MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS.

DAISY DIRECTORS RESIGNING FAST

Officials Do Not Want to Carry Burden of Company—Leave Manager to Fight Battle.

Resignations galore of officials of the Daisy Mining company were tendered last night following a "consolation" meeting of the board of directors at the company's office in this city. Chas. D. Wilkinson resigned as president; W. L. Cardon as secretary and treasurer, and the following resigned as directors: Charles D. Wilkinson, Harry C. Cutler, Chester Lyman, W. L. Cardon and W. B. Morris, says the Goldfield News.

There are two other directors of the company, W. H. Hoagland and J. Seligman of New York City, but they have not as yet made any move toward resigning. Those who resigned last night are entirely local people.

John C. Kinnear, who has been assayer, sampler and clerk at the mine for a considerable period, was elected secretary and treasurer, and will have charge of affairs at the mine while leasers continue operations.

Company work on the Daisy has practically been suspended, only two men now remaining to make a final clean-up of ore that has been hoisted to surface. The company is said to be indebted to workmen for nearly $2,000, and efforts are being made by Charles D. Wilkinson, the general manager who was recently handed a lemon in the way of the presidency of the company while attending a meeting of directors in New York. It seems that everyone else who could get out from under and Wilkinson did not know the size of the oval and bitter piece of fruit until it had been secretly sewed into his inside pocket.

BOOKS IN NEW YORK.

Such books of the company as pertained directly to the operations of the mine were kept in the Daisy office in Goldfield, but the rest of the accounts, most of which were ancient history, were among the archives of the company in New York. Among these things were a note for $5,000 held by Frank Horton and associates, and other obligations that brought the sum total up to about $20,000. Wilkinson, who is recognized as one of the ablest mining men in Goldfield and who has been general manager for the Daisy company since about the first of the present year, was unaware of many of these obligations, and with the approval of the board of directors extended development along more extensive lines than he would otherwise have done. In the meantime the insiders apparently got out as fast as they could, and left Wilkinson to hold the sack when the final "show-down" came.

"Under normal conditions, I could have made the Daisy pay its way and kept it on a safe footing," said Mr. Wilkinson, "but I had no idea that the company was in such a hole. They let me go ahead with development work that I would otherwise not have undertaken, but would have confined operations to that part of the mine that promised best in the way of ore. I would then have been safe and there would have been no such entanglements as there are at present. Now they have put the whole load on me, so far as the worry of the thing is concerned, and there it stands. The men will be paid off as fast as we can get in some money, but I don't know what will be done about the other obligations. No move for a judgment has yet been taken in the suit recently filed by Frank Horton and his associates, but I understand that some effort has been made to settle or compromise it."

MARKET HAS SICK FEELING.

Trading Is Lowest of the Year on Local Mining Exchange.

Trading on the local mining exchange developed a sickly feeling this morning and trading faded away until the lowest record of the year was reached. The usual energy of the brokers was lacking and there was a terrible dearth of buying orders. Prices as a rule were lower and but few of the leaders were traded in. When the trading closed this morning only 38,200 shares of stock had changed hands and the total outlay represented by the transactions was $8,116.50.

Bullock showed some activity this morning and 6,000 shares changed hands at 1 cent a share. Columbus Consolidated was in demand at 65 and 66 cents this morning and Iron Blossom showed a tendency to move up. The stock did reach as high as 73 cents.

On the curb market there was more trading than on the open board. The Ely issues seemed to be the favorites. A sale of 6,000 shares of Federal Ely was made at 17½ cents and 600 shares of McDonald Ely sold at 40 cents. Ely Witch was another favorite and 200 shares were sold at 17 cents. East Cumberland Ely sold at 10 cents.

UTAH COPPER PRODUCTION.

Table Issued Showing Earnings of Company by Quarters.

The Utah Copper company has now announced the production for the three months of the quarter ending with last September, says the Boston Financial News. The quarter shows a new record for production, the total being 15,290,786 pounds.

The production and earnings of the Utah Copper by quarters have been:

Period.	Gross production.	Cost per lb.	Net Profit.
July, August, September, 1907	5,303,958 lbs.	8.95c	$662,062.71
October, November, December	7,718,712 "	[illegible]	[illegible]
January, February, March, 1908	8,527,939 "	Not avail.	Not avail.
April, May, June	11,568,390 "	[illegible]	493,694.07
July, August, September	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
October, November, December	12,096,925 "	[illegible]	501,391.60
January, February, March, 1909	11,776,654 "	[illegible]	[illegible]
April, May, June	12,107,549 "	[illegible]	382,469.51
July, August, September	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

It is understood that the costs for the September quarter were below 8 cents per pound and that the earnings were not far from $1 per share or double the dividend.

SEND THEIR THANKS.

Capt. Duncan MacVichie this morning received a letter from Prof. R. W. Raymond, of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, thanking him and the members of the committee who took part in the entertainment of the engineers during their recent visit here. Mr. Raymond extends the thanks of the institute for the arrangements made by the committee, "to see with convenience and comfort so much of the scenic and architectural beauty, the industrial and commercial activity, the wealth, and the progress of your continental metropolis."

CONCENTRATES.

S. S. Pond has returned from a trip to the Cedar-Talisman property in Beaver county.

Greenwater, Nevada, is no more. The last remnant of the once flourishing camp have gone. Only the coyotes now howl about the $10,000 bank building, the printing office and other signs of civilization as it is declared to be worth more than the things are worth to freight them where they can be used.

A collision between a large touring automobile and a street car occurred last night on Third South street between Main and West Temple in which the lives of several ladies were endangered, and the car was badly wrecked. The car, which belonged to Mrs. McChrystal residing at 575 east First South street, had been borrowed by W. R. Wallace during the day. [illegible]

BUS PASSENGERS

Benjamin Holt, his son William of Stockton, Cal., and Henry T. Preble of Berkeley, are among the guests at the Kenyon today. Mr. Holt is president of a large manufacturing company in California and Mr. Preble is treasurer of an engine company with which Mr. Holt is also identified. The visitors spent only today in Salt Lake but will return after their eastern trip. It is their purpose to visit all the large cities of the country with a view to getting "pointers" on manufacturing and establish somewhere in the east a plant to manufacture a traction engine of which Mr. Holt is the inventor. HIGHER PRICES WERE THE RULE

New York, Nov. 3.—The resumption of business in stocks today, after the holiday, was at higher prices generally. Pennsylvania was a notable exception with a decline of a point and the United States Steel stocks were slightly depressed. American Car rose 1½. Baltimore & Ohio, Colorado & Southern, Pittsburg C. C. and St. Louis and International Harvester 1, and Union Pacific, St. Paul, Chicago Great Western Certificates, Amalgamated Copper, Republic Steel and Colorado Fuel large fractions.

Selling orders were distributed and the market reacted sharply. Buying of the local tractions, copper and railroad equipment stocks then began and prices for these specialties went up strongly.

Railroad stocks remained heavy. Pressed Steel Car gained 2⅝, Amalgamated Copper 1⅝, and New York, Chicago & St. Louis 1½, Pacific Mail 1⅜, Kansas City Southern, American Steel Foundries and Utah Copper 1; Atlantic Coast Line fell 1½.

Prices sagged and the trading became dull. Wisconsin Central and Utah Copper gained 1. Consolidated Gas declined 1½.

Bonds were irregular.

United States Steel ruled a point below its high price of the forenoon and there was some sympathetic heaviness in the other metal stocks. American Beet Sugar sold a point below Monday's closing, and Federal Mining preferred 2⅝.

Prices had a slight rally. Union Pacific and Reading, which had been down about a point, made up their losses and there also was better support for United States Steel. Lackawanna jumped 10 points. Baltimore & Ohio rose 2, Laclede Gas and Great Northern Ore Certificates 1.

The market closed irregular and strong. The tone became harder towards the end of the day. Amalgamated Copper rose an extreme 3, Colorado Fuel 1⅝, Pittsburg Coal preferred 2⅝ and American Smelting and Anaconda 1. American Woolen declined 1½, Schloss-Sheffield 1¼ and Kansas City Southern 1.

PRODUCE.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Early trading in wheat was dull today and prices were inclined to sag, owing to scattered selling, based on weak cables and the heaviness of the cash grain situation in this country. Opening prices were unchanged to [illegible] lower, with December at 1.00⅝ to 1.01⅛. On buying by pit traders, December rallied to 1.01⅝.

Buying of corn by commission houses held the early market steady, despite selling prompted by favorable weather throughout the corn belt. December opened unchanged to a shade higher at 59⅛ to 59⅜ and later sold at 59⅛.

Oats were quit and steady. December opened unchanged at 39⅝@¾ and sold early in the day at 39¾.

Provisions were strong owing to active demand. Lighter receipts of live hogs in the west were the bullish factor.

Prices at the start were 5c lower to 17½ higher.

The market slumped severely during the last half of the day on account of the cash situation in the northwestern markets where prices declined to a still lower level. The principal selling pressure was on December, the price of which dropped to 1.01⅝.

The market closed weak at almost the bottom with December down 2⅛ at 1.01⅞@1.02.

Corn—The break in wheat caused some recession in corn, December declining from 59 to 58⅜. The close was easy with Dec. ⅛ lower at 58½.

SUICIDE HAD $80,000 IN POCKETS

Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 2.—Arthur Finnegan, a cattleman, known throughout the state as "Honest Fin," was found hanging by the neck from a beam in a barn near Pedro yesterday. Cash and certificates of deposit were found on his body amounting to more than $80,000.

He had recently sold his ranch and it is believed that his departure from the locality, which he had called home for years, had affected his mind.
