night of the death by suicide of Mrs Emma Kjar White. The story of the short wedded life to a man much older than herself and one she little knew tells the tale. At the time of her marriage, she was 17, while the man she wedded was 35. He is an engineer by trade, and soon after they were mar-ried, took his wife to Butte, where he was employed at one of the mines. The girl wife soon thred of the married life and matters went from bad to worse. White left her and she went to Nampa, and thence to Boise, Ida. Her mother, Mrs. Peter W. Kjar often wrote her, but her letters soon came back un-opened. Finally the girl wrote the following letter from Boise:

"Nampa, Idaho, Nov. 17. "O Dear Papa and Mamma:

"Please write to me; I an thin and old looking. I don't look like the Val-horg you used to know. I have had lots of trouble, papa and mamma; please ask the Lord to give me rest. I haven't slept or eaten anything for two weeks. I am worrying myself to two weeks, I am worrying myself to death. Please pray for me to be good, I am all alone now; I have no friends at all. Oh, pray that I may be good. Why the Lord is treating me like this, mother, dear, I do not know. Please write to me; you don't know, Piease write to me; you don't know how it hurts. I have wished myself dead every day and night. Oh, pray every night and ask the Lord to help me. I know that I have been wrong; forgive me, please. I am trying to do better. Please gaswer this letter at once. With love and kisses to all. From your broken-hearted daughter, Emma Valborg Kjar.

The mother urged her to return to her former home, the best one she had ever known. The next the father, ever known. The next the fath her was the announcement of her death. The deed was committed with Large forty-five caliber revolver. She was found on her bed in a pool of blood. A note on the floor told of her parents and identity.

IN TIME OF PEACE. In the first months of the Russia Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak. "have shingled their roots in dry weath-er." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists. IN TIME OF PEACE.
