

Our Country Contemporaries

Ogden Freeman, August 6—

Forty-six silver bricks from the Ophir and neighboring leads at Virginia, Nev., passed through to New York yesterday. The aggregate value is about $200,000, of which the per centage is gold 58, silver 93.

On Wednesday as a sixteen year old daughter of Jimmy Bond was drawing water from a well near the Court House, she lost her balance and tumbled into eight feet of water. There was no one near to help her, but the girl with extraordinary presence of mind grasped the walls of the well and with a desperate effort crawled out of her dangerous bath, dripping like a rat, but safe and sound.

On Tuesday evening as one engine on the C. P. and one on the U. C. were using energetic efforts to pass the crossing the two collided. The one on the C. P. was No. 126, the yard engine here, she struck the U. C. No. 6 amidstships. A hole was made in the tank of No. 126, and her hind trucks knocked off the track, while the tank of the U. C. was thrown off. The 126 was backing down switching a heavy train. The No. 6 was backing up light. No person injured.

H. B. Forbes, of Ogden, has shown us a model of a window fastener, adapted to houses, cars, etc. The weight of the thumb-bolt holds the window in its place, while, for greater security, a spring acts on the thumb-bolt. Mr. Forbes will send the model to Washington and apply for a patent at once.

On Wednesday Mr. James May returned from Washington, in the Utah Dixie. On the 17th of Oct. last, he left Brigham City with a party of thirteen men, three wagons, twelve horses and a good outfit of farming and kitchen implements, with instructions to proceed to a point five miles east of Washington, and found a colony for the purpose of raising cotton, to be used at the Brigham City mills. On the 5th of November they reached the site of their future town, and fell to work in a hearty way. He has to report as the success of his labors up to the present time, as follows: Built a dam across the Virgin river 150 feet long, 40 feet wide, four feet high, of stone and brush; blasted through a point of rocks, making a cut 55 feet long, averaging 11 feet in depth; cut an irrigating ditch one and a half miles long, 80 rods of which is five feet deep; grubbed the brush and cleared it off 56 acres of land; planted 30 acres of cotton, six acres of lucerne—sowed the lucerne in March, and cut and stacked from it three tons of hay in the middle of July; planted 700 grape vines and 2,000 cuttings, and 400 cottonwood trees. The wind killed 15 acres of the cotton, so that there was left 33 acres of land that they planted in corn. They built 250 rods of fence, which cost in labor $500. There are bluffs that form a natural fence three miles long. The cost of the water is $15 to the acre. The party was sent out by the local authorities of Brigham City. And it is expected that machinery for manufacturing the cotton will be put up in the cloth mills already in operation at Brigham City. The party met with remarkable success, and expect to erect dwelling houses next fall. From present appearances the yield of cotton will be from six to eight thousand pounds.

CHLORAL HYDRATE IN NEURALGIA.—The intimate mixture of equal parts of chloral hydrate and camphor will, it is said, produce a clear fluid which is of the greatest value for local application in neuralgia. Dr. Lenox Browne, states in one of the English medical journals, that he has employed it in his practice, and induced others to do so, and that in every case it has afforded great, and, in some instances, instantaneous relief. Its success, he says, does not appear to be at all dependent on the nerve affected, it being equally efficacious in neuralgia of the sciatica, as of the trigemini—of the greatest service in neuralgia of the larynx, and in relieving spasmodic cough of a nervous or hysterical character. It is only necessary to paint the mixture lightly over the painful part, and to allow it to dry. It never blisters, though it may occasion a tingling sensation of the skin. For headache it is also found an excellent application.

THE SUN CHOLERA MIXTURE.—More than forty years ago, when it was found that prevention for the Asiatic cholera was easier than cure, the learned doctors of both hemispheres drew up a prescription, which was published (for working people) in The New York Sun, and took the name of "The Sun Cholera Mixture." Our contemporary never lent its name to a better article. We have seen it in constant use for nearly two score years, and found it to be the best remedy for looseness of the bowels ever yet devised. It is to be commended for several reasons. It is not to be mixed with liquor, and therefore will not be used as an alcoholic beverage. Its ingredients are well known among all the common people, and it will have no prejudice to combat; each of the materials is in equal proportion to the others, and it may therefore be compounded without professional skill; and as the dose is so very small, it may be carried in a tiny phial in the waistcoat pocket, and be always at hand. It is:

Tinct. opii,
Capsici,
Rhei co.,
Menth. pip.,
Campho.

Mix the above in equal parts; dose, ten to thirty drops. In plain terms, take equal parts tincture of opium, red pepper, rhubarb, peppermint, and camphor, and mix them for use. In case of diarrhoea take a dose of ten to twenty drops in three or four teaspoonfuls of water. No one who has this by him and takes it in time will ever have the cholera. We commend it to our Western friends, and hope that the receipt will be widely published. Even when no cholera is anticipated it is an excellent remedy for ordinary summer complaint.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The Prussian Government has offered two prizes, of the value of about £150 and £500 respectively, for the discovery of a new method for cleansing plaster casts, statues, etc., and for the invention of a new material possessing the advantages of plaster, but which will not deteriorate by repeated washings.

CHERRY PECTORAL!

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Cold, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

THE few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brassy, weak, or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens, and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
