

MILLSPAGH HOME AGAIN.

Express to Roanoke to tell Lake and Seven in Superintendent of the Next Two Years.

Superintendent, Millspagh of the city, addressed to him again. Once he went to Detroit, Ohio, where his name was before the Board of Education at that city for a similar position to the one occupied here. He says there were terrible conditions at the place, but that the real reason was between three of them himself and two others. The author does not know who they were, though it is not improbable that no other man will be chosen to fill the place. The author would like to see a few changes in the board's few remaining men.

Standard Utah.

Lehi Barber. On October, Messrs. Lehi, Standard and son of Germany visited Lehi and looked over the sugar industry here. Mr. Standard is the vice president of three factories in Germany and has been looking up the industry in this country. He found the Lehi Sugar Company to be the best and largest in the country. The author agrees with what they say and were impressed by the extensive character of their sugar production and also quite a number of them.

Dale Lind's Coming Home.

Officer's Office, June 9, 1898.—Abelard Anthony L. Good arrived in Liverpool on his return from Palestine, May 27, 1898, and will sail for New York from Glasgow today. His letters to friends and readers have been informed by letters from him which appeared in the Star. He enjoyed good health during his trip and is now in full vigor. The author met him in the Turkish station. All are well.

Older C. N. Lind, who has recently been in Europe, has just received the Standard's latest issue arrived in Liverpool on May 27. He will also go to New York today, in company with Abelard and other returning missionaries.
