He says that he intends to fight his case to the last ditch.

Richard Reaper: A curiosity was secured by G. H. Crosby a few days ago in the shape of a lamb with eagle heads. The heads joined at the shoulders, but two distinct back bones extended down to the end of the rib vertebrae, then merged into one. The two heads joined at the entrails to the stomach, there being but one set of digestive organs. The freak was killed in delivery, and was stuffed and sent by Mr. Crosby to the Desert Museum in Salt Lake.

ATTACKED BY MURDEROUS MOB.

Two Utah Shepherders Shot Down by Masked Men.

NUMBER OF SHEEP KILLED.

W. H. Lim, One of the Herders, is at St. Mark's Hospital in a Serious Condition.

W. W. Lim, of Pleasant Grove, Utah, the shepherd who was shot by a mob in Wyoming on Thursday, and who was brought to St. Mark's hospital, is now at the young lamb hospital, "News," is getting on fairly well, but it is not known whether or not his arm can be saved.

The attack of the mob of twelve masked men was made about twenty miles southeast of Fort Bridger. The two herders, Lim and Robert Howard, returned by fire, but the former received two bullets in the arm and the latter was shot in the thigh. He is now at Fort Bridger, but his condition is not serious. The mob also killed a number of sheep and totally destroyed the camp outfit.

The sheep belonging to the Butterfield Bros. of Riverdale, who have been herding their flocks in Wyoming for the last seven years. The cattlemen of that state have lately objected to the Utah sheep being there and about two weeks ago two men called at one of the four camps of the Butterfields and suggested that if the latter would move their sheep away everything would be peaceful. Butterfield assured them that he would move his flocks to the shearing corral on Cottonwood creek, Wyoming, as soon as the young lambs were shorn. The cattlemen, however, seemed satisfied with the conditions and went away. A few days later twelve masked men rode into the camp and gave summary orders to Butterfield to drive his sheep over the ridge between Sage creek and Cottonwood. Butterfield explained that his ewes and lambs were unable to travel, but as soon as they were he would do so. But the maskers were not satisfied. They ordered the sheep removed at once. Butterfield said he would go to Evanston for the sheriff, for he proposed to be protected. But four of the men, followed him, dealing out threats on his head if he appealed to the sheriff. This had the effect of dissuading him from his purpose and he returned to his sheep.

He began moving his camp by degrees and a few nights later a party of masked men rode into his herd and shot a number of his sheep.

The moving went on but too slowly to suit the masked men and on Wednesday evening, just before dusk, a party of them rode down upon the camp that was in charge of Lim and Howard. The latter were in the tent cooking their supper when all at once a bullet struck a frying pan that was in the hands of Lim. The herders had a gun, but they did not attempt to use it. As the firing continued they both ran out of the tent, and Howard received a bullet in the leg, and Lim was hit twice in the left arm, shattering the bone in a dreadful manner.

After taking a few more shots at the sheep the raiders withdrew. The two wounded men were removed to Fort Bridger, where they were given medical attention. Lim was sent on to Salt Lake, his condition being much more serious than Howard's.

It is expected that some warrants will be issued.

PLEASANT SURPRISE PARTY.

Mrs. Gustave W. Teudt Honored by Her Friends.

A surprise party as enjoyable as it was unexpected was given Mrs. Dr. Gustave W. Teudt, 51 Apple street, last evening, by some of her many friends of the Seventeenth ward. The evening was passed in various ways of amusement, and delicious refreshments were served. The guests were: Bishop Walter J. Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Tinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cartwright, Mrs. Elise Teudt, the Misses Julia Howe, Amy Smith, Sadie Smith, Prescilla Sasse, Mrs. Wardon Ada White, Lila Kimball, May Colley, Eleanor Johnson, Agnes E. Teudt, and Messrs. Howard Garrett, Earl Garrett, Bradley Trunnell, Rupert Guffin and John S. Mills.

THE CITY'S HEALTH.

The report of the board of health for the week ending June 7, 1901, shows that there were 23 births reported, 13 males and 10 females. There were 12 deaths, 6 males and 6 females. Six bodies were brought here for interment, and 2 were shipped away for interment at other places. There was a slight decrease in the number of contagious diseases reported during the week. Four cases of smallpox were reported, showing a decrease of two cases. Fifteen cases are now under quarantine, 5 in the quarantine hospital and 10 in the city. This is a decrease of 4 cases since last week. There were two cases of scarlet fever reported, against three for the preceding week, and there are 12 cases now under quarantine, showing a decrease of 6 cases. One case of diphtheria was reported, this added to the 2 cases of last week, makes 4 cases now quarantined. No new cases of smallpox were reported today.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Young George Bates Loses His Arm—Fell Under a Locomotive.

George Bates Jr., the 12-year-old son of a section foreman who lives at 576 West Fourth street, fell under a Rio Grande Western switch engine last evening. One of the wheels of the locomotive passed over his right arm, almost severing it from the shoulder. The boy was riding on the foot board of the engine, and on seeing one of the employees coming he tried to jump off, having repeatedly been warned to keep away from the engine. But when he jumped he lost his balance and fell backwards. His arm was caught under the engine, and he was unable to get back the wheel passed over it, reducing it to a mangled pulp from the wrist almost to the shoulder.

The boy's agonizing screams could be heard for blocks away, and as quickly as possible he was picked up and taken to the Rio Grande Western depot. Dr. Mayo was summoned to dress his wounds and hospital. Between his sobs of pain he would beg those around him not to let the awful news get to his mother.

On arriving at the hospital Dr. Root

AT THE RESORTS.

The hundredth anniversary of the birth of President Heber C. Kimball will be celebrated at Saltair on Friday.

All friends and descendants of the departed president are cordially invited to participate in the exercises which will be the feature of the gathering. Commencing at five o'clock in the afternoon there will be an interesting program upon the upper floor at the resort. One of the features will be the reading of an address of President Kimball which was recently unearthed among his papers, and will be made public for the first time on this occasion. The program will also include the following numbers:

Quartet.

Prayer.

Opening address.

William H. Kimball.

Remarks by First Presidency.

Closing address.

Joseph Kimball.

Quartet.

Closing prayer.

Elas S. Kimball.

There were close upon 2,000 people present at the outing of the students of Latter-day Saints' College at Saltair yesterday.

The water at Saltair today was very pleasant. A temperature of 76 degrees was recorded at noon, which made bathing very pleasant. A big rush for bathing suits is anticipated from this time on.

The attractions at Calder's park have proven interesting enough to attract good crowds since the opening, notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather for evening outings. On next Wednesday afternoon the Racing association will again present some good contests, and the success of Decoration day having revived the sporting spirit the lovers of good horse flesh a larger attendance is anticipated. On the same day the Volunteer Firemen of Salt Lake will give their annual outing at Calder's. This outing will doubtless attract the usual crowds that have shown their appreciation of the fire boys in past years.

Improvements are continually being made at Calder's. A new awning has been placed over the merry-go-round, adding much to its appearance and also the comfort of patrons. The new sawn boat, the only one ever brought to Salt Lake, has made a hit with every one, particularly the young people. The electric parlors have also proven an attraction.

Next Tuesday evening moving pictures, representing the wonderful passion play, as given at Ober-Ammergau, Bavaria, every ten years, will be presented by Howard & West in connection with the vaudeville entertainment at Calder's park.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

THIRD WARD.

The carnival in the Third ward closed last night after a very successful week's run. The house was filled to overflowing and there were many who could not get in. "The Tyrolean Queen" came off nicely and to the satisfaction of both performers and auditors. The voting contest waxed lively towards the last. Miss Grace Stringfield won the handsome gold watch, having received 9,350 votes. Miss Elvora Christensen came next with 4,185. Miss Adeline Cook received 3,950. Miss Lou Casterman, 3,900. Miss Edna Cottrell, 4,000. Miss Arvilla Clark, 2,500. The fair netted nearly $600 which will go to the building fund.

SEVENTEENTH WARD.

On Thursday evening, June 13th, the Seventeenth ward Sunday school will give a strawberry and ice cream festival at the home of Mrs. Mina Cannon, 74 north First West street. Aside from the delicious refreshments, a dance floor will be placed on the elaborate lawn and the beautiful grounds will be illuminated for the occasion. It promises to be a notable event in ward amusements.

ELEVENTH WARD.

A crowded audience assembled in the Eleventh ward meeting house last evening to do honor to Elder H. S. Ensign, prior to his departure for Japan. The room was gallily decorated with Japanese lanterns and at the door a charming bevy of "Japanese maidens" received the offerings of Mr. Ensign's friends. This resulted in something over $60 which was presented to the gentleman during the evening. The brilliant program, with but few exceptions and a notable feature was the appearance of Elder Ensign's three companions on the Japanese mission, Elders Grant, Kelch and Taylor, all of whom made brief remarks. Mr. Ensign himself made a feeling response when the subscription of the evening was offered him.
