

about 30 young people, spent the twenty-fourth at Pharaoh's Glen.

Mrs. G. R. Bothwell, with her daughters, the Misses Charlotte and Zaida, and son Floyd, have returned from the Yellowstone park.

Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Farrell left with the Alders today for Alameda, which is on Big Cottonwood next to the Walker farm.

Mrs. George Walker left yesterday for Bingham. She will be gone a week.

D. H. Peery will be home in about a week from Colorado Beach, where he has been the past two months.

W. J. Halloran with his daughters, Mary and Florence, have returned from the east.

Mrs. A. Robbins of Los Angeles is

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Roylance and family are spending the summer months at Springdell.

Mrs. B. F. Fleiner of Eureka was a Provo visitor this week.

Misses Clara, Gillies and Alice Iyle, of Eureka, were the guests of Mrs. Joseph Williamson this week.

Miss Anna Newton of Montrose, Colo., is here visiting Miss Anna Park.

Miss Hattie Parker of Salt Lake is visiting relatives here.

Miss Amy Taylor has returned from an extended visit to Salt Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Root of Michigan were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hosmer at dinner Tuesday.

Miss Allie Teasdale entertained the were visiting Mrs. Anne Goates the first of the week.

Miss Fern Cluff of Provo is the guest of Miss Susie Whipple this week.

Mr. Hector Brown of Longmont, Colo., is shaking hands with Lehi friends.

Miss Mina Hasler of Mt. Pleasant is visiting her brother, Dr. W. T. Hasler.

Mrs. Geo. Austin of Salt Lake City is spending the week with Lehi relatives.

Mr. John Evans is expected home from the New Zealand mission field tomorrow.

Mrs. J. S. Smith of San Pedro, Cal., is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. G. Smith.

Mrs. G. L. Stoekey is home after visiting relatives at Clover, for some time.

Miss Clo Woods of Ogden has been visiting Miss Lena Worlton the past week.

Mrs. Robert Taylor has gone to Idaho Falls to spend a month with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor.

Mrs. Ed Hall and Miss Rose Myers of Salt Lake City are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Huber Webb.

Miss Margaret Rabus of Salt Lake City is spending the summer with Mrs. A. J. Evans.

Mr. M. B. Bushman of Provo spent the week with Lehi relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cutler returned Wednesday from a ten days' visit with relatives at Shelly, Idaho.

journal in Pennsylvania, and they report a most enjoyable time while away.

J. P. Turner moved his family to Salt Lake on Wednesday, and as soon as they are settled there, Mr. Turner will go on to Nevada where he will take charge of a mine.

Mrs. Norman and her son, John Norman, left for their home in Chicago Sunday after a visit of a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. James Norman. Mr. and Mrs. Norman accompanied them as far as Salt Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Thompson left on last Saturday for Los Angeles where they expect to make their home.

W. W. McLaughlin of the Agricultural college at Logan was in Eureka the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hulsh were entertaining the former's father, O. P. Hulsh of Payson this week.

J. C. Sullivan left on Monday for Butte, Mont., where he will spend a few weeks.

James Kendall returned to his home in Grass valley, Cal., Thursday, after a visit of 10 days with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Benton. Mr. Kendall is a brother of Mrs. Benton and they had not seen each other for over 20 years.

Mrs. Harding and family are to camp at Palmer for the season.

President Joseph F. Smith spent the twenty-fourth of July with his family at Wasatch.

SALT LAKERS AT LONG BEACH, CAL.

Special Correspondence.

Long Beach, July 24.—Salt Laker prided themselves upon the native warmth of reception accorded Maude Adams during her appearance in "Peter Pan" at the Salt Lake theater, but that truly adequate and sufficient demonstration was frigid compared to Los Angeles' reception of the gifted actress. Again, again and again, one might say even to weariness, she was recalled, after each act, till the wonder was that hands had strength to applaud or she to respond. After all when enough has been done, the rest is weariness, and many of the party of Salt Lakers who occupied a row of seats at the performance of "L'Aiglon" and "Quality Street" wondered how the actress could so graciously respond to repeated calls eating up the precious time between acts which she must so sorely have needed for rest in the strain of her long and strenuous roles. Indeed, at the end of the week Miss Adams was obliged to spend the entire day in bed in order to meet the requirements of her engagement. On Friday, Miss Adams made an engagement to spend the day with Mrs. Percy Sadler in Long Beach, but was not able to rise during the day, being almost completely prostrated. How she rose to meet the exigencies of her one-part play and the acclamation of her audiences was a miracle.

Miss Gwen Knowlton left on Saturday night for Salt Lake, after a pleasant stay of two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Anthony Godbe.

Tracy Cummings ran down for a few days' stay with his sisters, Mrs. George Knox and Miss Cummings, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fenstermakers visited with Salt Lake friends in Long Beach this week.

A party consisting of Mrs. E. Spencer, Mrs. Oliver Jordan, Miss Gwen Knowlton, Miss Vera Sjoen and others took the Catalina trip a few days ago.

Mrs. George Knox left yesterday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Will Clavson, who are spending the summer at Ocean Park.

Mrs. Percy Sadler went up to Los Angeles today as the guest of Mrs. Charles Spencer, Maude Adams, who entertained at a large luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, Mrs. Nebeker and Miss Young have a vacant apartment at the "Mun" on the ocean front.

The Salt Lake colony residing on Ocean Avenue will go up to the city in a body on Saturday to see Ethel Barrymore in "Capt. Jinks."

Misses Miriam and Marjorie Brooks

are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities

FOR THE LITTLE MAID'S DAILY DIP.

Suits for children are simple and practical. Full bloomers reaching to the knees are attached to a sailor blouse, and the slightly gored and shirred skirt is buttoned on to this two-piece garment. Mohairs and light weight flannels and serges are the materials used for the children.

tint of brown and give a characteristic note to the simplest black dress.

In choosing materials for these summer dancing frocks one cannot go far wrong in selecting any of the soft, filmy materials. Cotton nets, either plain or dotted, make charming gowns and very inexpensive ones, too. They need not be made up over silk, as they are really more diaphanous over white lawn slips and a dressy corset waist, or even the colored lawn slips give a pleasing effect.

Dotted Swiss is another satisfactory fabric for a dancing gown; it is wide and does not crush easily, and so late in the season is very apt to be reduced. The colored Swisses are popular this season, or the white with large coin dots in pale blue, pink or green.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

ON THE TENNIS COURT IN WHITE LINEN.

Nothing looks so pretty against the green lawn and the sandy background of the tennis court as the all-white frock. The nature of the sport requires that all tennis garments be made very simply and amply large, insuring perfect freedom of movement to the body. The skirt should be short enough to run in without tripping. There are a variety of ways in which the waist may be made. Usually the sleeves are of elbow length sufficiently large at the cuff to slip up and down the arm easily in a long reach, and the neck is cut comfortably low. Tennis shirts have pointed necks, but little dresses like that of the illustration, a white linen with walls of Troy braiding in Delft blue, are cut square or rounding, whichever is most becoming. The waist blouses slightly in the back as well as the front, this arrangement giving perfect freedom. White canvas tennis shoes with low, flat heels and rubber soles are the accepted type of tennis footwear, although oxfords with low heels and rather heavy flexible soles are very often seen in the fashionable golden brown glossed kid.

the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. McChrystal, at the Fifth East hotel.

George A. Smith returned Wednesday from a three weeks' trip to Georgia.

Mrs. E. P. Beardsley and Miss Minnie Osborne of Denver are spending the summer in Salt Lake.

following guests this week: Mrs. J. E. Ellison of Los Angeles, Miss Margie Higgins of Salt Lake and Edith Sparks of Nephi.

Mrs. Arvilla C. Andelin has returned home from Richfield, where she has been visiting.

Miss La Prael Dunn is visiting in Eureka.

The Sixth ward enjoyed an outing at Sauer's park Wednesday.

LOGAN.

A very pleasant social event of this week was the lawn party given by the Misses Julia and Nan Nibley on Tuesday evening. The house and grounds were prettily decorated with lanterns, rugs and flowers. The guests of honor were the Misses Mildred Jensen, Ina Smith, Dossie and Grace Grant, Claire and Alice Young who are visiting at the Nibley home. About 50 young people enjoyed the evening.

Miss Marie Barber entertained informally on Friday evening in honor of Miss Veda Beebe of Salt Lake who is her guest. Those present were: The Misses Lon Thatcher, Vivian Hatch, Veda Beebe; Messrs. Rolapp, Leo Squires, George Langton, and Lawrence Calne.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Joe Ballif was hostess at a most pleasant children's party for her little son Jeff.

Miss Barbara Howell entertained at a delightful lawn party on Thursday evening. She was also hostess at a dinner party given on Wednesday.

The members of the Thatcher orchestra, together with their wives, husbands, and a number of friends, have returned from a most enjoyable trip to Bear Lake.

Mr. J. J. Toronto is up from Salt Lake on business.

Mrs. Nettie and Sloan and her two sons are spending several weeks in Fish Haven, Idaho.

Mr. Horace Nebeker and Prof. Wright are back from a trip to Bear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Campbell are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Campbell.

Mr. Lawrence Calne is up from Salt Lake visiting with his people.

Mr. Walt Pyper of Salt Lake was a visitor during the week.

Mr. Serge Campbell is visiting in Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Warrum are spending some time in Logan canyon as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Thatcher.

Miss Lillian Stevens of Ogden is visiting with relatives and friends in Logan.

LEHI.

Mrs. Geo. Teasdale of Salt Lake City is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joseph F. Smith.

Mr. O. A. Crismon of Eureka is spending a few days with friends here.

Mrs. Leon Taylor returned to her home at Sugar City after spending a week or two with relatives.

Miss Stella Whiting of Salt Lake City was visiting friends here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cutler, Jr., of Sugar City, Idaho, are the guests of Senator and Mrs. John Y. Smith.

Mrs. Emma Lindsey, Miss Emma Lindsey and Miss Ida Rider of Ogden

are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

A NEW PANAMA OUTING HAT AND VEIL.

Novelties in auto headwear continue to appear faster even than the devotees of this world famous sport tire of each fad and fancy of fashion. Now comes a new auto hat, a jaunty, narrow brim sailor with dented crown almost half again as high as the regulation sailor crown, and rounding. It is of fine unbleached panama, the crown soft, and the brim very stiff. Around this is draped the newest novelty in veils, a dark colored chiffon, brown, black or blue, with a deep border of various sized coin spots in white. Some of these veils have colored spots such as red, light blue and pink, on darker toned grounds, and these are very pleasing, meeting with a very ready sale in all departments. The veil is draped around the base of the crown, knotted in the back and left to hang free or is drawn around the neck and tied in a loose knot under the chin. The ornate design of these veils is such that they are not successfully worn over the face, though they may be hooded over the crown of the hat to give ample protection to the coiffure.

Bartholomew, formerly Miss Maude Harris.

The guests were entertained on the lawn at the home of Henry Harris.

Several families joined together and enjoyed the 24th in the meadows, eating dinner and luncheon there. Among those who enjoyed the outing were, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowring, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo N. Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hoopes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Lysle Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jeppson, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Anderson, the Misses Cleo Forsgren, Vern Forsgren, Jennie Reeder, Mary Woodland, Minnie Yearley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen, of Seattle Wash., are visiting in Brighton.

The Misses Rena Baird and Agnes Olsen left Monday for Preston and other Idaho points for their summer's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Merrill, of Logan, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Reese Saturday and Sunday.

Among the week's canyon parties were, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mortensen and family, the Matinas families, the Hursley families, Jacob Jensen family, Nellis Jensen and family, the McMaster family and Mayor Hoist and family.

WASATCH NOTES.

During the past week the following parties were guests of the Wasatch hotel: R. J. Evans, Malcolm McCall, Miss Sauer, E. E. McCoy and family, all of Illinois.

J. P. Pringle, P. J. Durant, J. E. Swensen, E. J. Gorton, G. J. Corsest, K. W. Jacobs, F. W. Norton, Miss Hattie Stundin, W. J. Craig, D. W. Harper, all of Wisconsin.

T. A. Williams and family are at Riverside with Mrs. J. G. Midgely.

Mr. George and Miss Maurice Critchlow are at Camp Dewey visiting Mrs. Sam Williamson.

George Dyke was guest of Miss Ravenor at the Burton cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hill of Bountiful, Davis county, arrived Thursday night for a visit of ten days with the parents of Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pribyl.

Hugh Heffernan of Heffernan & Thompson company is in Los Angeles this week.

Mrs. Dr. J. A. Hensel and son left Thursday for Denver where they will visit for a month with Mrs. Hensel's father.

Jackson McChrystal returned Wednesday from a visit in Salt Lake. He was accompanied to Eureka by his brother, Dr. Alex McChrystal, and W. R. Wallace, both of whom will spend several days in the camp.

George W. Riter of Salt Lake was at the Eureka Hill mine on Wednesday.

John Cronin has returned from a mining trip into Nevada.

The Misses Delphia and Ruby Simons of Payson are the guests of Miss Blanche Winner of Robinson this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Kopman returned Tuesday evening from a so-

A PRACTICAL DRESS FOR ANY OF THE SUMMER SPORTS.

Where will this vogue of the jumper dress stop? It started in dressy costumeing and now we have it in the line of midsummer sporting togs, not excepting the bathing suit. Even the shirtwaist and shirtwaist suits, whose places it was thought but a short time ago could never be taken by any other type of dress, has been forced to secondary importance since this jumper dress arrived. Natty little dresses of gaily plaided and checked ginghams and delicately tinted linens suitable for morning wear are part of the sporting girl's wardrobe this summertime. Skirts of these dresses are simply pleated and of ankle length, sometimes banded and again plain. The jumper waist is built in a variety of ways, but always on simple lines. Frequently it is cut so that the dainty gumpie worn with it can be dispensed with in the hottest weather. The waist of this particular dress is a Gibson model, three wide pleats set each side of the center front, fastened to the left side with three pointed tabs held down with white pearl buttons. The sleeves are quite full, but short at the elbow and slashed on the top of the arm where they are held together with two tabs matching those on the waist front. The hat with this dress of buff colored linen is of linen crash, trimmed with brown and blue and white plaid ribbon. The crown is rather large and the brim drops becomingly all around.

are fully their equal in coloring and laundries much better. Some of the newest have an undertone of fine satin bars or stripes, with wreaths and floral sprays scattered through them.

Trimmings are not specially changed from early in the season. Laces are in greater favor than anything else, with German valencienne, cluny and baby Irish in the lead. Dyed laces are much used in every tone known to the dyer's art, and all sorts of ribbon, either plain or fancy, are seen in girdles and sashes.

Nearly all young girls have the promise of beauty. Like talents of the brain these qualities of loveliness may be developed. A certain amount of daily attention will assist the hair to grow and to become abundant. The use of invigorating lotions on the scalp, together with brushing and grooming, will bring a satin luster and a healthy growth. Physical culture will create grace for the body, and all athletic exercises that are not too severe or violent are to be recommended. Rhythmic dancing, as taught at the gymnasium now, will do any girl or woman a world of benefit. When there is undue moisture of the palms of the hands, friction of the palms of the hands, made by combining seventy grains of eucalypt water and fifteen grains of tincture of belladonna. It is impos-ible for the amateur to procure perfume from the natural flowers.

Then there are mulls, batistes, plain or embroidered, silk muslin and some of the sheerest of the cotton voiles. The all-white gown is always good, and this summer it is much seen with touches of the new shade of pink. All-over valencienne lace can be had cheaply and makes lovely evening frocks, particularly if one takes the trouble to embroider parts of the design in color.

Prune Gums—Soak one-half pound prunes over night, stone and cut in quarter-inch pieces. Separate two eggs, beat yolks and add to them one-half teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonful of butter melted and one-half cup of sugar. Beat well, add three-fourths cup of milk and one and one-half cups of flour. Beat until smooth, add the prunes and three-fourths teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Add the beaten white of the eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Fold in lightly. Bake in greased gem pans 30 minutes in a moderately brisk oven. Serve hot.

Flowered organdies are lovely, if permissible, but the new flowered dimities

It's worth the cost to look like this. "Irresistible" front Model L. Medium and large figures. All models 11, 12 and 13 inch front, deep.

"They lace in front"

MODEL L

Shakespeare said of a man: "The elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man.'" Of "Irresistible" Model L, the whole world will stand up and say: "This is a corset" modeled after natural laws. It is the very essence of all the goodness in corsetry—all that was known, all that we have discovered. It is the embodiment of the theory of a reason for every one of its component parts. It represents an exact science in the placing of its bones (and there are few of them in the exact location to a minimum fraction of every seam, eyelet and hook, each and everything done not because it was the easiest way, but because a greatly desired, a necessary and important result was achieved by doing it in that way. Model "L" is the apex of perfection for the figure of generous proportions. It does not disappoint in any feature. It fulfills the utmost expectations at hips, back, bust and gives a better waist line than is possible in any other corset. It was made for a need