MINISTERS MEET.

The Salt Lake Ministerial association listened yesterday, to a paper by Rev. J. D. Johnson, local superintendent of the American Sunday school mission, on his experiences in building up Sunday schools in the west, and a recital of some of the difficulties encountered. A committee from the W. C. T. U. called to ask that the association endorse the Hepburn-Dolliver bill prohibiting the issuing of government licenses in localities where the selling of liquor is not allowed. The ministers individually and as an association approved of the petition and will present it in their various churches for signature. The semi annual election for officers comes at the next meeting.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia. Pneumonia is too dangerous a dis ease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders. Ala., who is also a druggist, says "I have been selling Chamber lain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practise for the past six years, I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." by all druggists.

Family Quarrel Results in Death Of Ben R. Haddock, Formerly Third Precinct Constable,

WAS PROTECTING HIS DAUGHTER.

George E. Porter, a Young Man but Twenty-One Years of Age, Cause Of the Tragedy.

As a result of a quarrel with his sonin-law, followed by a desperate fight, Ben R. Haddock who, for many years was constable of the Third precinct, dled last night at this home, 525 North Seventh West street, from injuries received in the struggle.

His son-in-law, George E. Porter, 21

DEAD MAN'S SON TALKS,

According to Robert Haddock, the dead man's son, he went over to the Porter house and found Porter smashing things right and left.

"George and Rosa were quarreling over a stove," said he. "Rosa said it would not draw and George said it would. Then George smashed things up and threw a lamp at my sister. Papa heard the row and came running over. Mamma was with him. As soon as father stuck his head in the door, George grabbed him and threw him down and then mamma took a hand in Mrs. Haddock told practically the same story as her son.

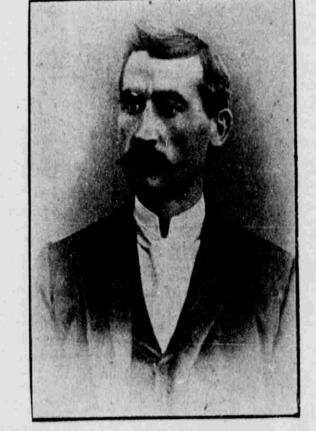

TAKEN TO THE MORGUE. Early this morning the remains of Haddock were removed to the under-taking parlors of Joseph William Taylor. Until an autopsy is held, the au-thorities will not know whether to charge Porter with murder or not.

AN OLD RESIDENT, Haddock was about 50 years of age and has resided in this city for many years. He had only one arm, and for many years was constable in the Third

Precinct. MARRIAGE AND BRAWLS. About 18 months ago, Porter married Haddock's daughter. They got along well enough for a short time, but then began quarreling. Haddock did not like his son-in-law and they had fre-

years of age, is locked up in the city | dren. The latter are: Mrs. Rosanna years of age, is locked up in probably be charged with murder. His brother, Charles E. Pormurder. His brother ter, is also in custody, and will be held as a witness in the case. The trouble occurred about 10 o'clock last night at the home of George Porter, which is just next door to the Haddock home.

Last night, shortly before the trouble occurred, the Porters were packing their household goods preparatory to leaving for Ogden, where young Po had secured employment on the South-ern Pacific railroad. He had previously been working for the Oregon Short Line here, but lost his job. While packing their goods, Porter and his young wife, Haddock's daughter, came involved in a quarrel about the drawing qualities of a stove. It is said that Porter became enraged and began breaking up the furniture. He smashed a quitar and then, it is alleged threw a lamp at his wife, cutting a deep gash in her head. The woman screamed and Robert Haddock, son of the dead man, ran to his father and told him that "George is trying to kill

TO HIS DAUGHTER'S RESCUE.

Mr. Haddock ran to his daughter's Then the two men grappled and fought. Haddock, who had only one hand, was no match for Porter, who is a powerful young fellow, and was thrown to the floor and choked. While Porter was choking Haddock, the latter's wife entered the room and pulled her son-inlaw away from her husband.

DROVE FROM THE SCENE. Porter then took his wife and brother, and climbing into an express wagon, drove away to the home of Porter's mother, on Second North between mother, on Second North be Fourth and Fifth West streets.

WALKED HOME TO DIE. Haddock was able to walk to his ome, but it was evident that he was suffering great pain. He went to bed and his children worked over him some time to relieve the pain he suffered in his side. Mrs. Haddock telephoned for the police, but as they did not respond as quickly as she thought they should, she left the place for the pur pose of going to the police station, She also tried to get a physician, but was unsuccessful. Before she returned her husband was dead. He did not live more than three-quarters of an hour from the time of the fight.

LIFE WAS EXTINCT.

Sergeant Hempel and Officer Clive went to the house at Mrs. Haddock's request and found the man dead. They also tried to get a physician, but it was nearly 3 o'clock this morning before Dr. Mayo and Acting Coroner Clark reached the scene.

OFFICERS LOCATE PORTER

The officers at once started out to lo cate Porter. They found him at his mother's home, where he and his wife had retired. He was placed under ar rest and taken to the police station. His wife cried and pleaded with the cers not to take her husband, and she roundly abused her father for interfer. ing in the meles. She was not then in-formed of her father's death. Porter's brother was taken to the station also, cers told Porter that Haddock was dead. He professed great surprise, but perfectly calm "Well, you can't say I intended to kill him," he remarked. "I don' see how I could have killed him. He came in and attacked me and I choked him a little bit and was glad to get out of the mess when the old lady piled on me.

HOW TROUBLE STARTED. "The way the trouble started was I picked up an old that I thought was not worth moving and smashed it. A piece of it struck my wife on the head and cut her a lit-Then the old man came running over and came at me. I grabbed him around the neck in a strangle hold and choked him a little and threw him to the floor. Then the old lady jumped on both of us. I had no idea of hurting the old man and did not know he was badly injured."
