DAN. HENRY was lodged in jail today for disturbing the peace.

THE regular meeting of Z. B. B. S. will be held on Monday evening.

WM. ASHWORTH is up from Beaver in the interest of the woolen mills of that place.

SALLIE DAVIS is again in the city jail. Her term this time is twenty days for drunkenness.

E. N. SLIGHTER, assessor and collector of Beaver County, is in Salt Lake on a brief visit.

THE circus comes on Monday next. The Salt Lake and Fort Douglas will run trains in from Mill Creek. See the time table.

MARY SMEDLEY, for getting drunk and disturbing the peace, yesterday commenced a fifty days' term of imprisonment in the county jail.

WM. BROWN, who was held for ransom by George W. Brown, was taken to the penitentiary this morning in default of bail.

MR. ED. M. JANNEY, turnkey at the penitentiary, is all smiles now, as he has good reason to be. It's a girl, the first, and came last night. The mother and child are doing nicely.

THE Third Quorum of Seventies will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms next Monday evening at 7:30. A full attendance is desired.

HOYT SHERMAN, Jr., has his hands full just now in attending to the parties of tourists that visit Garfield, but he manages to get everything in order for the convenience of his guests.

SEE the new advertisement of the Utah Nursery Company, who are going to combine the business of selling seeds with that which they have formerly carried on in the Territory.

WE are requested to announce that the Rev. J. Heini, a Norwegian Lutheran minister, of Denver, will hold divine service Sunday, July 15th, at the Swedish Lutheran church at 7:45 p. m.

GEORGE CLARK, the young fellow who was arrested for being concerned in the robbery of Judge Zane, has been discharged, the evidence being considered insufficient to hold him. Record, in whose possession his watch was found, will be tried on Monday for his offense.

MRS. GARRETT, the Denver lady who was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, had a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Norrell yesterday afternoon, and was discharged, as the evidence showed there was no ground on which to base a prosecution against her.

THIS afternoon we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Wallace Wood, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific Railway—Pan-handle route. He has been making rates, in which he has effected a marked reduction. Mr. Wood has headquarters in Denver.

JOHN WICKEL, Jr., was arrested today, for battery upon John Orr. Last evening Mr. Orr was conversing with two boys whom he had employed to herd sheep. In a playful mood, he threw a small quantity of water at one of the boys, and Mr. Wickel, happening up at that time, caught it on his arm. He flew into a passion, beating Mr. Orr most unmercifully, cutting his upper lip in two and fracturing his left jaw. The trial will be held before Justice Pyper.

Logan Temple.

The Logan Temple will close for renovation and repairs on Friday evening, July 13th, 1888, and open on Monday, August 13th, 1888.

M. W. MERRELL, President.

Child Drowned.

At Ogden, yesterday afternoon, the three-year-old child of J. P. Jones fell into a ditch and was drowned. The little one was away but fifteen minutes before being discovered. Physicians were summoned, but life was extinct. Mrs. Jones was absent from home, on a visit east.

Fine Apartments.

James King, of East Mill Creek, yesterday brought in some fine samples of apricots which he has raised from seedlings on his farm. Some of the largest measured eight inches in diameter. A stranger who saw the fruit obtained some to send to New York as specimens of Utah apricots.

Canvassers Wanted.

In this issue Brother H. W. Nelsbitt, editor of Zion's Home Monthly, advertises for canvassers for that excellent magazine. The initial three numbers have been issued and the public has had an opportunity to become acquainted with the merits of this creditable periodical; those who wish to engage as canvassers have therefore a fair field in which to work, and doubtless could make it remunerative to themselves as well as profitable to the proprietor of the magazine. Those wishing employment on the kind referred to should call on or address H. W. Nelsbitt, Salt Lake City, or at Z. C. M. I. Read the advt.

OUR EASTERN VISITORS.

Tourists en route for San Francisco.

For several days past the city has been thronged with tourists from the east, most of whom were en route to attend the Convention of the National Educational Association in San Francisco, from the 17th to the 20th of July. These parties of excursionists have stopped over for a day to visit the places of interest in our city, and have then continued on to the Coast. Last evening saw the largest number of arrivals yet recorded, among the companies being nearly forty members of the Millers' Association of Pennsylvania, an organization which includes some of the Keystone State's most influential citizens; sixty-five teachers from Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and about fifty of Brooklyn's pedagogues.

Today the strangers attended the organ recital at the Tabernacle, visited the lake, and lined the streets, passing in and out through the stores in their sight-seeing. Most of them are intelligent and well behaved ladies and gentlemen, and there were fewer instances of rude remarks and bold staring than has frequently been the case when down-east excursionists were here. The inquiries regarding the "Mormons" and "Mormonism" were numerous. Some few aired their preconceived ideas of the people, based upon the fabrications that have been abroad regarding the Latter-day Saints. One ancient lady of uncertain age, who had spent 40 years in school teaching, and assumed to be well versed in the history of life among the "Mormons," was decanting a large crowd in front of Z. C. M. I. general store. She had been telling how the people were crowded down, and a lot of such rubbish, and in support of her assertions she exclaimed, "Yes, they have all got to come right to this store to trade."

"How do these other mercantile establishments exist, then?" inquired a gentleman of the party, as he pointed to the stores that line both sides of East Temple Street.

"Oh, they are not patronized by Mormons," they were told.

"Yes, indeed; they don't dare to buy a thing anywhere else. They're just got to try risk in this store."

"Rata!" came up in chorus from half a dozen urinals who were gathered around the fountain. The ancient maiden cast at them a look of scorn, and then continued her dissertation on what she did not know about Utah.

The most considerable body of visitors that the city has seen in at 1:30 this morning. These were the IOWA EDITORS, and in the party there are many bright and intelligent ladies and gentlemen. In fact, the editors of the Hawkeye, of the newspaper world. Few of them had ever been west of the Mississippi, and the whole company were eager after information regarding Utah and her people. One of the party is John Brainerd, Esq., editor of the Boone Standard. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Brainerd, who is on her way to Utah nearly twenty years ago, arriving here ten days after the completion of the Great Salt Lake railroad. The changes that have taken place since then are quite marked, but there is no doubt that the land and its people are fresh in his memory.

The "little man" of the party, and the one who attracted the parties of tourists that visit Garfield, but he manages to get everything in order for the convenience of his guests.

The rate to American Fork and return is placed at $1.15; Provo, $1.30; Payson, $2.00; Nephi, $3.25; Chester, Sanpete County, $4.75. Trains will leave the Utah Central depot in this city at 4 p. m. on July 23d, and 7:30 a. m. on July 24th; tickets good till July 31st. See the advertisement in another column.

WOOLEN GOODS.

William Ashworth, Esq., Superintendent of the Beaver Woolen Mills, is in the city, with samples of the goods made at the Beaver factory. The blankets, yarns and flannels that he brings are first-class goods in every respect. He has made arrangements to place them on the market in this city, and will go to Ogden in a few days to show the merchants of the Junction City what kind of goods are made in the south.

INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.

Notice is hereby given that there will be an anniversary meeting of the officers and members of the Relief Societies and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Associations of Weber County, on Thursday, the 19th of this month, in the Ogden City Tabernacle, at 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 p. m., to commemorate the institution of quarterly conferences of the Relief Societies and Young Ladies' Associations. Present Brigham Young, who he dedicated on the 19th of July, 1877. The brethren are also cordially invited to attend.

DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS.

The burnt cork performance of the Dockstader Minstrel Company last evening at the Theatre, drew a good sized audience and proved a most enjoyable affair. The most laughable characters were the representations of Dockstader, Billy Rice and Sweatman. Of these the first named received the greatest applause, his local jags in the comic songs "I guess so" and "I guess so" being particularly well received. The songs by Messrs. Davis and Frilman were special features of the evening. Mr. Davis possesses a tenor voice of remarkable richness and power. Frilman a deep bass. The illumination of Bartholdi Statue was an excellent representation as seen either from Battery Place or the Jersey coast, one of the half miles from Bedloe's Island. The harp manipulation, the dancing, the wedding bells' chiming and the orchestral support were also enjoyable features; though the concluding after piece a gymnastic scene was trivial. The engagement of the company assumes a matinee this afternoon and another performance tonight.

OGDEN JOTTINGS.

Last evening, as the train returned from Lake Park, a man was seen to strike in the mouth without the least provocation by some person who for a moment entered the car. Mr. Wright's family were seated. Mr. Wright's hat was knocked off and lost, and his lip was greatly swollen. He offers a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of the person who did the cowardly and contemptible trick. Mr. Hyram Bolnap, who met with such a strange accident through his falling either at the hospital, walking through the room where it had been administered, is no better. His head, neck and back are aching severely, and he can barely move around. He is also very weak and suffering with soreness in his body. It is to be hoped that the skillful attention he is receiving will restore him to his usual health. When the late train coming in from the lake last night, was passing between the D. & R. freight transfer and the C. P. roundhouse some murderous rascal fired off three shots. At the bullet passed the bullet passed through one of the car windows narrowly missing the head of Mr. J. A. Lampert's little boy. The bullet passed through the opposite window passing within six inches of Mrs. Lampert's head. The shooter, who is now in the face but did not injure. Last Sunday evening P. H. Fanning and J. F. Shirk, railroad boys working on the U. P., went to Lake Park to take a bath. They left their clothes and valuables in their room while they enjoyed the buoyant waters of the lake. When they came out the first named gentleman was minus an open-faced silver watch with chain and locket and also $200 in cash. Mr. Shirk had also lost a silver watch and chain and $10 in cash; he had taken the precaution to put his money in his shoe, but it was nevertheless gone when he came to look for it. The robbery was reported to the officers of the resort, but the thieves have not been found.—Ogden Standard, July 13.

PREVENT NOTES.

The B. Y. Academy circulars are now on the press.

A refreshing rain fell on Thursday just in time to save the people from a sunstroke.

Miss Jeffrey Lewis appears in Provo tonight for the first time. She sang yesterday and today promise a large house.

Dodd & Deal will heretofore be the vendors of Pleasant Valley coal as agents for the D. & R. G. Railway company, that company having transferred their business from the Lumber Company to R. H. Dodd and John Deal.

The main topic of comment on the streets heretofore is a recent case of snoring with giant power. Four young men were brought before Judge Bond on the charge on Tuesday and pleaded guilty. Owing to the recent legislation, there was nothing new to do but fine the boys $100, for which they are now in custody.

At the school meeting last Monday evening, the Liberals asked for a representation on the board of trustees, but were refused. They then proceeded to score the present incumbents on their financial report. Their efforts to make a point in that direction were however as unavailing as in the first instance.

Several of our young bloods have made it a practice to ride to buy theatre tickets for the circle nearest the stage, and afterwards introduce themselves into the dress circle. At the last performance their little game was made known to Manager Johnson, who called for an explanation through the Enquirer, and pronounced it to give him a most unsatisfactory illustration in fact. There are great expectations at present entertained for the advancement of the interests of the Brigham Young Academy during the present year. Opening its thirtieth year on August 1st the Academy will offer increased inducements in the way of facilities and apparatus over any previous year, and has the present assurance of a larger attendance than for several years past. As appears from letters received almost daily a lively interest is being manifested throughout the Territory to get the benefit of a course in the Academy. Manager Johnson has been assigned his old field of labor.

George Sutherland has been elected to the board of directors for the insane asylum, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of James Dunn, who will heretofore act as steward for that institution. Provo, Utah, July 13, 1888.

PRODUCTION OF "NANON."

The long-contested case of Goldmark and Conried against the Krelling Brothers of the Tivoli Opera-house, the issue being the right of the Krellings to produce the opera "Nanon," was decided by the court today. The court said that the law protecting the rights of authors in their compositions, literary and musical, where they have not been dedicated to the public or published with the author's consent, is well established. It does not appear clearly that the piano score of "Nanon" by the Krelling brothers in Europe with the author's consent. The author could not have sold any of it to the Krelling to perform in America. The Krelling has no right to the piano score even if it had been sold by the authors in Europe, without first getting their consent, says the court. The defendants have no right to perform the play as an opera with their own or another orchestra as they did. Goldmark and Conried had no objection to them using the dialogue and stage work of the opera, but they had no right to use the music of the opera. The decision made the rest from the original "Nanon," and put in several characters that were not in the original opera, and used the writers' scenes, situations and ideas. The court says the defendants must have adapted the play from that of the writers, and fixed it up in a manner to suit themselves. THE VALUE OF POLITICS.—"Mamma, what do they have to do with politics?" "I guess it is because they can't help it, Willie." "But is politics good for anything?" "I guess so," replies the mother. "What is it good for?" "For the distilleries!"—Merchant Traveler.

OBITUARY.

TWIGG—Esther Twigg, relict of the late George Twigg, was born in Fishguard, Pembrokeshire, 1888, and died in Salt Lake City July 11, 1888. She embodied the Gospel in her native town, being one of the first fruits of the same in the North Pembrokeshire Conference, where she performed faithfully every duty that devolved upon her as a Latter-day Saint. Subsequently she with her husband removed to the South Pembrokeshire conference, and settled in Sutton, a branch of the Church. There she had been sense of duty manifested, her husband being a member of the Church whenever they came that way. There she had the misfortune to bury her husband, whose faithful services will ever be remembered by his co-laborers in the Lord's vineyard. She continued faithful and with her daughter emigrated to Utah in the year 1886, where she lived an exemplary life, and at last down like a shock of wheat ripe for the harvest. Funeral services were held in the Seventh Ward meeting-house, where those of her immediate acquaintances and friends gathered to the cause of God and her reliance in the hope of a glorious resurrection with the just. She leaves two daughters, seven grandchildren and a host of great-grandchildren and a line of friends to mourn her loss.—(Com. Millennial Star, please copy.)

DEATHS.

PETERSON—On June 27, 1888, at Antonio, Colorado County, Colorado, of injuries received by being thrown from a runaway team, Mr. Gertrude Trujilla, beloved wife of L. M. Peterson, county judge of Colorado, died at her residence in Antonio, Texas. She was born in Mexico, and came to this country with her husband, who was a member of the Church.
