollows:
August Jaanta, Allen Henderson, Cris laid out in rows. From 150 to 200 men were engaged in this work. Shift Bosses Horgelson and Barkley sacrificed their lives in a vain attempt to save the lives of their mine associates. They had ample warning of the fire and could easily have escaped from the tunnel. Instead they went back into the workings to spread the alarm. They succeeded probably in warning only a very few of the men in the nine before they themselves were overcome by the deadly sulphur fumes, The coroner will hold an inquest upon but one body, the verdict in this case being deemed sufficient to cover all of the casualties. VOLUNTEERS PLENTIFUL.

A large crowd began gathering at the ing, every man volunteering to join the rescue parties. Only the most experienced miners have been chosen for this dangerous work and up to 9 o'clock those selected were busy making preparations to safeguard themselves in gas should be encountered in the workings, as the search for the dead progressed. At that hour the first rescue party entered the workings. Their progress is slow and it will be several hours, it is thought, before any more bodies are encountered.

Many of the victims were married men and several left families. There is already talk of raising a reilef fund for the widows and orphans, and it is gulte likely that the state will be asked o assist the people of Telluride in car-ng for those who have so suddenly been bereft of their support.

Up to 2 p. m. 23 bodies, all told, had been recovered. At 2 p. m. an attempt was made to enter the ninth level north out on account of the density of smoke one of the officers of the company that there are only three or four men nissing and that the total number of the dead will not exceed 25.
