Will Exhibit Photos—C. E. Johnson has returned from San Francisco, with a large assortment of photo-lantern slides, which he will exhibit at the Salt Lake Theater.

Colored Odd Fellows—The colored Odd Fellows will hold their annual convention in this city Sept. 3, when there will be a large attendance of the order from all over the west.

Jacob Thorne Hurt—Jacob Thorne, aged 65, fell from his balcony yesterday, because of a decayed railing, at his lodgings, 220 State street. He was removed to the L. D. S. hospital with a fractured left thigh and wrist, with other bruises.

Narrow Escape—A workman whose name could not be learned was caught by a cave-in while working in a gas trench on Third South and First West late yesterday afternoon. He was rescued by his fellow workmen, but was said to have been badly bruised and crushed.

After Deserters—The war department is posting notice of deserters in the Federal building. Notice is posted there now of the desertion of Harry Staley, Seventieth coast artillery company, and that his nearest of kin is George Staley, 215 G street street, Salt Lake City.

Filed on Water—Joseph J. Cannon of this city has filed application with the state engineer for 35 second feet of water from Chicken creek in Juab county, to be piped 25,000 feet to where the water is to be applied for power purposes. The plant is to be of 500 horse power.

Fruit Growers Meet—The fruit growers of Salt Lake county will meet in the new opera house at Sandy, June 23, at 2 p. m., to discuss among other things the advisability of buying at a fair price all the fruit raised in that vicinity and the establishment of a fruit packing plant.

Tomato Crop—Canning experts who have been looking over the tomato situation in this valley report that while the late spring set back the plants, and though the cut worm has done some damage, the general outlook is encouraging, and they believe there will be a heavy and satisfactory crop.

To Inspect and Survey—Judge Marshall yesterday issued an order permitting the plaintiff in the case of the Buckhorn Ore company, vs. A. L. Kern et al, to inspect and survey all the underground workings within the boundaries of the California mining claim, situated in the Ophir mining district.

Arthur Brown Released—Arthur Brown, who was recently bound over to the district court upon two charges of forgery, has been released from the county jail under bonds in the sum of $2,000. Roderick McKenzie went on Brown's bond. Brown is charged with forging the name of his employers, W. C. and A. J. Orem, to two checks amounting to several thousand dollars.

Greeks Arraigned—Striking Greeks, to the number of 29, were arraigned before Justice Dana T. Smith yesterday afternoon, on a charge of inciting to riot. The trouble grew out of the recent strike at Garfield. King, Burton & King represented the Greeks, and all entered pleas of not guilty. The bail of the three leaders was fixed at $1,000 each; 20 were required to put up $200 each and the remaining six $50.

Residence Burglarized—The home of D. A. Nixon, 412 I street, was entered by burglars some time last evening. Only a small sum of money was missed, but the place had been ransacked. Silverware and jewelry were entirely overlooked by the thieves, who seemingly were bent upon securing money only. Entrance was gained through a window, and exit was made the same way, after every nook and corner of the house had been searched.

Run Over By Bus—While riding a bicycle near the Rio Grande Western depot, K. Pakerios, a Greek, was run over and perhaps fatally injured at 9 o'clock last night, by a bus of the Salt Lake Livery and Transfer company. The injured man was cared for at 527 West Second South street, by Dr. Samuel G. Paul. One of the wheels passed over the man's abdomen, but the full extent of his injuries could not be ascertained. Beekeepers' Meeting—The Salt Lake county beekeepers whose insects have been destroyed by smelter fumes, met yesterday afternoon, at Mr. Lovsey's residence on Sixth East street, and passed the following resolution: "Resolved, That we the beekeepers present at this meeting on this date authorize the committee comprising E. S. Lovesy, James Neilson, John B. Fagg and Robert Gill to sue the smelter companies that decline or refuse to pay the damages done to the bee industry in Salt Lake county, and also authorize the committee to send a circular letter to all beekeepers of whom they have the names, informing them of the situation and inviting them to a meeting to be held at 335 Sixth East street on Wednesday, June 27, at 2 o'clock, ready and prepared to join in this suit and all who do not join with us at this meeting must look after their individual cases themselves." President Lovesy paid a high tribute to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Bryner and Mrs. R. J. Empey, three prominent beekeepers of Carbon county who have passed away since the spring convention.

STUDY OF PLANTS AND ANIMALS.

How to Arouse the Interest and Train the Observation of The Child.

AS THE SEASONS CHANGE.

The Child Attentively Follows the Cycles of Nature as He Learns Course of Life on Earth.

Prof. Cummings announced at the U. of U. yesterday in the nature study that self-interest is the most powerful motive in inducing the child to study. By this is meant what is useful to the child today, not what may possibly be of interest or use to him 20 years hence for the child cannot imagine what will be attractive or useful to him in time to come.

OBSERVING ANIMALS AND PLANTS.

A natural history calendar may be made by the pupils for each month, with the day and date on the left, one-half the space being devoted to animals and one-half to plants. On each day the children report what bird or animal they have seen that day, where seen, what doing and other facts. A field lesson on the animals at work and a record of the time of appearance and disappearance of the birds, butterflies, insects and other animals. This work leads on to a consideration of the migrations of birds and how certain animals pass the winter. By December, much of the animal activity ceases, to be renewed again in March. With the study of animals will go that of plants because of the dependence between these two kingdoms of nature. The wild flowers are noticed, where they grow, when they bloom, fruit, etc. Their names are learned, their colors noted, their uses commented upon, the help they are to animals is traced out; and this material derived from original observation is the foundation in the form of percepts, or original ideas.

THE RULE OF KNOWING.

We derive from psychology the conviction that an idea is not comprehended until it has gone into the consciousness and been there assimilated or worked over into the form of concepts, or general notions, and then sent forth in some form of expression—communicted or wrought into form by some motor or muscular activity. Therefore the children should always tell or record what they have seen, or construct in some form of drawing or mechanism what they have conceived. This is the true reason for record-making.

STUDIES CHANGE WITH SEASONS.

It may be shown that certain subjects are best studied at certain seasons. Thus for continuous study the subjects of weather, the taming and training of domestic animals, their habits, their general anatomy, and whatever subjects do not change with the seasons. We study the skeletons of animals when we study livers in physics. In studying the subject of animal coverings, however, the winter would be the best time, since that is the time when the covering seems to be of most use. We teach the covering in its relation to the needs of the animals, and comparisons with the coverings of others. A collection is made of feathers, furs, skins, etc., and it is shown why these coverings are good for the several species, but would not do for us. In the fall, teach the preparation that animals make for winter, storing of food, our own harvesting, migrations, etc. In the spring we consider the reappearance of animals, the springing up of annual, and the budding of perennial plants, the changes that occur in the animal coverings, their food relations, methods of obtaining it, etc., the mating and nesting of birds, the swarming of bees, and other facts relating to their increase and the care of their young.

FATAL CAVE-IN.

Tons of Sand Killed Elijah Powell Yesterday Afternoon.

At the undertaking parlors of Joseph William Taylor lies the body of Elijah Powell, who was killed last evening in the sand pits, west of the Jordan. The unfortunate man and his brother Edward went to the pits at a late hour to procure a load for a contractor who wanted the material early this morning. They had nearly succeeded in loading the wagon when the cave-in occurred. Both brothers were buried in the mass of sand and gravel, Elijah completely and Edward to his armpits. The latter called loudly for help, and was rescued from his peril by N. Nelson, who was attracted to the scene. Nelson called to his assistance R. E. Lewis, C. T. Husbands, H. H. Husbands and W. H. Rauch, and the five men set to work digging out Elijah. It was fully two hours before the unfortunate man was uncovered, and life had been extinct for some time. It is thought that death was instataneous, as the man's back and thighs were broken, and it is not improbable that his neck was broken also. The face was not discolored, as is the case when death results from strangulation.

Powell left a wife and baby, the latter about six months old. Divorce proceedings were pending between himself and wife, and he made his home with his aged parents, who live at 1084 west Eighth South. The deceased was about 24 years of age.

Officer Middleton helped to uncover the body of young Powell, and the patrol wagon was called to remove the remains to the undertaker's. The time of the funeral has not yet been announced.

SORE MUSCLES.

Prominent athletes throughout the country find that the best treatment for sore muscles after severe exercise or hard work of any kind, is a hot bath at bed time, which opens the pores. This should immediately be followed with an application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm vigorously rubbed into the skin. This liniment removes all stiffness and soreness and has become a favorite rub down as it acts promptly and keeps the muscles in excellent condition. For sale by all druggists.

THOUSANDS SAW THE BIG PARADE

Butchers and Grocers Owned The Town Last Night.

MADE A SPLENDID SHOWING.

About 500 Vehicles in Line—Divided Into Six Sections—Trades Attractively Represented.

The Butchers and Grocers "owned the town" last night, when they made their parade through the principal thoroughfares of the city. The procession reached from South Temple to Third South on Main street, thence over to State street and up to Second South. There were about 500 wagons in line, with numerous carriages and tally-hos. It was regarded as the biggest affair of the kind ever given in the city. The parade was divided into six sections, and all of the different branches of the butchers and grocers' trades were attractively represented.

ORDER OF PARADE.

The formation of the parade was as follows, with F. H. Weight, E. C. Allen and Richard Papworth as marshals:

Held's military band.

Board of directors and officers of the Retail Butchers & Grocers' association, in charge of C. M. Lees, on horseback.

The association baseball team, in charge of J. A. Ekman.

One hundred and fifty butchers and grocers on foot, all in costume of white aprons and white coats, in charge of H. Kramer.

Barbecue float.

Wholesale butchers in wagons, in charge of Richard Papworth, Jr.

Wholesale grocers and commission men, butter houses and creamery men.

Wholesale candy men, McDonald, Sweet, Murphy Bros., and Robert Eite, in charge of Bert Milam and Mr. Smith.

The second division comprised the Salt Lake stake delivery, butchers' and grocers' wagons, 100 in line, E. E. Rich, Jr., William Bowdidge and James Westwood in charge. The wagons were gaily decorated and made a long line.

Another section of Held's band and Ensign stake, 115 wagons, all gaily decorated, with Bert Olsen, William Heckman and Mr. Murdock in charge, made up the third division.

Ninety-seven butchers' and grocers' wagons in line, also decorated, in charge of J. B. Watson, John Kirk and Carl Cowan, formed the fourth division.

In the fifth division, Liberty stake, with 119 butchers' and grocers' wagons in line, under Lewis Ensign, made an imposing array.

Red fire was burned en route, and the surroundings were made more picturesque by the bright dresses of the ladies in the tally-hos and the blowing of horns.

HOW TO BREAK UP A COLD.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. To do this, however, prompt action is necessary. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by all druggists.
