The new travelers' money orders are issued in amounts of $10, $20, $50, $100 and $200 each, payable n all countries of the face value in gold, or the equivalent, without discount or commission, and without annoyance or delay. As the orders themselves furnish the identifi-cation of the holder, they are conveni-ent as currency, and have the addition-al advantage that, if last or stolen, the amount will be refunded. The face of the orders shows the exact amount and kind of money that will be paid in the various countries where a standard monetary value prevails, and in all other countries where the value of money fluctuates. All the holder has to do is to sign his name on each order in the top left hand corner at the time that he purchases them. Then when he wants to cash them he inserts the name of the payee at will and signs his name again at the bottom in the presence of the payee, who also indors-Forgery thus is practically impossible

None of these young men are orators, and yet the one impression made by their ap-pearance, their remarks and manner of conducting missionary work, on an un-blasd mind, is, that they are honest and sincere and free from deception. Honest simplicity and pure intelligence beamed in the countenance of every one. They informed us in conversation that as far as practicable they travel after the pattern enjoined by the Sav-for, without "purse or scrip," whatever of means needed for expenses are fur-nished by themselves. # BROWN DENIED.

Petition by Former Senator in Adultery Case Turned Down.

The supreme court this afternoon denied the petition of Arthur Brown for a writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Morse, of the district court, from taking any further action in the case of the state vs Arthur Brown. In denying the petition the court held that the proper remedy in such matters is by ppeal and not by application for a writ of prohibition.

In his petition Senator Brown alleged that Judge Morse had no jurisdiction in the case because the same was not properly instituted in the city court. It was alleged that the complaint was sworn to before the deputy clerk of the city conct and the warrant issued for arrest of defendant without the the magistrate examining the complaining witness as to his knowledge of the crime at all as required in sections 4512 and 4615 of the Revised Statutes of Utah.

The opinion of the supreme court, which was written by Chief Justice Baskin and concurred in by Justices Bartch and McCarty, holds that as there is no question raised as to the form or substance of the complaint or variant of arrest or the commitment or the information, but merely as to the preliminary steps taken to institute the case, the district judge had the jurisdiction to decide whether the steps were sufficient to sustain the informa-tion and he acted within the scope of his authority when he denied the de-fendant's motion to quash and plea to the jurisdiction of the court. If there was any error committed in that respect by the lower court, the opinion states that the proper remedy is by appeal and by writ of prohibition.

Judge Morse Fixes it For Monday April 4-Reason for Delay.

Judge Morse this afternoon continued the trial of the case of the state vs John M. Shockley, charged with the murder of two streetcar men on the night of Jan. 6, until Monday, April 4. 1904. The case was formerly set for trial on March 22. The continuance was granted upon the motion of Attor. neys Smith & Wilson, who represent Shockley. It was set out in affidavits in support of the motion for continu-ance that the attorneys have a big wa. ter suit on before Judge Hall, which would interfere with the Shockley case. In an affidavit signed by Shockley it was stated that he expects to receive some money with which to carry on his defense about the first of April and that without the money he would be unable to prepare his case.

THE CURIOUS DISAPOINTED. At the afternoon session a larger congregation assembled and at night the house was well filled. The major the house was well filled. The major part of the time was occupied by Presi-dent Pratt and his distinguished visi-tors from Sait Lake City. We had been led to suppose by newspaper reports that the preaching of Mormon Apostles and leading Elders largely consisted of tirades against the ministers of other denominations and that doublies much denominations, and that doubtless much ent agitation against Senator Smoot. The dishonesty and injustice of Mor-mon traducers. In both these items we were happily disappointed; instead of either attack or comments upon anti-Mormons, or the tenets of other men's faith, they expounded their ewn in a fain, they expounded their own in a clear, comprehensive and most forcible manner. They quoted largely from the Old and New Testament to prove their view of gospel doctrines from the phophecies of the Jewish Scriptures, especially from Christ and the apostles, to show that such a work a restoration especially from Christ and the apostles, to show that such a work, a restoration of ancient gifts and powers, the gath-ering of Israel, and all that "Mormon-ism" claims to be, would actually trans-pire in the last days prior to the millen-nial advent of the Lord Jesus Christ. They quoted from the Bible to prove that such a work as the Book of Morthat such a work as the Book of Mor-mon would be brought forth in the lat-ter times, revealing the origin, history, destiny and purposes of God, respect-ing the ancient inhabitants of America. TEACHINGS OF JOSEPH SMITH.

They also cited some prophecies in the Book of Mormon, notably concern-ing the Jews, which have been verified since the publication of the Book of Mormon to the world. In referenuce to the mission of their martyred prophet, Joseph Smith, they cited his predic-tions and their fulfilment. They said that he had taught a pure doctrine. that the spirit attending obedience thereto had brought together in one united faith 340,000 people, that many of the doctrines advanced by Joseph Smith were being accepted by men of other faiths, and that whatever evi-dence could be brought to substantiate the divine mission of ancient prophets. the same character of evidence could be brought forth to sustain the claims made by Joseph Smith. "He sealed his testimony with his blood," continued the speaker, "and thus gave to the world the fullest evidence that man could give of a mission divine." When asked if he would not give the views of the Church regarding the position of Senator Smoot and the attitude of his opponents, Elder Cowley replied that subjects of that kind have nothing to do with our religious conferences, we leave that for the religious meetings of our sectarian friends who are so willing to mingle church and state in their wild and futile efforts to suppress "Mormoniem" "In fact " said M. Com "Mormonism." "In fact." said Mr. Cow-ley,, "the Church has no concern whatever at to what disposition the senate shall make of the case in question. The Church has nothing to do with electing Mr. Smoot. He was elected by Boundian the senate the senate of the Republican legislature, consisting of "Mormon" and Gentile, independent of any of the religious influences. If they turn him out it will not retard the progress of the church one lota. The case has no connection with the Church unless you say that the anti-Mormon element are attacking the Church instead of Senator Smoot. In any event, the Church will not be injured, and is not disturbed.

Why should people be hated without cause is marvelous. Why ministers of Christian sects should fear to have their followers hear the "Mormon" EL iers and leave them unbiased to judge for themselves, is among the unaccount ables, unless it is that they fear the contact because convinced themselves that "Mormonism" contains so much truth that the other isms will be the sufferers by compraison.
