"You have heard the issues of the campaign discussed today by the mas-ter hand. You have heard the elono man can equal of the Hustrious Republican. We always stand by the old principles, but now things are awaken-2 in the minds of men; new issues ave been raised by the influence of unistances that have come upon us We do not deviate in the least from the platform of 1896, and we still raily around the old flag and around the

While I want to say a word upon the new issues, never forget, ladies and gentlemen, that there is an issue which never can be changed and never must be changed by you. It is the basis of our party existence; it is the basis of the existence of this country. There will be always that question, and that was the great question upon which we were founded, the question of protection of American right and American labor. (Applause.) The giories of the future may be depicted by eloquent men; the glories of the past you can read in any story book, but never forget, dear friends, that they cluster around one great cen-ter, that which I have named, Without it Republicanism would cease to exist and be a sham. With it Utah blossoms brighter and brighter and exists by reason of it. With it Utah has become more prosperous than any other wealth and population. As long as we adhere to it we may expect the return of prospersus times. When we leave it, flook out for tomorrow; look out for a crisis; pre-"Our friends on the other side talk about imperialism, about Porto Rico, about the Philippines, but the whole

FINANCIAL.

"Statehood was ushered in with a floating indebtedness of $206,000, in adgating $700,000, bearing interest per cent per annum. Of this $150,000 was issued in 1888; $300,000 in 1890; and $250,000 in 1892. The fleating indebtedess was taken up and the affairs of al 4 per cent interest. The issue of 1888 ($159,000) became optional July 1st, 1895, and was refunded by substitution for 5 per cent bonds, an equal amount July 1st, 1909, and was refunded by issuing in lieu of 5 per cent bonds an equal amount of bonds at 3% per cent interest. The refunding of the two saues saves the State $7,500 per an-num, which, during the life of the conds, would aggregate $75,600. "Starting in with an empty treasury the treasury in funds for about six months in the year, and the State is cept upon a cash basis the balance of he year by temporary loans; the one made for the current year having been obtained in New York city at the low rate of 3 per cent per annum. "Thus we see that the Republican State administration has successfully solved the money and intricate prob-lems incident to the change from Territorial to State conditions—problems that could not be solved by the search-light of precedent but by the independent judgment of the man at the heim of the Ship of State.

"It has enacted a law against trusts
